And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate—this is probably collateral on the bill—the Department of Military Affairs is very anxious to have the passage of this bill accelerated so that this very fine program can be continued. They contacted the Senate and immediately the bill was brought out of Committee, put on the Calendar, and today it is before us on final passage. It was done just as expeditiously as possible. There has not been a legislative day lost since the request was made by the Department of Military Affairs.

Now, Mr. President, it is just a coincidence that I cannot help mentioning, because of the wear and tear on senatorial nerves when you get to this point in our legislative duties. The first day that veterans could get applications for bonuses, a young man that lives in my home town filed his bonus application. On the first day that we were in Session I appealed to the Department of Military Affairs to expedite that application. Every week that we have been in Session, I have sent a memorandum to the Department of Military Affairs asking them to expedite that application. This morning a representative from the Department of Military Affairs came in and presented me with a memorandum, advising me that they have now expedited the application and the young man who filed his bonus application on the first day that you could file them will probably get his check by the last of July.

Now, Mr. President, maybe if we would give the Department of Military Affairs the same fine service they are giving us, they might be more interested in the things that the General Assembly is interested in. I just say this by way of collateral because this is an experience that I think every Member of the General Assembly goes through, and for the life of me I cannot understand why expeditious service not only has taken all the weary months we have been down here, and believe me I have been pushing to get that one application through, and now due to their valiant efforts over there, this kid will probably get his check around the first of August, and that is the kind of service we are extending from that department to the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to add to the remarks that the Majority Leader made. I just got a letter this morning from a veteran, outlining in his letter the same facts that Senator Walker just told the Members of the Senate. I certainly hope the Soldiers' Bonus Veterans Bureau will do something to expedite the payment of these bonuses. I do not see any reason for this long delay in making these payments.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I, too, want to raise my voice because I have a young man who put his application on the first day. He flew one hundred missions over in Europe, and left Europe and went to the Pacific. He has lived all his life in Pittsburgh, from the first day until now, and the Veterans Bureau is trying to prove that his residence is in Pittsburgh. He has not had his check even up until today, after his family has been one of the old-time settlers of Pittsburgh, and he has gone to all of the Pittsburgh schools and worked in the Pittsburgh district. They have taken all that time to try to prove that his residence is in Pittsburgh, and he enlisted even from Pittsburgh.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the point I wanted to make with Senator Holland is he fails to realize that the young man I am discussing is getting special service.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I had three letters from the Veterans Bureau, telling me that they are giving their immediate attention to my request.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, when I picked up the newspaper on Saturday morning, I noticed an article which had incorporated therein a statement issued by someone from the Governor's Office, who did not have the courage to permit his name to be used, and among other things he made an attack upon one of the Members of this Senate, the distinguished Majority Leader, Senator Walker. He said that Senator Walker was performing magnificently for the Democrats because of the position he has taken on the budget and on the income tax bill. Mr. President, I wish that statement was true because we Democrats, at least in my opinion, could use a capable person like Senator Walker, and if he was in collaboration with the Democrats, maybe we Democrats over here could get a few of our bills out of committee and get a little more than perhaps we are getting now.

I want to say, from my experience in this Chamber during this Session, that Senator Walker has protected the Republican Party at every opportunity. He said time and again that he would permit nothing here in this Chamber to divide the party. He defended the Budget Director at a time when I did not think that he ought to be defended. He defended the Governor the other day, and he has defended various of the members of the Governor's Cabinet every time we criticized them here.

Mr. President, everybody knows that there are no politics in this income tax issue and on this budget issue. It is simply a matter of economy against extravagance and nothing else. That is the issue here, and has been the issue since this Legislature convened. Perhaps this person that issued this statement—and I say again did not have the courage to use his name—was one of those who helped to form this billion dollar budget, $1,220,000,000 budget, and to enact and saddle an income tax, an unnecessary income tax, an unpopular income tax, upon the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I just want to say this by way of suggestion to the Governor, since someone in the Governor's Office issued this statement, perhaps he ought to take inventory of those who surround him, of those who have had him in hot water on every issue that came before this Legislature at this Session and replace those that have misinformed him, and in that manner bring about the necessary harmony between the Legislative and the Executive Branch of the State Government. I say to you, Mr. President, that this budget is inflated. That is what it is, and I am just going to give you a few examples of what I mean.

Mr. President, the other day we approved a stop-gap appropriation to the Tax Equalization Board. I did a little bit of checking, and I found that in the 1947-1949 Session we appropriated $500,000 to the Tax Equalization Board. A little later, maybe in a few days, I am going to talk a little more about the Tax Equalization Board and its value and its worth, but, anyway, of that $500,000, $244,145.81 was not used. Where did they get the $500,000 figure? You know and I know that if the individual appropriations to the departments are inflated, then the sum total of those figures compose the total budget figure, and, of course, if that is inflated, then we have got to levy more taxes to meet that inflated figure than we would if the figure was correct.

Mr. President, in 1949-1951, at the last Session, we appropriated $550,000 to the Tax Equalization Board, and I understand there is an $82,000 balance over there, ready to lapse into the General Fund. Where did they get the $550,000 figure? It was inflated.

Mr. President, we passed two other stopgap appropriations the other day. One had to do with House Bill No. 1387. Two years ago we appropriated $1,150,000. Right now there is $576,206.96 left over, which will lapse into the General Fund. How did the Budget Bureau get this figure of $1,150,000? Was it taken out of the air or was it arrived at because of diligent research and examination, which the Budget Director ought to go into before he submits a budget to this Legislature to approve. We approved another bill on a stopgap basis, House Bill No. 1389. Two years ago we appropriated $100,000 for the purpose indicated in the bill. There is $94,824.78 left over of that $100,000. Where did the Budget Director get that $100,000 figure? Did he get it out of the air or did he get it because of study and proper examination before the item was included in the budget?

Mr. President, I asked to hold up a bill here the other day, and this is no reflection or attack on the Treasurer. It is Senate Bill No. 563, to provide funds to replace checks. Two years ago out of the General Fund we appropriated $10,000, and the whole $10,000 is still there. We appropriated $10,000 from the Motor License Fund, and there is $7,813.45 still there. Out of the Liquor License Fund, we appropriated twenty-five hundred dollars. All of it is still there. Out of the Fire Insurance Tax Fund, we appropriated one thousand dollars. It is still there. Out of the Fish Fund, one hundred fifty dollars. It is still there. Out of the School Employees Retirement Fund, ten thousand dollars. There is still $8,471.68 in that fund. Out of the Milk Control Fund, five hundred dollars. The five hundred dollars is still there. Out of the State Stores Fund, ten thousand dollars. There is $9,307.09 there. Out of the State School Fund, five hundred dollars. It is still there. Out of the State Farm Show Fund, one hundred dollars. None of it has been used. Out of the State Employees Retirement Fund, five thousand dollars, and there is a balance in that fund of $4,738.59. Out of the Flood Control Fund, ten thousand dollars, and there is $9,997.50, and yet we are called upon in view of this, to appropriate similar sums for the same purpose.

What I would like to know, Mr. President, is where the Budget Director got these figures, and all of the figures that enter into the total budget. It is an indication, Mr. President, and Members of this Senate, that the Budget Director does not use the diligence and make the research that ought to be made in the compilation of the budget before he presents it here. Therefore, why shouldn't we Members of the Senate, including the Leader of the Majority, take exception to figures in the budget, prepared by the Budget Director and approved by the Governor's Office?

I just want to say this one more thing. Go ahead, pass the income tax bill. Pass it, and I will guarantee you now that this Fall in all these local elections, we will sweep Pennsylvania and we will sweep Pennsylvania next year, and the next time this Legislature convenes you will find the majority here of Democrats rather than Republicans, and I defy them to pass this income tax bill in the face of what has been disclosed by both the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader of this Senate, and by leaders over in the House.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it is always very difficult to rebut an argument in which the gentleman from Northampton has very conservatively praised the Majority Leader. I want to say this to him in all seriousness, that the newspaper comment that he mentioned should not alarm him unduly. I want to reassure him, Mr. President, and anybody else in the Senate who is the least bit concerned, that up to this point nobody is asking for any waivers on my contract, Mr. President, and I do not think that there is any danger of being sold into the minor leagues by the Majority Party.

I know we have had some differences of opinion. Occasionally the gentleman from Northampton and I have a difference of opinion, but that has not destroyed the very fine friendship that exists between us. We have had some serious discussions on this side of the aisle and, Mr. President, as I have said over and over and over, the differences of opinion that exist within the Republican Caucus will be adjusted there to the best interests of the ten million people in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Northampton would like to carry out his vision of sweeping Pennsylvania. By the same theory or using the same logic and, of course, every time you make a statement that even points the faintest finger of suspicion to the National Capitol, immediately there is a human outcry that we ought to stick to Pennsylvania; let's not bring up the National picture, and then we always say on this side of the aisle, "We do not blame you for not wanting to bring it up." It is a little difficult for us to reconcile our thinking sometimes in the light of what goes on in the National Capitol.

Mr. President, if the gentleman would like to see the philosophy of government of the Republican Party, as far as taxation is concerned, I would like to refer him to the Congressional Record of June 22nd, 1951, beginning at page 7131 Now, Mr. President, nothing would make me happier than to read the remarks of the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts, The Honorable Joseph Martin, Republican Floor Leader in the Halls of Congress, but the minute I start to read this page and a half into the record, somebody will remind me as to how much it costs the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, and that always makes me look bad when I am trying to represent an economic point of view, but, Mr. President, if I might extend the remarks in absentia, I refer the gentlemen of the Senate to Congressman Martin's speech on the floor of the Halls of Congress.

Now, Mr. President, the tax program has been a difficult one; it always is. Every seventeen years we have a locust swarm, and every now and then we have difficulty with the budget. The budget is the problem, primarily, of the Administration and the Majority Party. I do not mean by that, Mr. President, that it is a closed book, because it isn't. I do not mean by that that we do not welcome constructive criticism from both sides of the aisle, because we do. I say, as far as the personalities are concerned, we have tried desperately to keep this strictly off a personality basis. It has been discussed very frankly on this side of the aisle on the basis of tax needs and tax anticipations and it will be continued to be discussed on that high basis as long as the difference of opinion exists.

Mr. President, I appreciate the concern of the gentleman from Northampton. I know that he meant the scolding to somebody in the Governor's Office sincerely, but I want to say to him, "Be of good cheer." They have no intention, as I said on the threshold of my remarks, of asking for waivers on my contract.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to say to the Majority Floor Leader that he need not worry about anybody asking waivers on him because he just stretched a clean single into a nice clean double. While he was on his feet, before I could reach the microphone, he kept on his feet and was doubly recognized, and I doubt whether anyone will ask waivers on him. If they do I am sure there will be plenty of clubs that will be bidding for him.

Mr. President, I am very glad that he has read the Congressional Record. I find it very difficult to read the Legislative Journal during the Session and keep up to date with what is happening in Pennsylvania, without going into the Federal Congress to get strength for my arguments.

I know, and I think that every Member of the Senate knows, that there is not a student of the fiscal policy of the Commonwealth in this Senate who is more astute or more equipped to handle the problems of the fiscal budget than Senator Joseph Yosko. For the many years that he has served in the Treasurer's and Auditor General's Office, he has learned some of the things that we Members of the General Assembly ought to know. I think the Members of this Assembly should listen to the remarks that he makes, especially when he takes and reads into the Journal the record of the various departments, the amounts of moneys that have been appropriated heretofore, then compares the balances in those budgets at the end of two years, the amounts of money that lapsed at the end of two years and then the new appropriations, which in every case, in almost every case, are as great or greater than the amount appropriated the previous two years. Now, in a sense, all that does is build up that great amount of money that every two years lapses in the various departments, and shows up at the end of the biennium as loose spending money for the benefit of political parties. That happens everywhere. I am not taking away from the Federal Government any blame, if blame is due the Federal Government, but at this moment I am not supposed to be looking after the affairs of the Federal Government. At this moment I am supposed to look after the affairs of my constituency in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and in the Senate of Pennsylvania, as I see my duties, I see that we must do something to stop this same procedure from continuing on and on. Every year we appropriate a great deal more money than ought to be spent, and then spend over our appropriations the last six months of the biennium.

Mr. President, somewhere along the line someone has to put their foot down, although we have not the votes to stop anything, and as the Majority Leader has so ably said, the question of the budget and the question of the taxes may be resolved in the Governor's Office. That may be true, but if that is the truth and if that is the only way to look at the picture of fiscal problems, then Congressman Martin ought not be talking in Washington, because he belongs to the minority party in Washington, and if his remarks, as he said, are so important and give such a clear picture of the Republican philosophy and the Republican policy, maybe they ought to be sent to the front office. I have not read them, but I will venture to say that if you will read the remarks of Congressman Martin, they do not coincide with the situation in Pennsylvania. I venture to say that he is talking economy. I venture to say that he is calling for a lower budget than what President Truman is demanding. I think that you will find in there that he is asking for tax cuts. I am only assuming that that is what he said, because that is the position they ought to take, and that is the position that we ought to take and that is the position that we are taking, and I want to announce to the Members of the Senate that tomorrow evening at seven o'clock, over the same station network that the Governor of Pennsylvania is talking upon the budget tonight, I am going to be privileged to give an answer to whatever questions he may propound on the air tonight.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the Majority Leader seems to dwell a great deal on being traded. I want to advise him that a man with his seniority would have a right to choose the team he would be traded to. I might also point out, being a good Pittsburgher, that Wesley woke up one morning and found he was traded down the river to the Cardinals.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if I have an election as to what team I am privileged to serve on, may I advise my distinguished neighbor, Senator Holland, I have made my election. I am perfectly satisfied with my team, and I am perfectly willing to pitch for them or be bat boy.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I know he is catching it right now. He is making a good catcher.

The PRESIDENT. That reminds the Chair of the story I heard of two teams that were playing, and as a workman was walking through the outfield, he made inquiry as to the score, and the outfielder told him it was 43 to 0. He said, "That is kind of one-sided, isn't it?" The outfielder said, "Well, I don't know. We haven't been to bat yet."

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. GEER.

RESOLUTION No. 57.

In the House of Representatives, June 19, 1951.

Whereas, The water that percolates through the soil constitutes in large measure the underground water, regarded so vital to healthful living and to modern industry; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly authorize the Joint State Government Commission to investigate the underground water supply of Pennsylvania and more particularly to determine the extent of such a water supply and the causes for its depletion; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be authorized to ascertain what laws are necessary to insure proper regulatory measures with respect to the supply of underground water.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. RIGBY and TOOMEY.

Concurrent RESOLUTION No. 58.

In the House of Representatives, June 20, 1951.

Whereas, The problem of increasing existing authorized truck weights on the highways and roads of this Commonwealth is a controversial issue at each session of the legislature and has been for years; and

Whereas, The General Assembly's debate of this important problem so far has produced no solution, but has unfortunately resulted only in the unfair labelling of each Member as a partisan either of the trucking industry or the railroad industry; and

Whereas, Such an undesirable impasse is the more unreasonable when it is realized that judgment on so controversial a matter actually belongs not with laymen—as the Members of the General Assembly are in this case—nor with the financially interested trucking and railroad industries but with technical experts—the road-builders and engineers who alone have the skill, experience and knowledge to determine how much weight, stress, and strain our highways and roads can bear; and

Whereas, Representatives of ten states, the District of Columbia, The Federal Bureau of Public Roads, and the Automotive Association have been conducting exhaustive tests to establish proper weight limits, load distributions and speeds in order to avoid damage to public highways and danger to traffic; and

Whereas, The General Assembly can conscientiously do its duty in passing legislation relating to truck weights only when it receives advice and counsel from the aforementioned highway experts as to the facts; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Joint State

Government Commission is hereby directed to study the problem of the effects of weight on the highways and roads of this Commonwealth to find what truck weights can be permitted commensurate with safety and economy, and in so doing to gather and compile all the available facts on the matter; and be it further

Resolved, That for such purpose it shall consult with road experts—builders, contractors, and engineers representing Federal, State and interested political subdivisions. It shall also make or cause to be made tests and investigations to obtain actual evidence in extension of such expert opinion, and obtain results of all tests made or being made to decide proper weights of trucks; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall report its findings together with accompanying proposed legislation to effectuate the same to the General Assembly by February 1, 1953.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. READING, DOWLING, ZEIGLER and SWOPE. RESOLUTION No. 59.

In the House of Representatives, June 20, 1951.

Resolution memorializing Congress with relation to the passage of Senate Bill No. 355 and House of Representatives Bill No. 244, providing for the elimination of the six lowest salary grades for postal clerks and carriers and providing for a 17 percent increase in the annual salary of post office employees receiving less than $5000 annually.

Whereas, there is now pending before the Congress of the United States Senate Bill No. 355 and House of Representatives Bill No. 244, which bills provide for the elimination of the six lowest salary grades for postal clerks and carriers and provide for a 17 percent increase in the annual salary of post office employees receiving less than $5,000 annually; and

Whereas the wages of postal employees have continually lagged behind the cost of living for a period of at least 10 years; and

Whereas according to a recent report submitted by the Bureau of the Budget and the Civil Service Commission to the Subcommittee on Postal Service of the Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, the cost of living advanced 78.1 percent from 1939 to November 1950; and

Whereas according to that same report, the average wage of a post office clerk advanced from $2,165 per annum to approximately $3,500 per annum for the same period, reflecting an increase of only some 61.8 percent, or a net loss of 16.3 percent; and

Whereas the cost of living, according to the index, has risen something like 3 or 4 points during the interval between the date of the report and the present time; and

Whereas the newer employees in the postal service, a majority of whom are veterans of World War II, have to work for years at sub-standard wages to reach a salary level commensurate with the effort and educational standard required for postal duty; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the Congress of the United States of America to enact Senate Bill No. 355 and House of Representatives Bill No. 244 into law; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be and he is hereby directed to transmit duly certified copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Secretary of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives and to the Senators and Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Senate Serial No. 128.

In the Senate, June 20, 1951

If one could climb a mythical barrier separating past from future time, his backward glance over the many years to 1751 would reveal the incredible development of a struggling, embryonic America into the teeming, stupendous United States of today, the most powerful nation in the history of the world with a limitless potential for greatness and service to all peoples.

The history of Cumberland County and its county seat, Carlisle, parallels that of our country. From the frontier outposts of Carlisle Barracks, where soldiers mounted guard in 1750, the pages of romantic and adventuresome history can be rapidly turned until the present Cumberland Valley, dotted with flourishing communities, lies beautiful, well-groomed, and appealing before the surveyor's eye.

During the vacillating fortunes of the Revolution, Carlisle steadily turned out armament and ordnance for the ragged, but spirited, Continentals. The fabulous Molly Pitcher, who won immortal fame at Monmouth, found sanctuary after her Revolutionary exploits in the sequestered peace of Carlisle until her death in 1832.

During the Civil War, the eadversaries of conflict flowed into Cumberland County. In 1863, prior to the Battle of Gettysburg, the Confederate forces occupied and shelled Carlisle. Yet the staunch citizens of Carlisle maintained their courage and stoutly reaffirmed their faith in the Union, despite the havoc and the destruction wrought by the grope and canister from the enemy guns.

Aside from the many wars, which aggressive circumstances have compelled our Nation to wage and to which Cumberland County has always contributed generously of men and material, are the more enduring monuments to peace, industry, agriculture, literature, science and the spiritual verities—which are discernible everywhere in this Valley, kissed by nature, caressed by man, and blessed by God: therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly express its enthusiastic congratulations to Cumberland County on the occasion of its bicentennial celebration; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly is honored and proud to acknowledge the inestimable contribution that Cumberland County has made to the civic, social, material and cultural wealth of the Nation; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly extends its warmest wishes for a successful conduct of the bicentennial activities, in which the prestige and the preeminence of Cumberland County will be acclaimed to the world. May this benign influence expand indefinitely and irradiate into every section of our Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 603, entitled:

An Act prescribing the persons who may administer the oath of office to the Governor and the Lieutenant-Governor.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill 695, Printer's No. 585, entitled:

An Act providing that public employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall not be forbidden by any superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities was ordered to be transcribed for third reading and was agreed to on second reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, vote on agreeing to the bill on second reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent, vote on agreeing to the bill on second reading?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title be reconsidered. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to sections one and two of the bill be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOMPKINS offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after the word "activities" the following: "after working hours".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have offered an amendment to this bill which provides that employees provided for in this bill be permitted to engage in political activity after working hours.

The bill itself provides that they may engage in political activity, which would indicate that they could do so while on active duty.

We can concede that while on active duty they should be forbidden to do this, but when off active duty to forbid a person to engage in political activity, in my opinion, is a restraint of the man's constitutional liberties. For that reason I do not believe that we should pass any law that would forbid a man to engage in political activity while off duty and not engaged in his line of employment, and I do not believe that we should start putting restrictions on people's freedom of action, even though it be political activity by any one who may hold a political appointment. I do not believe that it is proper under our system of democracy and under our system of government. For that reason I am offering these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire the privilege of interrogating the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for the edification and information of the House, will the gentleman from Cameron please define what he means by political activity.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, well in general terms, I should judge that it refers to a person's interest and activity in connection with a particular political party, or on behalf of a particular candidate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that the type of political activity he has in mind is connected with the holding of a party office?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as long as that . . .

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we would concede that the man has a right to go to political meetings, that he has a right to talk politics with his friends, that he might even, on his off time make a speech, and that would all be proper, but it does not necessarily follow that he could hold a party office. Does the gentleman from Cameron include or exclude holding a party office as proper or improper?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would see nothing improper in holding a party office.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, you mean as a policeman?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, how is that?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it be proper for a policeman to hold a party office as a committeeman or something like that?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as long as it did not interfere with his active line of duty.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred eleven Members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. GUARNIERI and ROSE offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by inserting, after the word "thereof" the following: "except employes of cities and counties of the first class".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that these amendments would exempt cities and counties of the first class under the provisions of this bill?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is the full extent of these amendments?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, not caring to engage in any controversy with the city of Philadelphia in connection with their political activities, I am going to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilbur H. Hamilton.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if Mr. Guarnieri is engaged in political activity as a ward leader of the first ward in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, to tell the Members of this House how he was elected to that high and honorable position?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, by the voice and choice of the people.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I will get my breath on that answer in just a minute.

How did the people elect Mr. Guarnieri as a ward leader in the first ward in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, by acclamation.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, will Mr. Guarnieri tell the House if the city of Philadelphia, the great City of Brotherly Love, is not part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, yes, it is part of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, then if we are one of the 67 counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, why should any state-wide bill exempt our great city?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, a state-wide bill, which in its purpose and by its language is vague and not clear, and therefore not a good piece of legislation, should not be applicable to the fair city of Philadelphia, so that if the Members of this House are insistent upon passing a bad piece of legislation, I would kindly request them to omit Philadelphia from the effects of the bad piece of legislation.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I know he is familiar with the answer because he is one of the successful, able, Democratic ward leaders in the city of Philadelphia.

To be more specific, will he tell me how many Committee Men there are in the First Ward in the Democratic party in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, there are 22 divisions in the First Ward of the City of Philadelphia. Each division is allocated two Committee Men, making a total of 44 comprising the First Ward Executive Democratic Committee.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, would Mr. Guarnieri say that those 44 Committee Men are engaged in the honorable profession of politics?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I should think so, and I think the profession of politics is honorable.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has indicated that he is elected by the members of his ward executive committee. Those 44 members are engaged in the high and honorable profession of politics. Mr. Guarnieri is up to his neck in politics for which I do not criticise him. In view of this fact, I ask that the Members of the House vote down the amendment excluding the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, a man has the right and privilege in a democracy to engage in political activity. That is the fabric of democratic procedure, democratic processes in constitutional government as we have known in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States.

However, if I, or any individual wishes to accept a particular position or job or employment with one of the branches of government, in so doing he accepts the terms of a contract. Certainly if he is employed in any particular department or agency, whether it be as a fireman or a policeman or an employe of a municipal court in Philadelphia, he must, if he wishes to continue to hold that job or employment, abide by the qualifications the job demands and which are laid down by his superiors. It is fair that any superior official in any department or agency lay down certain rules of procedure to govern the conduct of his employes, whether he merits them or thinks them political benefits, for the better efficiency and the better working of the department. Because your superior official, or administrative official, has the responsibility to see to it that the taxpayers' money is properly spent and efficiency is achieved in his department.

Certainly a man may engage in political activity as a committeeman—local committeeman, state committeeman, tivity he should not also ask that he be given a job setting forth certain demands as to how he should perform his job under a superior official. It is not unfair if the head of a department rules, for example, that policemen are not permitted to be committeemen; the members of the fire department are not permitted to be committeemen; they are prohibited from political activity.

Therefore, a like argument, if the judge of a court, for instance the Philadelphia Municipal Court and Judge Boyle of that court in Philadelphia thought that for the best efficiency of the Municipal Court and for the proper effectuation of justice the members of his court should not be engaged in political activity as members of any ward committees, city committees, state committees of any political party, they should be prohibited from political activity and we should allow it to that superior official or administrative officer.

We do not deny any many any right. He does not have to take the job. He can go on and be a committeeman. In my ward I have 44 committeemen, but not one of those committeemen holds any job in any political department, in the municipal court, or the police bureau or the fire department. Therefore, I think that the situation pointed out by my honorable colleague, Mr. Wilbur Hamilton, is not analogous here.

In Philadelphia so far as the Municipal Court is concerned we found it very difficult to hand out efficient, just and fair justice because of the political activity of some 500 employes under the Municipal Court. The situation had become so glaringly political within the court, within the very fabric of the court, that Judge Boyle had to take measures in Philadelphia to prohibit the employes of his court from engaging in political activity. That was not only for the purpose of insuring that there be proper justice, speedier justice, more efficient justice and fairness meted out to both plaintiffs and defendants within the Municipal Court but also to insure that the taxpayers' money would be properly spent, and Judge Boyle for his position was acclaimed in Philadelphia County by The Bureau of Municipal Research, Committee of Seventy and the various civic organizations of Philadelphia, as well as by the newspapers, the Evening Bulletin and the Inquirer in commendation for his activity. That is why I think House Bill 695 being bad legislation, at least I want to exempt Philadelphia from the evil of it.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to offer in the record in closing this letter from Judge John E. Boyle, President Judge of the Municipal Court, which is directed to the Honorable Ivan C. Watkins, Chairman of the Committee on State Government and I ask that it be spread upon the Journal.

The SPEAKER. Without objection the communication will be noted in the Journal.

MUNICIPAL COURT OF PHILADELPHIA

June 21, 1951.

The Honorable Ivan C. Watkins
Chairman, Committee on State Government
House of Representatives

Dear Mr. Watkins:

Referring to House Bill No. 695, Session 1951, which provides as follows:

"Section 1 No employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall be forbidden by a superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities unless the same is prohibited by statute."

I addressed a letter to you, as Chairman of the Committee on State Government on April 6, 1951 and requested that before any final action should be taken upon the said Bill by your Committee, I be given an opportunity to be heard in opposition to it.

I note by newspaper articles that the said Bill has been approved by your Committee and reported to the floor of the House.

Your Committee failed to accede to my request contained in said letter to allow me to be heard in opposition to the said Bill before it was reported out.

I now hereby reiterate most emphatically the objections to said Bill contained in my letter of April 6, 1951. The effect of the enactment of this Bill would be to plunge "five hundred employes" of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia back into the maelstrom of partisan politics in Philadelphia from which the said employees were delivered by direction of the President Judge of this Court on December 5, 1949, which directive was sustained by the Board of Judges on December 30, 1949.

This Court desires to be allowed to perform its judicial functions aided by a personnel unfettered by political interference and obligation. At the time of the issuance of the directive, we said to our employes:

"No man can serve two masters," and this is true of the personnel of this Court, for it has to him (the President Judge) become obvious that no employee thereof can render to the Court his or her full measure of duty if such shall be subject to the rendition of any measure of obligation, however small, or in any capacity, to a political party."

I address this to you, as I understand that you will be in control of this Bill on the floor of the House, and I request that this Bill be referred back to the Committee for a public hearing in accordance with my request stated in my letter to you of April 6, 1951.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN A. BOYLE,

President Judge.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the cat is now definitely out of the bag. We must thank the eloquent gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, for untying the string and permitting the cat to gambol in the full presence of this Assembly.

Mr. Speaker, it is a time honored institution, practice or custom for some rural Member to bob up with a bill in defense of democracy, human rights and liberty and then suddenly to discover that the seat of the disease, the bill seeks to treat was not in Adams or Cameron County, but somebody in Philadelphia was executing a sort of sneak play—to get to the plain name—for the purpose of concealing the fact of Philadelphia's particular and peculiar interest in the measure that the rural member, perhaps, so innocently sponsored.

Now this bill, notwithstanding the declarations made so eloquently by the gentleman from Cameron, serves but one purpose and the seat of that purpose is in Philadelphia. The cause of the trouble, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, has pointed out is the fact that the employes of the Municipal Court engaging in political activity spent so much time ringing doorbells and otherwise endeavoring to influence people that they did not have any time left for their proper duties and that the political bosses of particular wards and precincts had more to say about the activities of the employes in the Municipal Court than had the Municipal Judge himself.

You cannot run a police department if all the members of the force are on a loose string and the ward leader or the precinct leader or the city chairman pulls that string. You cannot run a fire department if all the members of the department have extra curricular activities. It is not a matter of liberty or constitutional rights or anything else. The point at issue is whether the taxpayers of any particular city should finance a particular political organization or whether they should finance an organization that serves the public interest.

I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, for so publicly displaying his particular sore toe as far as the political situation in Philadelphia is concerned.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUARNIERI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, made the statement that in view of the fact that they were employes of the Municipal Court in Philadelphia, it interfered with justice.

I would like to ask Mr. Guarnieri if he is acquainted with the Honorable Eugene C. Bonniwell, the Honorable Joseph G. Tummolillo, the Honorable Nochem S. Winnet, the Honorable William Linton, and the Honorable Emanuel W. Beloff.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I am acquainted with the eminent jurists whose names have been mentioned by my eminent colleague. I have had the honor and pleasure to be before the bar of the court with these gentlemen on the bench and I have great respect for their judicial knowledge and demeanor.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ascertain if Mr. Guarnieri is acquainted with their voting record when the question of whether employees of the Municipal Court could continue to engage in political activity—when that vote was taken several months ago—the vote of those five judges I just asked him about?

Mr. GUARNIERI. I do not know, Mr. Speaker. I am not acquainted with their voting record.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us how many judges there are in the Municipal Court in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. GUARNIERI. Eleven, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. That is correct.

Mr. Speaker, there are eleven judges in the Municipal Court in the city of Philadelphia. When the President Judge asked for a vote it is a matter of record that six of the Judges voted to support his nonpolitical edict. Five Judges, namely, the Honorable Eugene C. Bonniwell, the Honorable Joseph C. Tumolillo, the Honorable Nochem S. Winnet, the Honorable William Linton and the Honorable Emanuel W. Beloff, who are Judges in that Court, voted not to restrict the liberty of city employe.

I am very much surprised that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, would say that justice was interfered with in our great Municipal Court when those five Judges cast their ballots that way. I am very much surprised that that impression should be given to the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

This is a state-wide bill, House Bill 695, and I do not wish to prolong the debate except to ask that the Members vote down the amendment submitted by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilbur H. Hamilton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilbur H. Hamilton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, having listened to the gentleman's discourse upon the voting record of the Judges, is the gentleman familiar with the attitude of the five Judges whose names he has mentioned insofar as political activity is concerned at the present time?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, if they have changed their views, to my knowledge they have not been made public.

Mr. ROSE. Did the gentleman notice the newspaper comments to the effect that Judges who had voted against the "no political" edict issued by Judge Boyle had been so satisfied with the working of the Court since that particular proclamation was issued by the Judge and voted upon by the Board of Judges of the Municipal Court, that they are now in favor of such an edict?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I did not read that those Judges specifically stated, as quotations from their own lips or to the public press that they are now in favor of this attitude and edict of the President Judge. If it was stated I did not see it, and I doubt very much if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, actually read that those five Judges changed their views.

Mr. ROSE. Is it the view of the gentleman that employees of the Courts of Philadelphia should engage in political activities?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, if a person is honest, if a person is efficient and does his job properly, I do not see why anyone should belittle him in any way, shape or form, because he is elected by his friends and neighbors with whom he rubs shoulders in his particular precinct. If there is anything wrong with him, those people would know it, and the gentleman from Philadelphia being a ward leader is entirely familiar with that statement.

Mr. ROSE. Is it the view of the gentleman himself, or the view of the party he represents in Philadelphia, that employees of the Courts should engage in political activities?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I reiterate, if a person is honest, if a person has the ability, if a person is efficient and does his job properly, the fact that he is engaged in the high and honorable profession of politics, he should not be made a secondary citizen and be discriminated against by anyone.

Mr. ROSE. Will the gentleman concede that an employee of the Court might be motivated by political considerations in the executing of his duties?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia understands precisely what I am saying, and my previous answers will apply to that question.

Mr. ROSE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I do understand precisely what the gentleman means.

May I say at this time that I had intended to ask for the recall of the amendment which was offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri and myself, and ask that it be changed to include only employees of the Courts of Philadelphia. However, having ascertained the views of the gentleman, and assuming that the vast majority of men on the majority side will vote in accord with his views, I now make the charge that this measure introduced, as our Majority Leader said, by a Member from the rural delegation, is definitely aimed and designed to thrust back into political warfare, and into political activity the employees of the Courts of Philadelphia.

Everyone who is interested in the impartial rendering of justice will concede that only Judges and those who are expounding the Pennsylvania plan, and those who in Philadelphia particularly have been yelling for the sitting Judge principle, are trying to keep the Courts divorced from politics. Yet by the introduction and passage of this bill we are going to thrust back into politics thousands of employees, not only of the Municipal Court, but the Prothonotary's office and the offices of the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia—some of the Judges of our Common Pleas Court have also directed their employees not to engage in political activity.

Now, we are not trying to prevent individuals from engaging in political activity. Everyone can see, the gentleman from the other side, and I, as the gentleman pointed out, a ward leader, realize the necessity for political workers. But we in Philadelphia have just had a vote by the electorate of Philadelphia. They have indicated that they want to divorce, not only Court employees, but the employees of the municipality itself completely from political activity. And by an overwhelming vote the city charter was passed in Philadelphia. That is an indication of the feeling of the people of Philadelphia; they are opposed to political activity. It is for this reason that we offered this amendment and it is for this reason that we are asking particularly that you vote in favor of this amendment. I think it will be generally conceded that if there is one branch of the government that should be free from political activity it is the judicial branch. In spite of the fact that we may permit those engaging in the administrative branch of the government, those in the legislative branch of the government to engage in political activity, you cannot render justice impartially if those who are employed to aid in the rendering of justice are motivated by political considerations.

We have in this measure an attempt, a bare-faced attempt to thrust back into politics those men who since they have been divorced from political activity have been rendering better service to the courts and the people of Philadelphia. And I ask those who are interested in divorcing politics from judicial functions to vote for these amendments.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, you permitted a wide latitude of expression in the speech that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, just made, which is perfectly all right with me. He raised one point, and I would like to ask him a question.

He mentioned that his party, the Democratic party, upholds the principle of supporting sitting Judges. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, if he is acquainted with the Honorable Thomas H. Bluett, former Speaker of this House, who is a candidate for reelection in this coming primary in July, if he as a Ward Leader is really going to stick to supporting the sitting Judge principle and support Judge Thomas H. Bluett?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to support the candidacy of Judge Thomas H. Bluett.

And may I also point out to the gentleman if he wants me to expound a little bit, that Judge Bluett has, particularly with reference to election fraud cases in Philadelphia, been the bad man who has thrown out every single election fraud case that has come up in Philadelphia.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request that the gentlemen confine themselves to the issue.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask another question on the sitting Judge principle? Is that out of order?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. ROSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell me if the Republican party is supporting the sitting Judge principle in the July 24th primary?

Mr. ROSE. I understand that they are.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCANLON. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCANLON. I would like to know whether the question propounded by the gentleman from Philadelphia is germane to the discussion of the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct. The Chair has permitted very wide latitude, but requests now that both gentlemen confine themselves to the issue.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in support of the amendment offered by Mr. Guarnieri, I would like to read into the record an editorial published in the Philadelphia Inquirer several days ago on this subject.

This editorial is called

A SCHEME TO MAKE 'POLITICS IN OFFICE' MANDATORY

A bill pending at Harrisburg—actually reported out of a committee for action by the House of Representatives—is about the most cynical political measure attempted in this State in years.

This is House Bill 695 which proposes that "No employee of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof in the absence of statutory law to the contrary shall be forbidden by a superior officer to exercise the privilege of participating or engaging in political activities unless the same is prohibited by statute."

This bill might well be titled, "An Act to Force the Philadelphia Municipal Court Back Into Politics." That is the one notable effect it would have if passed. But curiously, no Philadelphian is sponsor for this thoroughly iniquitous measure. It was introduced by Representative Pitzer, of York county.

Philadelphia Organization members have been smugly silent about the bill—so silent that it was reported out of the State Government Committee last week without a hearing. The latter fact has brought strong demands from President Judge John A. Boyle, of the Municipal Court, that he be given an opportunity to attack this bill in a hearing.

Judge Boyle shut down on political activity of Municipal Court workers months ago, a step that aroused the ire of the local Republican Organization. The Pitzer bill would very effectively dispose of Judge Boyle's "no politics" orders.

Beyond any question there should be full public discussion at a hearing of this measure. And then it should be killed. This city has had years of inefficiency and corruption in public offices that are rife with politics and overloaded with political workers.

On any basis whatever the Pitzer bill represents vicious legislation that would put a statutory blessing on political misrule. There is no excuse for such a bill and those who are backing it are demonstrating again that they have learned nothing from the popular defeats they have suffered in recent years. They go on asking for more.

Mr. PITZER. Mr. Speaker, a correction please. It is Adams County, not York County.

And for the information of the gentleman that is the place where Abraham Lincoln made his famous Gettysburg Address.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, after that very succinct speech by the gentleman from Adams, I do not know—maybe I should not say anything, but I do want to call the attention of the Members of the House to one feature of the bill and that is that it permits political activity, except where forbidden by statute. If the gentlemen from Philadelphia will check, I think they will find that there are specific statutes on the books forbidding political activity by policemen and firemen and therefore they would not be involved in the provisions of this bill.

I wish to make one more observation. There seems to be a lot of verbiage being thrown around this afternoon in connection with the rural counties and why bills should originate in a rural county.

We are now living in a democracy where we have access to what is going on in other parts of the country and other parts of the world. We find that these restrictions are being imposed in one section of our state of Pennsylvania. If they can impose them in Philadelphia, they can impose them in Adams County; if they can impose them in Adams County they can impose them in Cameron County. I want to tell you that I do not care to have my court—and there is one of them sitting before me here today—telling me what I can do when I am off duty. If I want to engage in political activity that is my business and that is my freeborn American business.

There must be a sensitive spot in Philadelphia for them to think that just because this bill was introduced by a rural Member it was directed at the City of Philadelphia. We have 66 other counties in the state of Pennsylvania and I think those other 66 also have some voice in the government of the state of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Guarnieri and Mr. Rose, and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recom-mitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Katkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he is the recipient of a communication from the Honorable John A. Boyle, President Judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, dated June 21st?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is correct—on what date, may I ask?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, dated June 21, 1951.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman also the recipient of a letter addressed to him dated April 6, 1951, in which the President Judge requested a public hearing be held so that he could state his position.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I did not receive that letter.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, has already introduced into the record the communication which was addressed to the Honorable Ivan C. Watkins. I do not wish at this time to repeat the sections of that particular communication.

However, I do wish to inform the membership of this House that President Judge Boyle requested that the bill be referred back to Committee for a public hearing. Evidently Judge Boyle sent a communication to Mr. Watkins earlier in the session that the Chairman of the Committee on State Government did not receive.

However, he has reiterated his request and he wishes to have not only himself but the other Judges appear and present their views, and for this reason we ask that this bill be referred back to the Committee so that the gentlemen affected will be able to express their views.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I want to rise to support this motion. In view of the fact that the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, made a statement that there were statutory provisions which kept the police department out of politics, I just want to remind the gentleman that there is no provision in the third class city law which keeps the police department in third class cities out of politics.

I have introduced a bill in this Session which of course has not seen the light of day, but as for the present amendment, third class city police can engage in politics and if this particular bill were allowed to be passed, the Mayor of the city, or whoever would be in charge of the police department could not even ask his police to stay out of politics. I think in view of the statement made by Mr. Tompkins there should be some more study on this bill to figure out the angles which apply to third class cities as well as first class cities.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the provision with reference to policeman and fireman which I recited did refer to first class cities only.

This bill I believe has been thoroughly aired on the amendments here this afternoon. What other arguments could come forward in connection with it, either in public or private hearings, or otherwise I am unable to state. For that reason I see no reason why this bill should be returned to the committee for further study.

I therefore ask that the Members of this House vote down the motion.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. TOMPKINS offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after the word "activities" the following: "after working hours".

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

HOUSE BILLS 1450 and 1451 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1450, Printer's No. 579 entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employees and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and House Bill No. 1451, Printer's No. 580, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one on page 33 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be made a special order of business on third reading and final passage at this time in their order.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. YOUNG offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 25, 1951.

When the sun reaches its northernmost point in its annual travels, it periodically throws a full mantle of warmth and radiance about the shoulders of George F. McConnell on any anniversary of his birthday, June 21st.

Representative McConnell is fifty-two years old today. Sunshine has so permeated his life, has so brightened his outlook, and has given such a lilt and a buoyancy to his disposition that he looks scarcely one-half of his recorded age.

During his fifty odd years he has scratched the soil and it has burst forth with fruit and bounty. He has acquired a wife and four children who would be proudly hailed by any man. He has been a funeral director, has loyally stood by his friends to the end, and is the last to let them fall. Life has been abundant and replete with its happy interests and industrious endeavors. Irrigation with the beverage that stimulates, but does not inebriate, has transformed the arid areas of his existence into zones of joy and pleasure; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extend to its fellow member, George F. McConnell its felicitations on this fifty-second anniversary of his birth and express its sincere wish that health, happiness and success will be his inseparable companions on his indefinite journey into future years.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. McConnell.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank each and every Member of this House for those wonderful words. Thank you very much.

MOTION TO SUSPEND HOUSE RULE 84

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as I am presenting a non-privileged resolution, I move to suspend House Rule 84 for the purpose of reading and the immediate consideration of the Resolution which I am introducing.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this motion be voted down.

This is not a privileged resolution. This resolution should be considered by the Rules Committee of this House. It should also be considered by the Members of the House, and I would ask at this time that we vote this motion down.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the resolution is of such a nature that because of the amount of time that would be lost in its consideration by the Mausoleum Committee of the House that there is a great possibility of communities in Westmoreland County suffering loss of life as well as severe loss of property, personal, industrial and municipal.

The resolution is a brief one. It can be readily understood from a reading of it by the Clerk in this House of Representatives, and I would urge the membership of the House, for the sake of Westmoreland County, to vote for the suspension of the Rule, so that we may consider this resolution and put into effect the true import of it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I reiterate that this is a non-privileged resolution, and under the Rules of this House it should be referred to the Rules Committee. With due deference to the gentleman, I still ask the Members of the House to vote down this motion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to inquire whether the Speaker rules that under the terms of the motion the resolution should not be read for the information of the House in order that they may vote intelligently on the proposal?

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that under Rule 84 of the House this is a non-privileged resolution and that it be referred to the proper committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

On a rising vote seventy-two Members or less than a majority having in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The resolution offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have a letter addressed to me by the Honorable Robert A. Price, a Member of the House, in which he says:

"Dear Senator Barr:

"Attached you will find a copy of a letter given to me by the Honorable Marion L. Munley, Representative, Archbald, Pennsylvania, as you had requested.

"I hope that you will take the proper action to clarify the use of official stationery."

Mr. President, Representative Munley received this letter from Francis H. Yost, Examiner, Department of Revenue, on Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stationery, from the Scranton State Hospital at Scranton, which letter reads:

"Honorable Mary Munley
"175 Spruce Street
"Archbald, Pennsylvania
"Dear Mrs. Munley:

"I have before me three letters written by you and addressed to the Chief Resident Physician, Scranton State Hospital, Scranton, Pennsylvania. In each one, you have indicated that prospective patients are in poor financial circumstances and will be unable to pay for services.

"Please be advised that the Department of Revenue is competently staffed and is the sole judge as to the ability of patients to pay their bills. Any efforts on your part are totally unnecessary and unwanted.

"Your use of official stationery for these letters appears to be highly irregular.

"Very truly yours,
"FRANCIS H. YOST
"Examiner
"Department of Revenue"

Mr. President, I do not know who Mr. Yost is, but I would say he is probably the most impudent State employee I have read a letter from to this date. I think every Member of this Senate has had people come to them who are in poor financial circumstances, and have asked them if they would write a letter to some State hospital or State-aided hospital to see if we could get them in a ward bed. I think that is highly proper, and I think it is highly proper to use our Senatorial and House of Representatives stationery to do this. If it is irregular, as this man states it is, I plead guilty. This to me is a worse case, because this letter was written to a State institution which is staffed by State employees and paid for by State money. I do not know why Mrs. Munley would not go to Mr. Messner and have Mr. Yost called in, and find out why he would have the audacity to send this type of letter. Are we not to use our Senate stationery to write to State departments? I intend taking the matter up with Mr. Messner and I think, knowing the gentleman as I do, that he will handle this case properly.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, relative to the same subject, I might inform the Senate that I have had the occasion to read a newspaper release from the Superintendent of the Scranton State Hospital, in which he refers to the intercession by Members of the General Assembly, and the tone that he uses in his letter is highly derogatory to the offices held by these Representatives and Senators. Quoting from memory, I remember distinctly that, because of a case that I thought was highly irregular, I had offered the assistance of the Senate Appropriation Committee to a Member of the House in a complaint that he had against the hospital. This assistance took the form of a petition by Senator Stiefel to the Department of Welfare, and a hearing resulted from his petition. A man by the name of Doctor Freda, I think, who I understand to be the superintendent of said hospital, in telling the papers about this intercession used language along this line. He said that there were complaints by those who were interested in getting people into the hospital without pay, and he mentioned the names of Democratic Senator John Dent, Democratic Senator Israel Stifel, Democratic Representative Price and Democratic Representative Munley.

Mr. President, I am not very thin skinned in the barbs of foolish criticism which fly off my back like water off of a duck's back, and I do not get excited over things of that nature, but I think and I believe that many of the men here will agree with me that a bad apple will spoil the whole barrel. If the Scranton State Hospital is permeated with political considerations when it comes to taking care of the sick and the needy of this Commonwealth, an immediate investigation is necessary and essential, and if I am in order, I move that this Senate at this moment ask the Secretary of Welfare and the Secretary of Revenue to make a complete investigation of the Scranton State Hospital staff.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Minority Floor Leader propose to offer that resolution in writing?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if it is necessary for the records of the Senate that it be in writing, I will make it in writing.

The PRESIDENT. I am merely making that suggestion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will do so immediately.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, last week my Leader, Senator John H. Dent, delivered to me a letter and asked me to proceed according to best expediency in handling this matter. Well, I was like King Saul who went to look for mules and found a kingdom. I thought it was an innocent matter, but I got into hot water.

Mr. President, I want to say one thing, that Secretary Brown, of the Department of Welfare, handled that matter immediately, and he is now conducting an investigation which is going on and which will probably come to fruition next week. I reported it all to my Leader. Now, this morning we had a conference, at which time I was accompanied by the able Senator from Lackawanna County, Hugh McMenamin, and at that time we had a lengthy session which lasted more than an hour. That investigation is going on now, and I want to report about it because, after all, I remember one of the Senators from the west used to say that we have three states in Pennsylvania, the state of Philadelphia, the state of Allegheny and the land in between, and I do not want anybody to construe that I am interfering in the affairs of Lackawanna County.

Mr. President, I carried out the mission assigned to me by Senator Dent. I have done my duty, and in the words of Shakespeare, "The moor has done his duty; the moor can go." The rest of it rests on Senator McMenamin.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 48

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 48, entitled:

An Act relating to and defining chiropractic and the right to practice chiropractic requiring licensure conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners providing for the granting suspension and revocation of licenses issued by the board conferring jurisdiction upon the Court and Common Pleas of Dauphin County and prescribing penalties.

failed of passage on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I object and ask my colleagues on both sides to vote "no".

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MALLERY and were as follows, viz:

Bane,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Snowden,
Barr,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Wagner,
Barrett,	Kessler,	Neff,	Walker,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

HOUSE BILL No. 48 PLACED ON POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 48, be placed on the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I have some amendments to the bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to advise Doctor Chapman that the bill has been placed on the Senate Postponed Final Passage Calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, how soon can it be picked up from the Postponed Calendar?

The PRESIDENT. It can be picked up any time when it is called up.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, can I call it up now?

The PRESIDENT. Not until the Calendar is printed. You have got to get it on before you can get it off.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would like to ascertain what could be done at the present time to place amendments in the bill?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to advise the Senator that amending the bill in the first instance is not a matter of right. Unanimous consent would have to be obtained, and it would have to be on third reading, on the Third Reading Calendar.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, originally it had been on third reading.

The PRESIDENT. It had passed third reading, Senator. My understanding is—I haven't examined the record, but I am advised it passed third reading and was defeated on final passage. Now, the motion was to reconsider the vote whereby the bill failed to pass final passage, and it is now on the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, am I to understand that under the Rules of the Senate we are precluded from asking unanimous consent to offer amendments at the present time?

The PRESIDENT. At this time you are, Senator.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, when will be the propitious moment to offer amendments?

The PRESIDENT. Tomorrow is the earliest day, the next legislative day, but I should like to advise the Senator that it would be necessary to move it back from final passage to third reading.

Mr. STIEFEL. Well, Mr. President, is it in order for me to make a motion at this time to move it from final passage to third reading?

The PRESIDENT. I regret to say that you cannot do it under the Rules of the Senate, Senator Stiefel.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act regulating the appointment, promotion, suspension, reduction, removal and reinstatement of employes (except superintendents assistant superintendents inspectors and chief clerks) in bureaus of police in cities of the second class and defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions in such cities for such purposes

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments to House Bill No. 98.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have been in conference with my colleague from Allegheny County, Senator Fleming. We have discussed the amendments briefly with Senator Barr, and, as I gather, the purport of the amendments is that they alter and change the original intent of the bill. If that is the case, Mr. President, I feel constrained to suggest that we are going to oppose the adoption of the amendments. I do not think that comes as a surprise to Senator Barr, but I thought I should officially advise him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the amendments simply include all cities. If we are going to change the Civil Service Laws in the City of Pittsburgh for the police there, it is our intention that in all other cities they should be changed there also.

Now Mr. President, first I would like to call the attention of the Senate to the various proposals that are in this bill. Mr. President, if this bill is passed there will be no more discipline in the police force in the City of Pittsburgh. Secondly, Mr. President, if there has been a suspension of any policemen, the record that is kept in the Department of Public Safety will not be allowed to be taken to the court of appeal. Every case will start de novo in the court of Allegheny County.

Mr. President, another point I would like to call your attention to is that it eliminates the soldiers' preference.

I do not know why the soldiers' preference should be allowed in every other city in the State and not in the City of Pittsburgh. Another thing is, Mr. President, there are times when the City of Pittsburgh may want to hire a detective, an ex-F.B.I. person or some such type man as that, and under the provisions of this bill that cannot be done, because the man will have to have been on the force for a period of four years before he can be hired as a special detective.

Mr. President, this is the first "pinch" bill that I have seen on the floor concerning the City of Pittsburgh this year. Mr. President, I do not like to be discourteous, but I have been on the Local Government Committee since its inception, I was on the County Government Committee when it was in existence, and through my twelve years in the Senate I have only missed one meeting of the County Government Committee and the Local Government Committee, and this bill was brought out of that committee the day I was not there. I have never done that type of trick to any Member of the Senate on either side of the aisle. I refuse to wait until there are just a few in committee, and then reach in and ask the chairman to pull out a "pinch" bill such as this.

I ask my friends on the other side of the aisle to read this bill; even if you do not adopt the amendments, I want you to read this bill and if you think it is fair, I will say, "All right, vote for it," and knowing that you are gentlemen, I feel you will never vote for a piece of legislation such as this.

Mr. BARR offered the following amendment.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out the words "of the second class".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to join with my colleague, the Majority Floor Leader, in opposing the adoption of these amendments. I would draw to the attention of the Senate that our colleague on the other side of the house, Senator Barr, was arguing the merits of the bill. We will argue on that point when it comes up for Final Passage. We believe that we can present to the Senate arguments that will conclusively prove to them that this is good legislation, and should be put on the statute books of Pennsylvania, but at this time I would ask my colleagues on this side of the house to vote down these amendments which clearly destroy the intent and purport of the bill.

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the amendment be adopted.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 708, entitled:

An Act requiring certain non-profit and cooperative associations and corporations to obtain the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission before beginning to furnish telephone service on a cooperative or non-profit basis or to furnish such service in areas not theretofore served; providing for regulation of such service after approval; and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LANE offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 3, line 6, by inserting after the word "law," the following: "Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to telephone service furnished by The Rural Electrification Administration."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, the sponsor of the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington, as I understand the amendment which he is now offering, if this amendment is adopted then telephone service furnished by the R.E.A. in Pennsylvania will not be subject to the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. Is that correct?

Mr. LANE. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Thank you very much.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to protest this amendment because this bill is designed to cover all types of telephone service regardless of what company or what type of company furnishes the same, whether it be a co-op or the R.E.A. or any other type of non-profit telephone company.

Mr. President, it seems a shame that telephone companies which spend a great deal of money to install equipment, expensive equipment, in areas, and then have the R.E.A. or some non-profit telephone corporation come along and interfere with that investment and put facilities in areas where there are adequate facilities.

Mr. President, our Public Utility Commission is designed to see to it that that type of thing does not happen, that where companies have invested large sums of money to furnish equipment in areas, that that company has a franchise, an exclusive franchise, to furnish that type of service. Also, where companies are not under the jurisdiction of the P.U.C., the customers do not have anyone to turn to when they get inadequate service or have their rates increased, and we feel that everyone in Pennsylvania should have that protection.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to protest this amendment and suggest to the Members that they vote against the same.

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the amendment be adopted.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I believe that the Public Utility Commission in Pennsylvania was established primarily to protect the interests of the public and to protect them in areas of our economic system where monopolies exist, and not so much to protect that monopoly. I recognize, however, that there are times when the word "public" in the title of our Public Utility Commission is used quite loosely, and apparently this is intended to be one of those times. The private telephone companies have had for many years the opportunity to go into our remote areas and give them service, and even with this amendment they shall continue to have the opportunity to go into the remote areas of Pennsylvania and give telephone service.

Mr. President, by way of ratification to Senator Mahany, I might add that it is ridiculous to think that the R.E.A. would go into areas where they are now getting adequate telephone service, or those people that have telephone service would take that kind of initiative to establish their own system. This is simply a method of working out telephone service for remote areas of Pennsylvania, which cannot get it or cannot afford to get it from private telephone companies.

Mr. President, we recognize that in some areas of our economic system it is necessary to have monopolies, although I am a little amused some times when these organizations enjoying virtual monopolies in certain fields buy full pages in our national magazines to tell the farmers and small businessmen like myself of the virtues of our free competitive American system. After all, some of us are experiencing that and we like it, incidentally. Is it asking too much of these monopolies now, if they fail to give service, to permit the R.E.A. to come into those areas and give them service? Is that asking too much?

Mr. President, it is my feeling, however, that the great benefit of R.E.A. is not so much in what it does, but in the stimulating effect it has on our private companies in prodding them. Just as they did in the case of electricity, so they can do in the case of telephone service, prod our private companies to go into the remote areas of Pennsylvania and give them service. Pinchot gave these rural people roads. It was under R.E.A. that many of them got electricity, and now R.E.A. is going into the field of telephone service, and I urge you gentlemen of the Senate to vote for this amendment so that we in Pennsylvania will not be denied an opportunity that is going to be extended to all the other States of our Nation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there are a number of my colleagues on this side of the aisle that are in sympathy with this amendment, and would like to vote for it. Of course, it can readily be seen from the remarks made on the floor that there is a distinct difference of opinion. If the gentleman from Washington would yield for a moment until we could have what might be termed a fast conference, we might be able to arrive at some legislative action that would be satisfactory to him.

Mr. LANE. I yield, Mr. President.

(The Senate was at ease.)

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I withdraw my amendment to House Bill No. 708, at this particular time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And the question recurring,

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, just as soon as I can get the distinguished gentleman's attention, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, as to whether or not he is going to hold a meeting tomorrow as announced. It is the contemplated plan at this point to have a Session at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, and then recess until the week of July 9th, and if we are having a Session at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, I question the expediency of having the Judiciary General Committee meet at 11 o'clock, and unless there are matters that require a committee meeting tomorrow, I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia that the Senate will meet at ten o'clock tomorrow and if precedence means anything, we will have what is called our skeleton formation.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, in answer to the Majority Leader's question, I would like to request that my committee meeting be continued until we come back here the week of July 9th. I wish to say also that there is an additional reason for continuing my meeting. Senator Mallory just introduced another F.E.P.C. bill which has been referred to the Committee on Judiciary General. Now, I do not think that bill will be printed in time to consider it at the meeting tomorrow, and Senator Mallory also asked me to continue the meeting so that his bill can be in print and available for the consideration of the Committee when it meets.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, from the figures of the Big Chief who spoke first on the bill, I myself am against the bill. He counted the 207 Members and that is all we have at this time; in fact 50 Senators, making 257, so he is not reducing it to 206 Members, because I am still for the repeal of the scalping law.

I think that since this bill has brought up so much confusion in the House it might be well for me to explain to the House some reasons that I had for introducing this bill.

All my life I have been interested in the welfare of the Indian. Way back before the start of this century I had an uncle who was Commissioner of Indian Affairs under President McKinley. That uncle served as a Member of this Legislature when this capitol was built and they met down here in the church in Harrisburg.

A few years after that I went to Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and played baseball in the Cumberland Valley League. At that time the Carlisle Indian School was very prosperous, and I visited quite often, and in my association with the Indians I discovered that they were a very fine, civilized race of people at that time.

I knew a great many very fine Indians. One fellow in particular was a graet friend of mine, his name was Red Water. He was a guard on the football team. There was a girl who worked as a domestic in Carlisle, I believe that she followed the Indians into Carlisle, and she used to stand up on the bleachers and bawl and they called her "Standing Heifer." Red Water married this girl. By the way, she was a granddaughter of Sitting Bull.

When I went to college I played football against the Indians and baseball and track. I knew Exedine the Pierce boys, Chief Bender and all those famous Indians, except Jim Thorpe—I never met him.

When I came out of college and went to Punxsutawney—that was a great Indian center at one time, and it means "Nut Town" in the Indian language.

Later on I moved to Indiana. If you drive into Indiana you find that the signs as you drive in, put up by the state of Pennsylvania, advise you that Indiana was named because of the prevalence of Indians there. That was a great holdout for them. I am not far from Kittanning, where General Armstrong cleaned a bunch out. And just the other day Mrs. Hewitt, who does all the gardening, about six weeks ago found this Indian arrow head in the back yard when she was spading the garden. We find them around Indiana, plenty of them.

I have been interested in Indians, as I said, all my life. I began to look the history of the Indian situation up and I find here and I will read a part of the proclamation issued by Robert Henry Morris, who was at that time Governor of the Province under the King of England. This proclamation was issued in May 1756—195 years ago. I notice in his proclamation—I will read a part of it—

"Whereas the Delaware tribe of Indians and others in conspiracy with them have for some time past, without the least provocation, and contrary to their most solemn treaties, fall upon this Province in a most cruel, savage and perfidious manner, killed and butchered great numbers of inhabitants and carried others into barbarous captivity, burning and destroying their habitations and laying waste the country."

Whose habitations and whose country were they destroying?

Had the paleface been the occupants of Penn's Woods in 1756 and the Indians from the western part of this undeveloped and undiscovered country moved in on us and begun to destroy as, what would our situation be if the tables were reversed? And in that time, in the time of General Morris and later on John Penn who was Governor of this state and issued a proclamation similar to this—at that time what were the Kings of England but the most savage and barbarous, and an Indian could not compare with them for the butchery and the treachery of that time. Those are the people that we fought for our independence and got away from.

The Delaware Indian was the one that both these Governors issued the proclamation against in particular. Governor John Penn included some other tribes, but that was the one that he stressed the most. I admit that we had had considerable trouble for a great many years with the Delaware tribe. Morris had it and John Penn had it, and now the present Governor of this Province, John S. Fine, is having trouble with the tribe from Delaware.

Even in the face of all that, I believe that most of them are civilized and should be recognized as human beings as well as the rest of us. So I am opposed to any law that allows a Member of this Legislature to kill a human being and receive pay for it. I want to read further the proclamation of Governor Morris. He says:

"Whereas the commissioners with me do dispose of the 60,000 pounds lately granted by Act of General Assembly for his Majesty's use, have by their letter to me of the 10th instant, agreed to pay out of the same the several rewards for prisoners and scalps hereafter specified, and therefore, as a further inducement and encouragement to all his Majesty's Liege People and to all the several tribes who continue friendly and in alliance with us to exert and use their utmost endeavour to pursue, attack, take and destroy our said enemy Indians and release, redeem and recover such of his Majesty's subjects as have been taken and made prisoners by these same Indians; I do hereby declare and promise that there should be paid out of the said 60,000 pounds to all and every person and persons, as well Indians as Christians, not in the pay of the province" (anybody on the payroll could not get anything out of this—it is a little different these days) "the several and respective premiums and bounties following: that is to say for every man Indian enemy above 12 years old who shall be taken prisoner and delivered at any Fort, garrisoned by the troops in the pay of this Province, or at any of the county towns to the keeper of the common jails thereof, the sum of 150 Spanish dollars or pieces of eight."

I talked to the Honorable John Haudenshield of Allegheny County, who is an authority on specie, Silver Dollar John, and he explains to me that pieces of eight were a Spanish piece of money—gold—and they were perforated in such a way you could break them up—12½ cents each or 100 cents on the dollar. Today this would be about $150 for an Indian scalp, based on the present value of the dollar. That much for this proclamation.

The reason for my introducing this bill, way back when I was a young fellow, I said: "If I ever get chance to hit that thing, I'll hit it hard." But I came down here a number of terms and forgot all about the Indians until the bill came up in the Senate to put a bounty on rattlesnakes and copperheads. Indiana County being similar to Potter, inasmuch as it has a great many snakes in it, as you fellows well know, of the various species; but however, I wish to make one correction there—we used to have copperheads in Indiana County, but after the Civil War we killed them all off—we have plenty of rattlers but no copperheads any more.

I figure that some civic organization in Potter County offered a bounty for rattlesnakes and the boys went out and killed them by the hundreds and I guess this Kiwanis Club or Rotary Club or whatever civic organization it is cost them a lot of money to kill so many.

I figured that if the Indians should come back into Pennsylvania without the possibility of being scalped, I think these Cornplanter boys might start right down through the state and clean the whole state out of all these snakes, like St. Patrick did to Ireland and I think that would be a fine thing if they could receive remuneration for so doing.

Another case, this just happened a few days ago, the Reverend John Yates who sits along the sidelines—by the way, I think he is here today, I hope he is—went to a reunion of his class in New York State here a few weeks ago, and he met a full blooded Indian who was a classmate of his when they were in college.

The Reverend Yates said to him: "How does it come you have never driven over to Philadelphia to see me?"

He said: "I have always been very skeptical about going over there. You have a law over there that you can scalp an Indian."

But Reverend Yates said to him "There's a gentleman now in our Legislature who has a bill up to repeal that law, and if that passes you will be perfectly safe."

He said: "If that bill should pass, I will be very glad to come down and visit you."

I think that is a sad situation that that man couldn't—these boys in college used to tell me at Carlisle that when they were leaving the western reservation to come to school here their fathers and mothers were very much worried about it. In fact, Johnny Haudenshield told me today that many of his ancestors were scalped in those days. He is a Delaware—64 percent Delaware; I do not know what the other 36 is; but 64 percent is Delaware Indian.

Now these boys are afraid to come and Red Water told me and so did John Pierce that as soon as they graduated they got right out of the state. They have no business loafing around here, you see, and that was a bad situation.

I would like to respectfully ask the support of this bill in the House when it comes up for third reading and have it sent over to the Senate. I would like quicker action on this bill than we got on the tax bill.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BLOOM offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Article I), page 7, line 15, by striking out the words "the City of Philadelphia" and inserting in lieu thereof "that part of the Port District in Pennsylvania."

Amend Sec. 1 (Article I), page 9, lines 7 and 8, by striking out the words "within the City of Philadelphia Pennsylvania" and inserting in lieu thereof "in Pennsylvania communities within the Port District."

Amend Sec. 1 (Article II), page 12, line 20, by inserting after the part-word "sylvania" the following "at least two of whom shall be residents of Delaware County."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the gentleman from Delaware if he would like to describe these amendments and explain them to the House and then I will answer him. But I object to these amendments at this time.

Mr. BLOOM. Mr. Speaker, the first amendment is to Article I, page 7, line 15, of the bill by striking out the words "the City of Philadelphia" and inserting in lieu thereof "that part of the Port District in Pennsylvania."

Mr. Speaker, I think I might well, if it meets with the approval of the Speaker, discuss both of the amendments at the same time, unless it be your desire that I take each one separately, because the thoughts pertain to both amendments.

The SPEAKER. Without objection the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BLOOM. Mr. Speaker, this is known as the Delaware River Port Authority Bill. It is an amendment to the bill of 1931 where a compact was signed between Pennsylvania and New Jersey. At that time a Commission was formed known as the Delaware River Commission, and at that time its purposes were the construction of bridges between Philadelphia and New Jersey.

This amendment is a further supplement to that bill. The purpose of the amendment is, first, to change the title of the Commission, from the Delaware River Joint Commission to the Delaware River Port Authority. And in addition thereto, it gives unlimited powers to the Port Authority. It comprises both Philadelphia and Delaware Counties. They are the only two Counties that are directly affected by the bill.

This bill permits the Port Authority to construct additional bridges, tunnels, transportation facilities between Pennsylvania and New Jersey. But the amendment is suggested because the bill as it is presently drafted prescribes that if there is a bridge or if there is a tunnel, that bridge or tunnel must be built from the city of Philadelphia to New Jersey. In other words, it limits the place where the bridge is to be constructed.

Our objection, if the Commission is established consisting of six members to be appointed by the Governor, the Auditor General and Treasurer are to serve as ex-officio members, certainly is that they should not be bridled, or their powers limited in advance as to where a bridge or tunnel shall be constructed.

Let me read the phraseology. Here is how it reads now:

"The construction, acquisition, operation and maintenance of other bridges and tunnels across or under the Delaware River between the City of Philadelphia and the State of New Jersey, including approaches and the making of additions and improvements thereto."

Now notice, New Jersey does not limit itself to where such a bridge shall be constructed, but the proponents or the sponsors of this bill seek to ignore and to wipe out Delaware County completely by prescribing in the bill that it shall be built in the city of Philadelphia.

The amendment which we suggest says "The tunnels across the Delaware River between that part of the Port District in Pennsylvania."

In other words, we gave the Port Authority the opportunity to make a thorough examination and study of the transportation facilities along the Delaware, and they have an opportunity, after a full consideration of all the circumstances, to say where this bridge should be built and not limit it to the city of Philadelphia.

That is the purpose of the first amendment. In other words, certainly if New Jersey gives an opportunity for study to all the communities in the State of New Jersey, certainly Delaware County is entitled to that same consideration.

Now let me proceed with the second amendment. Page 9 of the bill, deals with the construction of "rapid transit systems for the transportation of passengers, express, mail and baggage,"—again I call your attention "between points in New Jersey communities within the Port District and within a 35 mile radius of the City of Camden, New Jersey," and then it proceeds "and points within the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and intermediate points."

Again I call your attention that even before the Commission is appointed we seek to control and limit their judgment by saying to them that these transportation facilities must be in the City of Philadelphia—within the City of Philadelphia or intermediate points. While in New Jersey they have enough consideration for the citizens of the community to say within a radius of 35 miles of Camden. Now certainly Delaware County, which is a component and most important part of this Authority is entitled to the same consideration.

Our amendments, prescribe a 35 mile radius of the City of Camden, New Jersey and points in Pennsylvania within the Port District.

We do not ask by our amendments that the transportation facilities shall be constructed at one point or another within Delaware County. But we ask again, that the Bridge Commission of the Delaware County Authority be given full opportunity to make a careful study of the entire traffic situation along the Delaware River, and after they have done so they determine where this bridge or where these tunnels or where these transportation facilities should be built and certainly the legislature, I am sure would feel that Delaware County is entitled to the same consideration that the New Jersey Legislature gave to all the communities in the State of New Jersey by prescribing that there shall be a limit within the radius of 35 miles of Camden.

Now, that is my discussion of the first two amendments, and I am going to ask the Members of the House to support those two amendments.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I had hoped that the gentleman would discuss all the amendments at one time so we could complete the discussion a little bit faster.

The gentleman would make a very good lawyer, Mr. Speaker, and I would like to have him on my side. Because he only reads into the bill what he wants read into the bill. I do not know whether he got tired of reading or did not get back to page 20.

The gentleman is making quite a point that this bill would definitely restrict a bridge anywhere except from the City of Philadelphia to Jersey. If he had turned back to page 20 and finished reading the bill he would have seen this wording:

"Whenever the commission after investigation and study shall have concluded plans with estimates of cost and means of financing for any new project for a purpose other than described in Article 1, subdivision "so and so," for transportation across or under the Delaware River within the hereinbefore described Port District."

This does not prohibit bridges being erected in the port district. It does not prohibit a bridge, if the Commission says so, from being constructed from Delaware County to Jersey. But he should also have reminded us that when these bridges are asked for construction, they have to come to the Legislature and ask for permission, which is the way it should be done.

Delaware County would not be deprived of any bridges if the Commission designated them to be there, and they came to the Legislature and asked our permission.

Incidentally, we just passed House Bill 1306. This bill today is to coincide with House Bill 1306 which allows a bridge to be constructed from South Street in Philadelphia to Camden. If that bridge is constructed, and we have given them the permission to construct it, it will be taken care of by the Delaware River Bridge Commission.

I do not know whether the Members of this House remember, . . . I do not intend it the way it will sound, but the gentleman could have ulterior motives. Two years ago this bill came before this House. It was so cut up with this same type of amendment that Governor Duff did not dare sign it. Today Governor Driscoll is signing this exact bill, word for word, and unless this bill is passed today in this same language without amendments, Governor Fine will not be able to sign it and we will have to wait another year to have this Commission created.

These amendments also have—and the gentleman has not discussed it—a provision that this Commission, at least two members shall be appointed from Delaware County. Again that would ruin the bill. There is nothing in New Jersey's bill to say from where the membership be appointed. I have no objection to two members coming from Delaware County—four, five or six members coming from Delaware County, if the Governor wants to appoint them, but on the same basis that these amendments are drawn Philadelphia should be included and have four members.

We do not ask that, because we are not going to spoil the bill. If Philadelphia does not have anyone who is capable of being on this Commission, or that is an expert, we do not want him on it. We do not say that the Governor has to have his hands chained and that he does not have the right to go to Montgomery County, or that he does not have the right to go to Erie, or Allegheny or any other county if he wishes to pick a man for this Commission. We are anxious to have the Commission formed and we are not going to put chains on the Governor's hands.

Let me warn you that if this bill is changed in any way whatsoever, it will be voided, will be no good and will not coincide with the Jersey bill, and it will again fall. That happened two years ago.

I do not know if you realize that the Port Authority of New York is one of the greatest things in this country. It has developed the City of New York, it has developed the State of New York. I do not want anyone in this House to think that we in Philadelphia have a selfish interest. We are the big port in the state of Pennsylvania. When that port prospers, Philadelphia prospers; when Philadelphia and the port prosper, the State prospers by every single improvement. This would not only help Philadelphia, it would help the entire State of Pennsylvania. And we do not want to see these amendments because we do not want to see this bill fall.

Mr. BLOOM. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader discussed the third amendment to the bill, and therefore we will first read that amendment to the House so they will better understand what he had reference to.

"Six of the eight commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania, for terms of five years. The Auditor General and the State Treasurer of said Commonwealth shall ex-officio be commissioners for said Commonwealth, each having the privilege of appointing a representative to serve in his place at any meeting of the Commission which he does not attend personally."

The amend reads as follows:

"Six of the eight commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at least two of whom shall be residents of Delaware County."

The Majority Leader has stated that I have ulterior motives. I do not know what he means by that statement. He is privileged to make any charge or accusation against me that is well founded, or that he desires to make. I do have motives and those motives are to protect four hundred and thirteen thousand citizens of Delaware County.

No bill has been presented to this House with a provision so uncontrolled and with such unconstrained authority as this bill possesses. I say to every Member of this House, if his county were subject to uncontrolled restraint as this is I would expect him in fairness to the citizens whom he represents, to come before this House and ask for these amendments.

What is in the bill that causes me to make those statements? Let me read to you page 15 reads as follows: "commission to exercise the right of eminent domain within the Port District" Now what does Port District mean, gentlemen? Does it only mean along the river front, between Philadelphia and Wilmington?

Let us read the definition of port district. Here is what the bill says; "Port District shall mean all the territory within the counties of Delaware and Philadelphia in Pennsylvania." All the territory within the county of Delaware. Do you realize, Members of the House, what that might mean?

This bill provides for terminal facilities. And here are some of the additional factors which the Port Authority has the right by the provisions of this bill, to take over.

"Terminal" shall include any marine, motor truck, railroad and air terminal. Also any coal,"— and I think Mr. Smith would be very much interested in that—"grain and lumber terminal, and any union freight and other terminals used or to be used in connection with the transportation of passengers . . ."

It goes even further, Members of the House. A transportation facility as defined under the provisions of this bill for the transportation of passengers shall include

"railroads operated by steam, electricity or other power, rapid transit lines, motor trucks, tunnels, bridges, airport, boats, ferries, carfloats, lighters, tugs, floating elevators, barges, scows or harbor craft of any kind."

And then it goes even beyond that. It can take and control what they use and what they refer to as the terminal facilities.

Here is what terminal facilities included,—just to give you an idea of the magnitude of the provisions of this act and why we say, Members of this House, it is only fair to the county that at least two members of this commission be residents of Delaware County:

"Terminal facilities shall include wharves, piers, slips, ferries, docks, drydocks, ship repair yards, bulkheads, dock walls, basins, carfloats, float-bridges, dredging equipment, radio receiving and sending stations, grain or other storage elevators, warehouses, cold storage tracks, yards, sheds, switches, connections overhead appliances, bunker coal, oil and fresh water stations, markets and every kind of terminal storage or supply facility now in use or hereafter designed for use to facilitate passenger transportation."

So you see Members of this House the power of condemnation is not limited just to one picture, or to one type of industry; it goes all the way.

Members of this House, many of you may not know that even as of today the Port of Chester, at least during the year 1940 registered over two thousand and twenty-two vessels. About one fifth of the transportation along the Delaware comes from the Port of Chester, and the industries along the Delaware River, in Delaware County, produce over one billion dollars worth of manufactured products. Every one of those industries will immediately become affected by this bill.

These are the reasons, Members of this House. Picture yourselves in the position of Delaware County. If this affected your county in the same manner as it does Delaware County I ask you, are we not entitled to at least two members on this Commission from Delaware County.

We do not seek to bridle the Governor in any way, but we do seek to protect the manufacturing and industrial interests, the commercial interests, and the citizens of Delaware County.

I respectfully join in requesting you Members of the House to vote for the amendment whereby the Governor will appoint on that Commission two members from Delaware County.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, again I want to compliment the gentleman for being a good lawyer. The gentleman again did not tell you all of the truth. He told you what he wanted you to hear.

This bill is not a bill that is uncontrolled. This bill in the future is controlled by this Legislature. Let me read you this:

"The Commission shall make to the Legislatures of each state a detailed report dealing only with the contemplated project—"

And get this;

"And shall request of said Legislature authority to proceed with the project described, and it shall not be within the power of the Commission to construct, erect or otherwise acquire any new facility or project for purposes other than described in Article 1."

The Legislature still controls it, we control the bridge, we control their acquiring anything by eminent domain.

If the railroads and the public utilities were against this bill, from what little I know of them, I would say we would have heard their voices before now. I have not heard anything, and I defy any Member of this House to say that he has, except possibly Mr. Bloom. Maybe he has, but I have not, and to adopt these amendments will kill this bill. If you want this bill killed, if you want the Port Authority broken up, this is the way to do it by voting for any of these amendments. Again I say that all of the experts are not confined to Delaware County as far as appointment to this Commission is concerned and I ask that you vote down all of these amendments.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the zealotness of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bloom, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith might darken the true picture that we should all bear in mind today.

This is one of the most important pieces of legislation facing this session of the Legislature. I am sure most of you are aware of the fact that the Philadelphia area,—and that does not include Philadelphia itself,—but Delaware County and the adjacent counties are about to experience one of the greatest periods of industrial expansion that any area in the entire United States has experienced within recent years.

This bill is designed to aid those industries that are flocking to the Philadelphia area and that are going to help enjoy this boom that we are going to face within the next few years.

I suppose most of you know that a lot of the steel mills are moving to the vicinity of Philadelphia, not only in Pennsylvania but in New Jersey.

Now, Mr. Bloom, I think had a justifiable grievance. If the provisions, the amendments that Mr. Bloom seeks today had been inserted in the bill as it passed in New Jersey, I think we could well go along with them. It is unfortunate that the measure as it passed the New Jersey Legislature and as it will be signed today by Governor Driscoll did not contain these particular provisions.

Delaware County is one of the most important industrial counties in the nation today. I was very much interested in hearing Mr. Bloom point out the large amount of tonnage that passes through the City of Chester port. It is a very important port in Pennsylvania and it is contributing greatly to the growth of our Commonwealth. I think with the passage of this bill the Port of Chester as well as the Port of Philadelphia will be made stronger than ever, and it is well that we get some of the business that has been going to the Port of New York and to the Port of Baltimore in the past.

However, I think the thing we must bear in mind in voting on these amendments is the point that Mr. Smith presented for your consideration. And that is this, if we amend this bill in the fashion that the gentleman from Delaware seeks, it might mean the complete emasculatation of the Port Authority program which we have been fighting for.

In the last session there were amendments offered, and they were offered perhaps with some ulterior motive, I cannot attribute any such motive to the gentleman from Delaware. I am convinced he is sincere in his desire to aid his community and I think we should all join in aiding Delaware County, because Delaware County, as I pointed out to you before, is one of the most important industrial areas in the state, and will become increasingly more important as time goes on. But unfortunately the failure to incorporate the provision he seeks in the New Jersey bill should not deter us at this time from passing this measure and disappointing somewhat the gentleman from Delaware. I think if he realized that the insertion of these amendments would endanger the Port Authority program he, as well as his colleagues from Delaware County who are just as much interested in the Commonwealth as any of us, would not insist upon the adoption of these amendments.

However, there is an extremely grave danger that the passage of these amendments will result in the killing of the Port Authority program. We fought for years to get this statute on the books. There are provisions in the bill which might be criticized by the gentleman from Delaware. Of course, he would like to have two representatives from Delaware included in the Authority. The bill does not, as passed in New Jersey, restrain the Governor of New Jersey in his power of appointment. He can appoint individuals from anywhere. And a similar provision, of course, exists in the bill without the amendment offered by the gentleman from Delaware.

I think the Governor of Pennsylvania would be very wise to select some of the competent men from Delaware County and appoint them to the Authority, but the restraining of the Governor's power and the insertion of this amendment might in itself result in the killing of the Port Authority program, and for that reason, I do not think we ought to go along with the gentleman from Delaware on that score.

As I said before, Delaware County deserves sympathetic consideration. I know they are going to join with us in Philadelphia and in the Philadelphia area in helping in this great industrial expansion program that is going to come in a very few months. I know that Delaware County will be one of the foremost counties in the Commonwealth in the not too distant future, and it would be well to give them consideration in the appointments, but I do want to object to the passage of these amendments at this time if it is going to cause the defeat of a program which is long needed and the same sort of tactics that killed the program in the past.

Unfortunately, in the last session and in prior sessions those who have been trying to kill the Authority program have exerted influence upon Members who did not realize the true picture, and it resulted in the passage of a crippling amendment, which if inserted in this particular measure at this time, would result in the loss, not only to Philadelphia and to Delaware County but to Pennsylvania and the nation a great deal of industrial growth which we greatly need.

For that reason, I ask that you vote down these amendments.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I realize that some of these long drawn out arguments may have a rather deleterious effect on the Members of the House. But we find ourselves in a position of being a step-child of the City of Philadelphia.

There is one thing I would like to bring out which apparently has not been brought out so far. And that is that this is the first time I have ever known that Governor Driscoll or any Member of the Legislature in the State of New Jersey had any right to come into this House and dictate what we do.

I was under the impression that we were an independent body here; that we represented the people of our district as best we can. We have, and we intend to do that, and yet there are charges being thrown back and forth that we are doing this because of some underhanded reason.

My position on this is the same as the rest of the Delaware County group. As far as I know not one of the Delaware County delegations has ever been requested to sit down and discuss the effects of this bill. And when we did, the first thing we got was the fact that New Jersey did not do it so you cannot change it. There have been amendments offered to bills of this type and they were put through.

If anyone considered the situation of Delaware County, Delaware County would have been brought in and had some one sit down and discuss it with the representatives of Delaware County; but no, the request is to knock down all amendments because New Jersey has not passed them.

Maybe New Jersey would and maybe New Jersey would not, but my position is that we are representing the people of Delaware County here and it is only the Counties of Philadelphia and Delaware that are involved.

Parenthetically I would like to remark with reference to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose's statement about the new plants coming in, I believe he is referring to the one that is coming into Bucks County and Bucks County is not in this bill.

If this is an attempt to jam something down the throat of the County of Delaware I am on my feet to object. If it is the intention to try to submerge Delaware County to Philadelphia, I again am on my feet to object. If there is anything quite as fair as the amendments offered here today by my colleague, Mr. Bloom, I do not know of it.

The fact that New Jersey does one thing and we should be bound by it, I think is rather foolish. We can think for ourselves; we have been elected by the people of this great Commonwealth and we ask you as Representatives from the uneffected counties, other than Philadelphia, to vote for these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, first of all I would like to inquire for the purpose of the record whether the bill under consideration is identical with the bill passed by New Jersey?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can answer that by saying it is identical in every way that the Constitution of our Commonwealth allows it to be.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the way to agree is to agree. This Legislature is a sovereign body. The Legislature, the General Assembly of New Jersey is a sovereign body. A compact must be a matter agreed upon. The gentleman from Delaware is quite right when he says that we can exercise independent judgment. We do not have to agree to the compact as enacted by New Jersey. We can nullify it. But if we are to form a compact, the two parties must be in agreement and the only way they can be in agreement is for the respective legislative bodies in the two states to pass identical measures.

All of this talk about Delaware County playing second string to Philadelphia is all poppy-cock. None of Delaware County's rights are abrogated; none of its advantages are abrogated. The only point at issue is whether or not we are at liberty to frame one half of a contract that does not agree with the other half. It is a legal question. If we could frame our way of thinking and it were in complete agreement with the other side, I would say all right. Let us give the particular objecting county, if their feelings are hurt, let us mollify them, but this is too big a question for this intense, suicidal provincialism which would wreck the welfare of a whole Commonwealth for the good of one particular borough.

We are men here, I hope, in the roll of legislative statesmen, economic statesmen. The most significant step we can take is the creation, as the other speakers have said, of this Authority, and it is suicidal policy because of petty greeds, grounded in I know not what, in a political controversy to imperil the prosperity of a great Commonwealth by giving credence to an insane provincialism.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, at the risk of taking up just a bit more time, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, made a statement that Delaware County knew nothing at all about this.

I would like to remind him that the Auditor General of this state comes from Delaware County. He is now a member of the Delaware River Joint Commission which is sponsoring this bill.

If the Auditor General from Delaware County does not know about it, it would amaze me and I think he knows about it. I think he is a political power and I think Delaware County did know about this before today.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. KELLER,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1351, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsection C of Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled "An act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assesses and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court" by excluding taxes imposed on real property transfers in certain school districts in determining tax limitations The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection C of Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled "An act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior court" as last amended by the act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 898) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 * * * * *

C Over-all Limit of Tax Revenue The aggregate amount of taxes imposed by enactment of an ordinance or resolution by any political subdivision under this section and in effect during any fiscal year shall not exceed an amount equal to the product obtained by multiplying the total assessed valuation of real estate in such political subdivision at the time of the said enactment by ten (10) mills in cases of cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns and townships of the first class and by fifteen (15) mills in cases of school districts of the second class third class and fourth class In school districts of the third and fourth class taxes imposed on retail sales involving the transfer of real property shall not be included in computing the aggregate amount of taxes

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that this is a rather important measure affecting some two or three hundred, perhaps more, political subdivisions in this Commonwealth. Indeed, in its broader aspects, it could affect a couple thousand political subdivisions. It is a measure that would doubtless work to the advantage, say of a distressed school district, or of a distressed municipality that found it difficult to finance itself. It is the sort of a measure, in my opinion, which could work to the disadvantage of a great many other communities that fortunately are not in the distressed financial class.

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, it is quite true that this bill might affect a great many school districts in the Commonwealth. In fact, it might affect any school district that would have a transfer real estate tax. The tax itself is limited to a 1 percent transfer tax. That is definitely limited by the Act itself, Act 481. However, by imposing the tax of 1 percent on the transfer of real estate, it is never known how much that tax will produce. Act 481 limits the amount of money which may be received under the different provisions of Act 481 to 15 mills times the assessed valuation. Therefore, if there is a large development in your community, and you have the transfer tax, it does not take long to reach the maximum of 15 mills times the assessed valuation.

The school district does not receive more money than it needs because when there is a large transfer of real estate it generally means that there is an influx of school population. The school district may not necessarily be distressed, but it certainly needs all of the available money that it can get to carry on its activities. I feel that a great many school districts need this piece of legislation, therefore, I ask the support of the entire House.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I am rather reluctant to speak on this bill because I must oppose it and I do not wish to be in the position of opposing anything that will help any distressed school district.

However, there is a question of how distressed school districts shall be helped and I would like to point out a certain danger in removing this restriction.

In 1947 when the famous 481 was passed, the Legislature in its wisdom at that time felt that there should be some limitation as to how much money should be taken from the taxpayers of a district under that law. They set that at 15 mills on the total real estate value. In other words, they could collect monies equivalent to an assessment of 15 mills on real estate.

In debate the other day I listened to Mr. Keller and I think he said that in their first three months' experience with this tax they had collected an amount equivalent to 15 mills of their real estate tax. In other words, they had collected the limitation in three months. If that is true, in 12 months, if my arithmetic is correct, they would collect four times that much, or a tax amounting to an equivalent of 60 mills on their total evaluation. If this limitation were removed, it would mean that a community could add to that 15 mills more in another type of tax under 481, which means that you would be giving to a community such as this community as has been represented to us, the power to impose a total tax under 481 amounting to 75 mills on their assessed valuation.

This seems to me a dangerous way to help distressed school districts because, as has been pointed out, this exemption will not apply only to a distressed school district but also will apply to any municipality or any school district in the Commonwealth. For that reason, it seems to me, I must oppose this bill and I would think that anyone who is interested in limiting the taxing powers to a reasonable amount would have to go along with that position.

I think it might be possible, I do not know, to amend this bill so that the restriction would only be removed in the case of distressed school districts, in which case I think it might have some merit. But in its present form, I do not believe anyone can vote to raise the limitation to a possible 75 mills on the assessed valuation.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong this debate but I feel that the speakers so far have missed one point in this situation.

Under 481, as I understand it, the school district, the municipality, the borough or township can pass a one mill transfer tax. That is based on the fact that they can no longer collect more than 15 mills of the assessed valuation. Due to the fact that school districts' budgets usually run from July to July and your assessments, which is your county assessment, usually run from January to December, you have a situation where very easily it can throw the budget of a school district completely out of kilter.

I have a great deal of respect for the gentleman from Cambria when he referred to distressed school districts. I do not think this necessarily applies 100 percent to distressed school districts. I know, for example, that in our own county there are quite a few very large developments. When this tax is placed on the books, they are not certain as to how many properties, new properties will be sold during the fiscal year of the school board. As a result any situation could very easily be envisioned. The first 3,000 of the houses sold would probably pay their 1 percent. Thereafter those particular people who happened to be fortunate enough to purchase their house after the 15 mill limit has been reached, go through scot free but their children are still going to the schools.

It is a peculiar situation, and I suggest it is only a peculiar situation where large developments are in the process of being built. I suggest to the Members that there are probably only a handful of school districts that will be affected under the transfer tax in a situation where they would run over the 15 mill limit. I feel that it is an equitable change in 481.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, someone told me the other day that every time I see or hear 481 I see red. Well, I do to some extent. I questioned this bill last week and I question it today on the same grounds. This is the first step in which you are breaking down the limitations of the tax under 481. If you do this, it is only a matter of time until you step further into the municipalities—then to the wage tax and eliminate the ceilings there.

I noticed last week when I went home that a municipality in Allegheny County, a school district having 46 teachers, had paid a bonus—standard of living bonus—of $100 to those 46 teachers. I recall just last week the great plea from Allegheny County in order to get additional revenue for the school district of Pittsburgh.

I am getting somewhat confused. I do not quite understand why we move in this direction on certain issues. We here have an awful time raising the standard of the pay of the teachers throughout the state and I would say we have done a marvelous job. But when we pick up a paper back home and find that above that the school district pays a $100 cost of living bonus, my friends, I think we should give due consideration when we attempt to eliminate the ceiling in which taxation can be extended under 481. I think this measure should be defeated.

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong this discussion but to answer Mr. Seyler's question on seventy-five mills, I might say that it is quite unlikely that so much real estate in one district would be transferred year after year. Other districts in the same area may be affected, but I do not believe that the same district would be that fortunate to receive that much money in transfer taxes in any two consecutive years.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Lopresti and Rovanseck.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, after dealing in millions as we have been during the last few years I am probably out of order when I talk about this particular bill because after all it is only pigeon money in comparison. I would just like to very, very briefly call the attention to the Members of the House to what this bill proposes to do.

The particular board mentioned in this bill at the present time receives $35 a day; in additional to that they received $15 expense money, and in addition to that they received five cents per mile for every mile travelled.

I realize there are two professional men on this board and one layman. I realize further that many professional men today, some of whom are in this House, will very rarely take a deep breath for $35. But sometime or other, and I think maybe this is a good time to start, we have to quit raising salaries; we have to quit spending money, as I see it.

I understand and I know that the people who are on this board do not receive their remuneration from the Commonwealth, but the same people pay who always pay, the general public. As a little bit of a farmer I certainly cannot conceive of men receiving $65 a day for the services they render to the Commonwealth. For that reason I think it is about time to stop raising salaries somewhere. I personally propose to vote against this bill. I do not know how many of the other House Members agree with me but I trust that others will agree with me and vote "no" also.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I have no personal interest in this bill and I do not believe that either of the sponsors have either. However I am informed that this is a bill which was put in at the request of the Department of the Auditor General.

As you know nobody can sue the Commonwealth on a contract claim. The only way they can make good their claim against the Commonwealth is to go to the Board of Arbitration. When they go to the Board of Arbitration they are faced by three people. Members of the Board are appointed by the Governor and the law stipulates it must be a lawyer, an engineer and a layman. Lawyers today commonly get $50 a day for a day in court, plus travelling expenses. I think engineers get much the same. The purpose of the bill is not to impose increased costs of litigation upon the litigants but rather to get capable people. I understand today that the Auditor General's Department states it is impossible to get proper people to fill these jobs and that is the only reason for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WACHHAUS. Mr. Speaker, having been temporarily absent from the floor of the House last week when the sponsor of the bill offered amendments I request that he please explain the amendments as offered last week together with the bill generally.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, for Mr. Wachhaus' information the amendments offered last week changed the reading of the projectile to a metal or metal pointed projectile. Theretofore in the bill it merely stated an air gun which expelled a projectile.

We have changed the reading on page 4, section 5b, to prohibit the use of these air guns only in public parks, not on public lands. We have also amended it to permit the dealer to apply to the Chief of Police of a city or borough—"or borough" was added.

The biggest change was that it required all licensees to notify the purchaser of any gun of the effect of this act.

It also requires the same record as is presently being made in the sale of an ordinary fire arm. In other words the record is made up in triplicate. The licensee keeps one, the owner keeps one and the police take the third.

The other amendment raises the penalties from $300 to $500. Those are the amendments which were offered last week.

To go on, this bill, Mr. Speaker, is for all intents and purposes a compromise bill. It is well known that for years the normal person treated a BB gun as a toy. As a result there have been numerous injuries to small children, to medium sized children and even to adults from the reaction of receiving of a metal pellet fired by a BB gun or a gun of that type.

This bill, for all intents and purposes, sets the BB gun up as a firearm and it puts the same restrictions on the BB gun as presently on a firearm. You will notice that the license fee is the same, the recording of the sale is the same, and the permission to carry the gun is the same as with a firearm or a twenty-two or a higher powered rifle or pistol. It is my present understanding and I was so advised by a Member of the Blind Association that they now favor this bill.

Mr. WACHHAUS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

The statement was made that the BB gun is now in the same class as a firearm. Yet a five or six year old child may still carry a BB gun but is not permitted to carry a twenty-two rifle, for instance.

There has been much controversy on this subject since 1935 as I have been told. Session after session bills have been presented here to restrict the use of BB guns entirely, with no success. Ultimately I hope we may get around to that some day.

This bill I think is a weak one because inasmuch as small children may be permitted to use BB guns, accidents are still going to occur. If a six, seven or eight year old child can use a BB gun in his back yard these accidents are going to happen throughout the Commonwealth.

However, it is my understanding also that this particular bill is the result of the effort of the committee on Judiciary after some six, seven or eight other bills that were much stronger had been rejected following the public hearing. The fact remains now that we must accept either half a loaf or no loaf at all. If this particular bill with its provisions, as it has been amended, shall save even one, two or three eyes of youngsters, perhaps it is better to accept this than let the law go as is.

It was my original intention Mr. Speaker, to fight the bill and ask for its defeat on the floor, but as it has been amended it is probably a little better, and I am going to ask that the Members of the House go along with it. I am going to check carefully in the next two years what the results are going to be and when we come back then we will see what our action will have to be.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Robertson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker

Mr. STONER. Will the gentleman explain just how this bill will affect the use of BB guns by juveniles?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill requires for any child under the age of fourteen, whenever he carries a BB gun, to have an adult member of his family with him. In other words the bill prohibits the use of a BB gun, or the carrying of a BB gun by a child under the age of fourteen unless an adult member of his family is with him.

Between the ages of fourteen and sixteen it permits the child to carry a BB gun if an adult, not restricted to his household, but an adult is with him.

Over the age of sixteen there is no prohibition.

It is practically the same as your present hunting laws, except that the hunting laws start at twelve. As Mr. Wachhaus pointed out this can go all the way down to infant stage if somebody is foolish enough to buy a BB gun for a small child of that age.

Mr. STONER. I have one more question Mr. Speaker. How would this affect the present local and municipal laws of BB guns?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, there is a particular clause in the bill which states that local and municipal ordinances which have to do with the BB gun regulation will not be affected if the ordinance is stronger than this bill. In other words it will not affect ordinances which have prohibited them or ordinances which restrict them further than this act.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to take up too much time of the House but I have sponsored a bill pertaining to BB guns since 1935, at every session.

Since the various groups have gotten together I feel like Mr. Wachhaus does that if this is the best we can salvage we should go along with the bill. I would much rather have 527 appear on the calendar wherein we would really restrict the usage, almost completely, and in my humble opinion do away with the BB gun entirely.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

NOT VOTING—2

Flack, Thompson, R. L.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration and final passage of Senate Bill No. 244, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" by redefining pension annuity contract vesting certain [equities benefits dividends or] rights under pension annuity contracts in the municipality or in the policemen [or their dependents] providing for deductions to defray expenses for auditing providing for return of funds if not used within a certain time by the various political subdivisions

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. I move that Senate Bill 244 be passed over.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to object to the passing over of that Senate Bill 244.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if I make a motion that the bill be passed over, does it have to be voted upon?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the gentleman may make a motion that the bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

Does the gentleman desire that the question be submitted to the House on a motion to place the bill on the final passage postponed calendar?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill 244, Printer's No. 373 on page 25 of today's calendar, bills on final passage, be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. STIMMEL. I understand that a motion to place on the calendar is not debatable?

The SPEAKER. The motion is debatable.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, prior to this meeting I discussed this particular bill with Mr. Lovett but it was not my understanding that he intended to move to place this bill on the final passage postponed calendar.

This places me in somewhat of a disadvantageous position, because I, of course, did not anticipate this. May I say that I feel that it is essential that we act on this bill today. I feel that we have procrastinated sufficiently long. This bill has been held to permit careful perusal of its contents and I sincerely feel that it has been given the attention of every Member of this House and that the membership of this House presently is fully aware of the contents of this bill and is in a position to vote upon it at this time. I therefore, object to the motion as made by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to take advantage of the gentleman. I discussed the issue with him prior to the session and these two bills 244 and 245 are companion bills. I want to vote for these bills and since we have an amendment to Senate Bill 245, I feel it only just and fair that we act upon that particular bill first.

If the amendments we shall offer to Senate Bill No. 245 are adopted by this House, I feel then that we will be in position to either inject or put the same amendments into 244.

I do not want to be unfair. I think that it is only courtesy since they are companion bills that we be given the opportunity to first offer our amendments to 245. If those amendments are defeated, then I would be satisfied. I feel that the membership of this House should be given an opportunity to first vote upon the amendments that we are going to offer to 245. For that reason and that reason alone I ask the Members to sustain me in putting this bill on the postponed calendar so that we may have an opportunity to first act on 245.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate that Mr. Lovett is essentially fair. However, I do feel that this bill is being prejudiced by postponing it at this time.

I do not agree with Mr. Lovett that these are companion bills. I do agree that they are similar bills. I think they are not related in any way, that is, at least they do not affect the same class of individuals. They are related only in that they do affect two different types of funds.

I submit to you and the Members of this House that any vote on 244 should be on the merits of Senate Bill 244 alone, and certainly I would say that we should not prejudice the introduction and the fair appraisal of the amendments that Mr. Lovett has in mind for 245. I believe that they should certainly be considered on the unbiased thinking of the Members of this House when we come to those amendments.

I will not discuss my position on the amendment he has to offer but I believe that it has nothing to do with Senate Bill 244 that dissimilar groups are affected by a similar type of legislation. It certainly is not companion legislation and I therefore ask the Members on both sides to sustain me in voting against this motion.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that he can support the amendments to 245?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I very carefully avoided expressing my position because I did not wish to prejudice anyone in this House at this particular time. If you recall, I said that I would not disclose them at this time. I think that the bill we had before us, Senate Bill 244, should rise or fall on its merits.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will you admit that the two bills in question deal with the same question?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I will if you will let me elaborate just briefly.

I again reiterate that while they deal with the same questions they affect different people and there is an honest, and mind you I said honest, difference of opinion as to the administration of these two bills. That is, it is honest between the gentleman and me, and I am sure among the membership, when it is properly explained to them. But I again state that I do not believe that the rejection of Senate Bill 244 should have in the thinking of the membership of this House any relation to the amendments that you propose to introduce to Senate Bill 245.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that the passage of 244 would in any way prohibit the amendments of 245?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, well I certainly do not see why. Again I say that I believe that it is just an honest difference of opinion and I will debate that with the gentleman when we get to 245 if he so desires.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I sincerely thank the gentleman for his frank answers. But I must say to the membership of this House that I still feel that I am acting in good faith when I ask you to put this Senate Bill 244 on the postponed calendar in order that we may have an opportunity to offer the amendments to 245 and I ask the Members to support that motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, is it permissible in the Hall of this House for a lobbyist to stand up and give signals on how the Members are to vote?

The SPEAKER. Visitors may not interfere with the business of the House. Visitors are not permitted on the floor of the House.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, seventy Members voting in the affirmative and eighty in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, since my motion to put this bill on the postponed calendar has failed, I want to say to the Members of this House that the amendments we are going to offer to a similar bill puts me in the position where I feel the membership of this House will support those amendments.

For that reason, and that reason alone, I must vote against this particular bill. I believe that had we had the opportunity to put the same amendments into this bill that I believe this House will support on 245, I then could have supported this bill.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, it is my turn to thank the gentleman from Westmoreland for his frankness.

In order to clear the air just a little bit, may I say this: This is a good bill. This bill will put into the legitimate police pension fund the money that rightfully belongs there. On that score there is no argument. I think I am correct in saying that Mr. Lovett agrees completely with that, as do those who will offer the amendments to Senate Bill 245.

However, there is some question as to the administration of the Act. Please consider very seriously your vote on this measure. Consider this fact: The reason this bill is on the floor of this House today after having passed the Senate 49 to 0 is because the widows and children and the beneficiaries affected by these funds, are in some instances the victims of clambakes.

There have been investigations that have indicated that there has been misappropriation and misuse of funds. There has been an actual case of where a volunteer in one of these organizations was killed in the line of duty. There was no fund to reimburse the widow and children of this unfortunate family.

May I suggest to you too that a spot check of 50 of these organizations indicated a 10 percent misuse of funds. And these two—let me stay directly on 244 for the moment—it is anticipated that under Senate Bill 244 and under the present Act there will be distributed to the Police Pension Fund approximately $6,000,000. If that 10 percent figure would prevail, that would mean there is a misuse of approximately $600,000.

Actually in this bill you have a regulatory power which mandates that we must use these funds as prescribed by law. I say to you that this bill in its present form is a good bill in the interest of the people for whom it is designed and who are the recipients of these funds.

I used the word "clambake" a little loosely. But I submit to you, and I say in all sincerity, that if I ever attended a clambake, a free one, on moneys that were misappropriated and somebody in my area doing his job were killed and the widow and children did not get their fair share of what they should have coming, I would choke on the clams.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STIMMEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the Auditor General audit various state institutions?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry, sir, I cannot answer that question. I believe the gentleman probably would be familiar with it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman's information, the Auditor General audits the accounts of all state institutions.

Does the Auditor General when he audits the accounts of any institution levy on the patients of that institution to secure the funds with which to pay for the audit?

Mr. STIMMEL. I do not presume he does, Mr. Andrews. May I, however, make a brief statement?

Mr. ANDREWS. You may.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I think it must be understood that this money is not public money. These are funds that are collected from foreign companies—and when I say "foreign" I mean companies from outside the state that enjoy the privileges of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to sell insurance—and this is the money that is derived from a 2 percent tax on those funds. The collection of those funds is by the state and the distribution of those funds is by the state, and I do not believe there is any charge made for that presently.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further inquiry.

Are these funds collected from these insurance companies paid into the General Fund?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is correct, yes sir.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and this bill under consideration carries an appropriation?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, it does sir.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and is that appropriation taken out of the money of the General Fund?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, the money is taken out of the fund that is to be distributed to these various organizations prior to distribution.

But please, let me have just one more word, if you will, sir. This $60,000 would represent less than 1 percent of this fund and would in all probability, according to investigation, result in the recovery of several hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, $60,000 would help a lot of widows, would it not?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, $300,000 would help them a lot more, sir.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, we have reached a strange pass in the doings of this strange administration when we begin drawing on the widows and the orphans and the unfortunates for the funds with which to make the audits for their protection.

There is no sound reason in public policy, or even from a standpoint of administration, for the cost of auditing any funds appropriated by this body to come out of any funds but those appropriated for the use of the Auditor General. If the Auditor General is not being given enough money to do his job, the Appropriation Committee should boost his appropriation; but to take $60,000 out of what are, in effect, trust funds which belong to a particularly unfortunate class in order to protect the appropriation to the Auditor General just does not make common sense.

I am for any bill which aims to protect the appropriation of the Auditor General at the expense of any deserving class or unfortunates in this Commonwealth. If this bill can be amended or changed so that the Auditor General out of his appropriation does the job that he is supposed to do with the money we vote to him, then I am for this bill. If we are going to rob the unfortunates, I am opposed to it.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I regret that I have to take the time of an impatient House at this late hour. However, may I say that I believe this: I think that Mr. Andrews, too, is completely sincere and honest. But let us not forget seeing the woods because of the trees.

If this bill falls, it will mean that the continued misuse of funds will prevail and it is only an honest difference of opinion as to whether or not the administration of this bill as it is presently set up, and that will be suggest under Senate Bill 245, will do a better job. Now, those widows and children today will get a lot more money with this appropriation in there than they are getting now.

May I say this further, too, sir, with due respect to the gentleman from Cambria; that the state association of the Fraternal Order of Police who are the recipients of this money have given careful study to this bill as it is in its present form and honestly and sincerely believe that with the inclusion of the $60,000 appropriation there will be recovered a substantially greater amount of these funds.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we admit the misappropriation of funds. We admit the need for an audit. We do not admit that those who benefit by reason of the audit should be forced to pay for it. There is plenty of time for the gentleman to delay action on this bill and amend it so that the cost of the audit comes out of the funds of the Auditor General. I want to see an audit. Every Member of the House does. It is very easy for the gentleman to delay action and amend this bill. You are going to be in a very ridiculous position if we amend 245 and relieve the firemen from the cost of the audit and then place the cost of the audit for the police pensions upon the widows and orphans and distressed people.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I certainly do not wish to be arbitrary about this bill and I request to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, from what the gentleman has said I understand that he would support this measure if the funds were audited by the Auditor General's office, provided proper appropriation by this body has been made for that purpose?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, that suggestion has not been given to me prior to this time and as I said just a moment ago, I do not wish to be arbitrary about this. I believe that this is good legislation in the interest of people who should not suffer from hasty action. I, therefore, would like the opportunity to consider Mr. Andrews' proposal and the possibility of working out some plans along those lines and would, therefore, ask that this bill be postponed.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 245, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section 2 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 408) entitled as amended "A supplement to the twenty-fourth section of an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine' approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine amending the twenty-fourth section by providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of the two per centum tax on premiums paid by foreign fire insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities towns townships and boroughs within this Commonwealth" by providing for the return of funds if not used within a certain time by the political subdivisions for payment to the Department of the Auditor General to defray costs and expenses of auditing the fund and accounts receiving disbursements restricting payments to firemen and their dependents.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. DuBOIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Clearfield Mr. DuBois vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. DuBOIS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Clearfield Mr. Breth vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

Messrs. DuBOIS and BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, line 4 from top, by striking out the word "used" and inserting in lieu thereof "paid over."

Amend Title, page 2, lines 5, 6 and 7 from top, by striking out "payment" in line 5, all of line 6, and the words "expenses of" in line 7.

Amend Title, page 2, line 8, by inserting after the part word "ments" the following "by the auditors of the political subdivisions and."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, lines 10 to 19 inclusive, by striking out "Provided That there shall be de-" in line 10, all of lines 11 to 18 inclusive, and "of the foreign fire insurance tax fund" in line 19.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 5, line 2, by inserting a bracket before the word "In" and after the word "any."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 5, line 2, by inserting after the word "any" the following paragraph "The auditors of the several cities, towns, townships and boroughs shall audit annually the funds and accounts in such political subdivisions receiving disbursement from the said entire net amount received from the two per centum tax, and within thirty days of such audit shall make a complete report thereof to the Department of the Auditor General, accompanied by an affidavit stating that such report is a true and correct statement of the funds and accounts audited."

"In any"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STIMMEL. At this time I would be glad to yield. There seem to be a number of gentlemen interested in this measure. In the event that they wish to debate the merits of this amendment that is presently offered, I would be glad to yield.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clearfield Mr. Breth.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, these amendments offered on 245 by Mr. DuBois and myself tend to clarify something in the minds of the volunteer firemen throughout the state on the intent of this bill.

As the bill stands now the features outside of the appropriation of $40 thousand from the fund to go to the Auditor General for an audit are good. This bill without amendments has been opposed by various volunteer firemen organizations all over the state.

The intent of the amendments is to accomplish the same thing that the $40 thousand dollar audit by the Auditor General would accomplish. In other words under the bill now something is going to be made into law affecting that pension fund that has never been there before. In other words it has never been clear what that two per cent for fire insurance tax should be used for. It was turned over to the cities, the boroughs and the townships and there was no direct obligation by law that it should be used directly for the benefit of disabled and injured firemen and their families. But under this 245 bill now before us and the amendments to the old law, it is stated distinctly, and it is now going to be added and I quote from the bill line 16, page 4.

"Such amount paid under terms hereof shall be used to provide pension retirement disability or death benefits by saving and investing such amount or to purchase policies of insurance to procure said benefits to volunteer or paid firemen or to the dependents of such volunteer or paid firemen.

Furthermore on page 6, starting with line 7, this new bill clears up another very difficult feature which caused considerable confusion under the old law. It states:

"All monies distributed under the terms hereof that are not paid over for the purposes set forth herein within one year after receipt thereof by the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships, shall be returned to the Department of Auditor General and shall be forthwith applied to surplus in the foreign fire insurance tax fund by the Auditor General."

In effect what that means is, in the past when these boroughs, cities, and townships got that money they clearly could not turn it over to the firemen and there you were.

In some cases it has come to mind that it has been used for clam bakes. Well under this bill, from now on that money must be turned over to the firemen and used for the purposes that they want it used for, for the benefits, disabilities and so forth of themselves or their children or families. Furthermore any money that is left has to come back to the State, money that is not used for that purpose.

The volunteer firemen contend that there is no reason to take $40 thousand a year from that fund for an audit when the audit can be done locally. In other words what these amendments do simply, is say that the borough auditors, or township auditors shall audit that fund. In other words they shall make an affidavit statement to be returned to the Auditor General saying we received so much money from the two percent foreign fire insurance tax fund, so much money went here for that purpose, this is the balance.

If there is any balance, the law says it has to be returned to the State. Now an affidavit audit like that in the various cities, various boroughs and towns should be sufficient under the law to accomplish the purposes of 245.

We heard here a minute ago on the floor that there would be benefits, monetary benefits to these funds up to $600,000. Well gentlemen it is not the audit that is going to bring in those funds or the benefit of more funds accruing to the benefit of the firemen, and so forth, it is the provisions in this bill, not the audit; it is the provision of this bill that this money shall go only for those purposes. It is the provision of this bill that money not used for those purposes shall come back to the Auditor General. That is the money saving feature of this entire setup.

The volunteer firemen of this state contend and have contended that this money is the only way they have of being recompensed for injuries, disabilities and so forth, sustained in the line of duty. You gentlemen recognize and realize that the volunteer firemen have had a long and illustrious record ever since the foundation of this country. The volunteer firemen, have been willing to turn out day and night and all the time. They are not paid as the policemen are paid. They volunteer their services and they save life and property and it is not giving them a fair deal to take away $40,000 a year from an audit, the purposes of which can be achieved through this amendment.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in principle I must, even though the minority of one, take the same position with reference to the audit of the firemen's fund that I take with reference to the audit of other funds.

The responsibility and the sovereignty of the state should follow the appropriation of state money. The Commonwealth cannot as a matter of public policy delegate the auditing functions, for which it is responsible, to a local council, to a local auditor. That is in derogation of the office of the Auditor General.

We pay out the funds to the firemen and it is not right to charge them for the audit. The responsibility for the audit belongs, as far as the Commonwealth is concerned, with the Auditor General and it is a responsibility that cannot be delegated. So I question the advisability of the amendments proposed, and suggest to the sponsors of those amendments that they stick to the central theme and do not let the Auditor General's Department get away with a sneak play to shift the $100 thousand dollars, for which the Department should be responsible, back on either the firemen or the policemen or their dependents. I would like to see these amendments not concurred in and the amendments offered that will place the responsibility for the audit upon the Auditor General to be paid out of funds at his disposal.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Andrews has stolen a little bit of my thunder in that he believes as I do that the responsibility for the distribution of these funds rightfully belongs to the state level in order that the misuses and misappropriation of these funds shall not continue. Beyond that I cannot help but agree with Mr. Andrews, if it is the feeling of this body that we as a Legislature should determine that, it is a duty and an obligation of the Auditor General to pay the bill, I cannot be in disagreement with that.

I submit to you that in the past the act under which these funds were disbursed did in no way prohibit these associations with conscience who did not have a volunteer firemen's relief association, from returning this money so that the legitimate funds could get what rightfully belonged to them. As a matter of record many boroughs and townships with good conscience, and I take my hat off to them, returned a substantial amount because they said we have no such organization. That ultimately went into the general pot and went where it belonged to those who had a legitimate organization.

I think Mr. Breth has left somewhat of a misunderstanding with the membership of this House. I do not know what organization he speaks for, but I do know that the state association of volunteer firemen, the paid firemen's association of the AFL, and the fire fighters association endorse this bill without amendment.

I again suggest that we carefully consider this fact:

If these moneys are audited by the Auditor General's Department to which we all have access, if it is done in an impartial fashion, and if it is done with the wealth of experience that that department possesses, we will have better administration of these funds and it will, believe me, go to the people to whom it rightfully belongs.

I believe that this is an honest difference of opinion, and I agree with Mr. Andrews. I think we have a duty at a state level to see that these monies are dispensed and distributed properly. I am very sorry that I cannot agree with the sponsors who, I believe, are acting in good faith, but I believe if we place it in the hands of the county auditors we would not accomplish the desired results to the extent that the Auditor General's office would accomplish.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I question the advisability of the audit on the local level and so I have asked the gentleman from Lehigh whether he and those who are of his opinion would not agree to have both of these bills amended so that the responsibility for the audit lies at the state level with the state paying the expenses of the audit.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly agree with the gentleman from Cambria in principle. I believe that these amendments as presently offered should be defeated for that reason.

In order that we can work out a more satisfactory solution with this in mind I do not believe that the local level will accomplish the proper result. Now that is an honest opinion. Beyond that I subscribed to what Mr. Andrews suggests, and if it is possible and if money is available by which we might appropriate the required funds, we could have an accurate audit.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I have a letter here from John A. Myers, Secretary of the Central District of the Volunteer Firemen's Association which is composed of about thirteen counties and thirty thousand volunteer firemen. I will not read all of it, but the letter is directed to me and I think every Member of the House or most of the Members from that district got this letter. For the information of the other Members who did not receive this letter I want to say that it unequivocally supports these amendments.

The letter states:

"We further understand that the State Firemen's Association has approved this bill 245, yet we can say that we cannot find any fire organization in Western Pennsylvania nor in the central part of the State that has had any knowledge of this bill. Even yet, the Central District Volunteer Firemen's Association has had no report on the same and we are all members of the said association. The central district represents about thirty thousand volunteer firemen. We feel that someone has misled you men and certainly feel that it is very unfair to these groups."

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of our experienced volunteer firemen who is a Member of the House and for about 25 years, an officer of the Volunteer Firemen Association Relief Fund. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think by this interrogation we can clear up a few of the points that are perhaps questionable, or still a matter of question in the minds of some of our Members.

Mr. Goodling, as I mentioned, you are a volunteer fireman.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and an officer of a volunteer firemen's organization.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, for how long.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, since 1924.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and what office or position do you hold as an officer?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I am secretary of the fire company.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is that a township or a borough fire company?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, it is a borough organization.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and do you handle any of these relief funds that come from the State Treasury?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, not as the Secretary of the Volunteer Fire Company, but as Secretary of the Firemen's Relief Association I do.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, well how do you get those funds?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, we get those funds from two different sources. One source is from the township supervisors, and the other is from the borough council.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the borough council, as I understand it, gets them direct from the State Treasurer.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and the supervisor of the township gets them direct from the State Treasurer.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, I believe.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and they all come from the two percent foreign fire insurance tax.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, are there townships that do not have fire companies around you?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, the township from whom we receive some of the money does not have a fire company in it.

I might add to that, Mr. Speaker, that this particular township receives fire service from three different borough fire companies, and the money that they receive from the State Treasurer is distributed equally among the three Firemen's Relief Associations which serve that particular township.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in other words, it is permissible under the present law if the township gets money from the State Treasurer, but has no fire company to give it to, that they can turn it over to a nearby company or organization?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I think it is not only permissible; it is mandatory. If they do not have a Firemen's Relief Organization that serves them they do not receive this from the State Treasurer.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, must you now report on all the monies that you get from either the borough or the townships?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, each time we get money from either the borough or the township it is necessary for me as the Secretary of the Relief Association, also necessary for the Treasurer of the Relief Association, to sign a form that comes from the Auditor General that we have received the money from that particular borough or township.

We must, as I recall, state on that particular form the number of the voucher that was received by them either the supervisors or the borough council.

I might add further that on one or two occasions we forgot to get the form in, in time probably, and we were prodded by the Auditor General's Department, which leads me to believe that they keep a pretty accurate check on the money that goes out from the State Treasury.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, do you know how much money the borough gets every year? I mean each year as they get it? I mean do you have knowledge that they receive the money from the State Treasurer?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, we have knowledge only when the borough treasurer turns it over to the relief association.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, what if they do not turn it over to you? Do you have knowledge that it is not turned over to you?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, yes. We have knowledge that it is not turned over to us because we do not receive it, and we look forward to receiving that each year, knowing that it comes from the State Treasury.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, about what chances are there of those funds being misused would you say exists.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, contrary to what I have heard, I do not see that there is any chance for misuse. I mean so far as to the time it is received by the borough treasurer and the time it is received by the relief association. Because they are definitely obligated to turn it over to the Relief Association.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, these particular features of 245 regarding the distribution of the money which specifically must go for such things as retirement, disability and death benefit and so forth, will they strengthen the hand of the fund or the use of the fund?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I definitely think they will, yes.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, and the other provision, that surplus funds must be returned within a year. Would that assist the volunteer firemen's fund, too?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, well I recall, I believe it was in 1949 where we made an allocation of this surplus fund right in this House.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, these amendments that are proposed now and which we have under discussion, would those audits by the borough and township officers accomplish the same purpose as a $40,000 audit in your estimation?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I believe they would, yes.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I do not think there is any doubt about it that this $40,000 allocation is unnecessary. I think the bill, with the other provisions in it straightens out the funds, fixes the purposes for which the law was originally passed. I think by passing these amendments and making the borough auditors responsible for an affidavit to the Auditor General and the regular set-up will save the Volunteer Firemen's Fund a terrific amount of money.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, we have now come to the meat of the picture. We are no longer debating, since I have acknowledged, that if we have the money to appropriate from the state level, this $40,000 dollars could be saved.

I want this crystal clear, that the only reason I take this microphone today on these two bills—I am in no way interested in them directly, but I do have a very sincere interest in seeing that the women and the kids and the firemen and the policemen get a decent break. I submit to you, my good friend and colleague George Goodling's remarks notwithstanding, that I have been mouse-trapped a little bit.

George Goodling's group are an honest group, but I would like to know just how all this money was mis-used and why ten percent of these funds were evidently misused by fifty companies, and why we presently have two grand jury indictments at the suggestion of the Auditor General's office? Presently we have those, and if everybody is as honest as Mr. Goodling—and I submit to you that they are not—I submit to you that the danger lies in letting the control of these funds remain at the county level where they can play footsie with each other.

I ask that those who offered these amendments be as completely fair as I have been, and let us give this bill the same fair treatment we just gave the other one. Let us consider it; let us peruse this bill, let us withdraw these amendments temporarily, put this bill in the same position as the other bill and sit down and talk about it and get a good bill for the firemen and the policemen so we have a dandy.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I feel that we are all pretty much confused right now. These amendments that have been offered to this bill and this bill itself will to my mind guarantee to the gentleman, Mr. Stimmel, that the safeguards will now be here, and there will be no necessity for the Auditor General's Department to spend a lot of money on an audit that is not called for.

I feel with the bill itself, plus the amendments that put the audit back in the local municipalities, and that safeguards the money we now have, there is no need for confusion. If we want to vote now on these amendments, I feel that the bill is in position, and the amendments will do the very thing we want done.

I therefore ask you to support the amendments.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, one of the co-sponsors of these amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman if it is his understanding that the checks delivered from the state to the local municipal subdivisions go to the local municipal subdivisions and are cashed by them?

Mr. BRETH. That I cannot answer, Mr. Speaker. I have nothing to do with it, but I will refer you to Mr. Goodling who probably knows the answer to that question.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I think you will find that the checks are made out to the local municipal subdivision and are cashed by them.

The gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling, nodded his head in the affirmative.

If that is true, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, if that is true, is it not a fact that the auditors appointed or elected by the municipal subdivisions have the duty to audit all funds that come into the possession of the municipal or local subdivision?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would say that under existing law without 245, there are many loop holes that he is trying to close; but with the specific statement in this bill that the money shall be used only for certain purposes and any balance must be returned to the Auditor General, I do not see where it is any longer a threat to the fund.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the answer to that question is yes or no? I cannot quite figure it out. My question was, does the gentleman feel that the auditors appointed by the local subdivisions have the duty to audit all funds coming into the local subdivision's hands?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I can answer that one merely by telling who our auditors are in the Borough of Clearfield. We have two bankers and a businessman, and both the bankers are auditors themselves. Those are the three auditors of the Borough of Clearfield.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I still do not believe the gentleman has answered my question. My question still is, does the gentleman feel that the auditors audit all funds coming into a municipal local subdivisions?

Mr. BRETH. I say, Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of 245 they will have to.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that they have to under the law now?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, under the law now I suppose there would be loopholes that this money could be shelved or disappear in some way. Except the statements made by Mr. Goodling as an officer, that they generally know when their money comes in and they are after it.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to prolong this any further. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think if you will check the law on the appointment of an auditor in any municipal subdivision you will come up with the answer that the auditor is required to audit all funds coming into the hands of a municipal subdivision. If that is true, and if the same fact is true as set forth here on the floor, that there has been some misuse of funds, then in proposing the amendments offered here today, putting the requirements back into the same auditor's hands, you have gotten nowhere fast. My position in this situation is the same as that if the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel, that this is state money and it should be audited at the state level.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, with the forbearance of the House I would like to conclude my end of this debate in a very great hurry.

Let us get this one thing straight, just this: this bill will put in the hands of the county auditor or the borough auditor or the township auditor the solemn duty of discharging his obligations in accordance with this law. Now, who is kidding whom? The taxpayers must either pay those men or they must pay their Auditor General. It comes out of general tax money from somewhere, and I maintain and submit to you that we can do it more efficiently here than the hundreds of local-lever auditors can do it. We can have uniformity of form, we can have a disinterested person administering the intent of this bill, so that ultimately the people that should get the benefit of this money will get what rightfully belongs to them.

I submit that Mr. Andrews has made a very intelligent suggestion to which I will listen, and I will ask that the sponsor and those in favor of this amendment withdraw this amendment so that it has a chance. If they do not, I submit to you that this House should conscientiously defeat these amendments.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, just one more word, then I am through. I think there has been a lot of talk about the misuse of certain funds. They do not say where. They do not say exactly what funds.

I talked to some of the policemen back home in McKees Rocks where the question was raised. They say it is not a question of the money that is received from the state. It is a question of the money that they go out as policemen and firemen and hold celebrations, hold this affair, that affair and raise money under the disguise of their going to use that money for pension funds. That is the money that has been misused, to my understanding; not the money that has been sent in from the Auditor General's Department.

My friends I say again that I think we have the solution with this bill, and with the amendments I think we can cure the situation.

Mr. BERTH. Mr. Speaker, would it be possible to hold up matters for about two minutes while I have a conference with the other sponsor of the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to move to postpone action.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BRETH. I move to postpone action temporarily, Mr. Speaker.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration and final passage of Senate Bill No. 531, as follows:

An Act to amend the last paragraph of subsection E of section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled "An act empowering cities of the second class of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court" by providing an effective date for tax levies on persons subjects businesses transactions or privileges within two or more political subdivisions when another such political subdivision has previously levied such tax

Section 1 The last paragraph of subsection E of section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled "An act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitation for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court" as added by the act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 898) is hereby amended to read as follows

E Limitations on Rates of Specific Taxes * * * * *

If at any time two political subdivisions shall impose any one of the above taxes on the same person subject business transaction or privilege located within both such political subdivisions during the same year or part of the same year under the authority of this act then the tax levied by a political subdivision under the authority of this act shall during the time such duplication of the tax exists except as hereinafter otherwise provided be one-half of the rate as above limited and such one-half rate shall become effective by virtue of the requirements of this act from the day such duplication becomes effective without any action on the part of the political subdivision imposing the tax under the authority of this act When a tax has been levied under the provisions of this act by one political subdivision a subsequent levy by another political subdivision made for the first time by such political subdivision on the same person subject business transaction or privilege located within both political subdivisions shall not become effective until the day following the then current fiscal year of the political subdivision first levying such tax Unless the political subdivision making such subsequent levy shall have given notice to the political subdivision making the first levy of its intention to make such levy forty-five (45) days prior to the last day fixed by law for the adoption of the budget of the political subdivision making the first levy It is the intent and purpose of this provision to limit rates of taxes referred to in this subsection so that the entire burden of one tax on a person subject business transaction or privilege shall not exceed the limitations prescribed in this subsection Provided however That any two political subdivisions which impose any one of the above taxes on the same person subject business transaction or privilege during the same year or part of the same year may agree among themselves that instead of limiting their respective rates to one-half of the maximum rate herein provided they will impose respectively different rates the total of which shall not exceed the maximum rate as above permitted

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the second day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call to the attention of the Members of the House the fact that Senate Bill 531 now being considered, is a bill which would affect the procedure under which taxes may be levied under Act 481.

This bill would stop a district from imposing a tax on the same group of subjects against which a tax has already been levied by another political subdivision until the end of the fiscal year of the first district to impose a tax, and then provides that the second district desiring to impose a tax under 481 on the same group of persons, would have to give forty-five days notice to the first district which had already imposed the tax prior to the adoption to the first district's annual budget, as I recall provisions of the bill.

This bill of course is very helpful to a district which is now taxing some group of persons or certain property, and it would prevent the upsetting of that district's budget by another district coming along with the second tax. But to me it seems more important that the needs of the second district should be recognized and given effect rather than to be too much concerned about the effect on the first district.

I would like to see the bill defeated because I do not believe we should take away from any district the right to impose the taxes which it finds necessary. Usually taxes are not imposed by any local subdivisions unless they really need the money, and if they do need it they should not be made to wait a year or a year and a half before they can levy this tax. I ask the Members to vote against this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. The bill on which we are about to vote now is a very important bill.

Up until now we have talked about the first district and the second district. It so happens that in a great many communities there are a large number of districts that would be affected.

I want to refer particularly to my own county. The city of Johnstown has a wage tax, and possibly twelve, thirteen or fourteen other districts in that community also have a wage tax. Now, to my knowledge there is only one district that does not have this tax, and before they could pass it they would have to notify every district in that community that they were going to pass such tax. If they missed one I am just wondering what would happen to the tax.

There is a great variety of these taxes, and it would place an awful burden on a certain district to go around and find out what communities have the various taxes so that they could give them a notice forty-five days before the last day for the approval of their budget.

In addition to that the forty-five day requirement makes it necessary for a council to decide whether they are going to pass the tax forty-five days before they know what their anticipated expenditures are going to be, and that of course is another burden which is very hard to place upon a council. In other words, they must decide forty-five days before they know what their expenses are going to be whether or not they are going to levy a tax for some anticipated expense. I think this is clear to you all, and it should be defeated.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Berks is an attorney, and I would like to ask him if he knows with respect to boroughs and townships particularly, how much time must elapse prior to the passing of a budget before the fiscal or calendar year, how much time prior to the actual levy of the tax must the budget be prepared and advertised?

Mr. READINGER. I do not know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. May I ask the gentleman if he knows whether there is any period of time which must elapse prior to the adoption of a budget and the actual levy of the tax?

Mr. READINGER. I would imagine a period of about three months.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, under the present Act does the gentleman from Berks understand, in event one municipal subdivision levies a tax on one particular item, and a second one levies a tax later there is any change in the tax rate of the first municipal subdivision?

Mr. READINGER. I understand that when the second district levies a tax on the same subjects, or the same property, the rate of the first one is cut in half, and I believe that if three of them do the same thing it is cut into one-thirds.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from Berks.

This bill attempts to clarify a rather peculiar situation which I hope the House got in this interrogation.

As it is now, if a particular municipal subdivision taxes a particular item under 481, they pass their tax and figure a certain return. The second district may come in later during the middle of the fiscal year of the first district, pass a tax on the same property and cut the returns of the tax in half. Now for all intents and purposes when you figure out and think it over the items which can be taxed in more than one municipal subdivision, I think you end up with the fact that it can only be a wage tax and several other small items.

As a result I feel very definitely the same as I have felt all along and that is, a wage tax on non-residents is improper. But at the same time, once it is put on by one of these municipal subdivisions, if another municipal subdivision under 481 has the idea of putting on a defensive tax then they should notify the first one, before the forty-five day period has elapsed, within the time required by law to publish notice of a particular budget. As a result it clarifies the situation throughout and places all municipal subdivisions on the same footing, and notifies the first municipal subdivision that it suddenly may be cut in half in the amount of money returned.

I believe, Mr. Speaker, that this is a good bill. It clarifies the situation which has grown up under 481, and will make it a lot easier on the budget makers of the municipal subdivisions desiring to accept and to levy a tax under 481.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in view of what Mr. Robertson has said I think I should remind the Members of the fact that under the terms of Act 481, if the Commonwealth should at any time decide to tax any of the things these municipalities are taxing, it would undoubtedly upset the budget, because their taxes would have to stop, when the Commonwealth tax became effective.

These conflicts of taxes now existing under present law are very helpful to the district which had its budget setup, that is true, but it is one of the hazards of this tax. Since the Commonwealth can step in at any time and not only relieve that district of one-half of its tax, but of the whole amount, I do not think we should worry too much about the fears being expressed by Mr. Robertson.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make just one statement, and that is that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can only tax once every two years.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, again I apologize to the House, but it seems that 481 is here all day today, and I do not quite understand my friend, Mr. Robertson. He is very much opposed to the municipalities' taxing people that do not live in them, but he is going to protect them under this bill.

I honestly say to you that no municipality has a right to set a budget on people coming into that municipality to work. In the first place, they have not any right to set that kind of a budget. We have no right to say to that municipality that they cannot enact that same tax. You have a perfect right under 481 to enact that tax yourself in your municipality, and you protect the people in your municipality.

So I just do not understand Mr. Robertson when he gets up to defend these municipalities that are setting up a budget on something that he thinks they should not tax in the first place. Therefore I say this is bad legislation too.

We should not stop any municipality from enacting these particular taxes and protecting their own people. That is what we are doing. If one borough enacts a tax that has a plant in it, and the people in the next borough come in there to work, they have a perfect right to protect their own people and enact the same tax, and the budget has not any business being set up on the strength of that particular plant when they know definitely when they are setting that budget, that it may be destroyed by the other municipalities creating such a tax.

Therefore I think it is bad legislation and we should defeat it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Readinger, Lovett and Petrosky.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL 1059

Mr. DENNISON offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 26, 1951.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1059, Printer's No. 296, entitled "An act to further amend subsection (a) and (b) of Section 411 and to amend Section 506 of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. involving a husband and wife and the assignment of registration plates in such cases," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

RESOLUTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Messrs. RIGBY and GEER offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 26, 1951.

Resolved, That the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1296, entitled "An act relating to oleomargarine, margarine, yellow oleomargarine, and other similar products; providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate on permitting the sale of yellow oleomargarine and if aproved by the electorate, providing for the sale thereof; regulating the serving or use thereof at public eating places, public institutions or other places where food is served and paid for, and regulating the advertising thereof; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Agriculture; and prescribing penalties," said bill having been in the hands of said Committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on May 16, 1951.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION TABLED

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I object at this time of the day to the offering of a discharge resolution and taking up the time of the House, particularly on a Resolution that has been offered twice before.

This Resolution was offered to discharge the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries from further consideration of oleo and similar bills, and I do not believe it is necessary at this time to discuss it. I do not believe we would learn anything about the merits of the bill, and rather than take up the time of the House, I move that this Resolution be tabled.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair declared the "ayes" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, seventy-eight Members voting in the affirmative and sixty-four in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. GRANVILLE E. JONES, EDWIN F. THOMPSON, PAUL F. JONES, TAHL, COSTA, HOGGARD, Mrs. MONROE and Mr. PETTIGREW offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 26, 1951.

On this day, thirty-one years ago in New York City a member of this House embarked upon the sea of matrimony and has with his mate, the former Anne Laurie Myrick, successfully navigated its storms and its calms, its pleasures and its pains and its joys and its sorrows.

In the course of events a son has been their blessing and while his mate has managed the home and frequently the captain, our fellow member has maintained a continuing activity and interest in veterans affairs, community and church interests and was elected to the House on four occasions by the electorate of the sixth district of Philadelphia County, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their hearty and sincere congratulations to their fellow member, Lewis M. Mintress, and his wife, on this the occasion of their thirty-first wedding anniversary with hearty wishes for many additional years of continued marital happiness.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Mintress.

Mr. MINTESS. Mr. Speaker, this is a very happy occasion for me. After 31 years of matrimony it certainly makes me proud to stand here and have something to tell my grandchildren.

I am mighty happy and very thankful for the Resolution.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I do not wish that this should sound as a petition or a remonstrance. I would rather like to use a euphonism that this is a hopeful wish.

Mr. President, next week in Philadelphia there will be the celebration of the One Hundred Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, and I understand that the State of Pennsylvania is going to participate in it as host to the thirteen Governors of the Thirteen Original Colonies as States. So far the publicity on this matter has been rather meager, and I hope that in the next few days the pace will be accelerated so that the people will know about that celebration.

Mr. President, I understand that some of my colleagues are bewildered; they do not know what is going to be in Philadelphia. They are not sufficiently informed about it. So, here is a hopeful wish that the proper authorities will do the right thing and acquaint everybody with the forthcoming celebration in Philadelphia next week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, just a moment ago I introduced a bill to lapse all cash unexpended balances for the biennium 1949-1951. This is June 27, and there is no reason why we should not know at this time just what the balances are in the various departmental appropriations that were made for the period June 1, 1949, to May 31, 1951. It is important to have this information so that we will have some idea of what the surplus was at the end of the last biennium, because it is related to some extent with the financial needs of the Commonwealth for the current biennium.

Mr. President, this resolution that I am presenting now is asking for specific information from all of the departments, boards, commissions and other agencies of the Commonwealth that received an appropriation for the period June 1, 1949, to May 31, 1951, and it also includes an item calling for a statement of the accounts receivable from these various departments, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth. I am sure if you examine the budget report prepared by the Budget Director, it does not include items representing accounts receivable which are related to the true financial condition of the Commonwealth and should be considered in connection with the preparation of the budget.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I present the following resolution and ask for its immediate adoption so that we can have this information when we get back here on July 9.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING ITEMIZED STATEMENTS OF APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES FROM DEPARTMENTS, BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 27, 1951.

Resolved, that each department, board, commission, and any and all agencies of the Commonwealth having received an appropriation for the biennium June 1, 1949 to May 31, 1951, shall prepare and deliver to the Senate Appropriations Committee on or before Monday, July 9, 1951, the following:

(1) A statement of the cash unexpended balance in the appropriation for the period herein indicated.

(2) A statement of unpaid commitments chargeable against the appropriation for the period indicated herein.

(3) An itemized statement of items representing commitments against the appropriation for the period indicated herein.

(4) An itemized statement of unpaid bills chargeable against the appropriation for the biennium herein indicated.

(5) An itemized statement of accounts receivable as of May 31, 1951, and

Be It further Resolved that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the heads of all departments, boards, commissions and any and all agencies of the Commonwealth having received an appropriation for the period June 1, 1949 to May 31, 1951.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have another resolution here. I am reliably informed that after the voters decided the election last fall and the department heads were hopeful that they would be retained in their positions, they realized that it was time to get rid of the unexpended balances in the appropriations we made for the biennium 1949-1951, and, as has been the practice here on the Hill, the department heads, of course, are very reluctant to wind up the biennium with a surplus because if they wind up with a surplus, it will mean a cut in the appropriations for the next period; so, there is a mad scramble to get rid of the money, and what do they do to get rid of a part of it? They begin to stock up with supplies, printing, equipment and all that sort of thing to last them for the succeeding biennium, and yet they have items in the current biennium to take care of those purchases.

Mr. President, this resolution here calls upon the Secretary of Property and Supplies to prepare a statement of all purchases, all printing, all equipment, all stationery, all forms of supplies and the quantities and the cost, which I understand runs into millions of dollars, and calling upon him to prepare this statement so that we could determine just what the departments did buy so that we could deduct it from the appropriation requests for the next biennium. I think if that is done, Mr. President, we can reduce the appropriations to these departments, boards and commissions for the next period by a sizable sum of money.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THAT THE SECRETARY OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES PREPARE AN ITEMIZED STATEMENT FOR SUBMISSION TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 27, 1951.

HOUSE BILLS No. 1450 AND No. 1451 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, on page 5 of the Senate Calendar there are two bills, House Bill No. 1450 and House Bill No. 1451. I am advised by the House that they are waiting for them to clear the Senate so that they can clear both desks and become operative before the recess.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like, with the permission of the Senate, to call the bills up out of order so that we can expedite the clerical work on the bills.

HOUSE BILL No. 1450 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up House Bill No. 1450 for consideration at this time.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1450, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Whereas Under the Constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth the State Treasurer may not pay out any moneys unless they be specifically appropriated by Act of the General Assembly therefore

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 That the sum of forty million dollars hereby specifically appropriated to the State Treasurer ($40,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose of paying the salaries and wages of the officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses of the State government in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and such time as moneys appropriated by the General Appropriation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifty-one may become available for such purposes and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Section 2 Payments out of the appropriation of this act shall be made by the State Treasurer upon requisitions by the several departments boards commissions or officers in the same manner as payments are ordinarily made

Section 3 All amounts paid by the State Treasurer in accordance with this act shall be charged against the appropriations made for the salaries and wages of the officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses of the State government in the General Appropriation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have no objection to the purpose of the bill or rather, both bills which the Majority Leader spoke of. I do have objection, however, to the manner in which they are drafted. House Bill No. 1450 is appropriating $40,000,000 as a stopgap appropriation to take care of the salaries and expenses of the State employees in the various departments, boards and commissions. To that part of it I do not object because they ought to be paid, but I do object to the portion of the reading of the bill on page 2, a part of line 9 and 10, where it states, "and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1951."

Mr. President, this bill is a double-barreled bill. It is taking care of current salaries and expenses, and could be used as a deficiency appropriation as well. Now, as I understand it, there are sufficient balances in the appropriations to the various departments, boards and commissions to take care of whatever expenses were incurred prior to May 31, 1951, or during the last biennium, but this opens the door to these departments, boards and commissions to charge some of the expenses incurred in the last biennium to this appropriation for the current biennium.

In addition to that, Mr. President, I do not know who drafted this bill, but I have been harping here from time to time about the Budget Bureau, and I cannot help but harp about it again today. We are appropriating $40,000,000 to take care of the salaries and expenses of the agencies of the Commonwealth, and again I say it is proper, but this bill here, since it is a stopgap and since it is for a temporary period, ought to list the departments, boards, commissions and other agencies of the Commonwealth that will get a part of this $40,000,000, and it ought to indicate the amounts that are to be allocated to them, so that the Treasury Department and the Auditor General's Department can be guided by something.

I say to you now that because of the way this bill is drafted, and the way the other bill was drafted when we appropriated $9,000,000 for the same purpose, because of the way these bills are drafted it is going to cause a lot of confusion when the general appropriation bill comes over here. When the general appropriation bill comes over here, we ought to know how much was advanced to every department, board and commission in the Commonwealth, but how would we know it? We would have to call on Auditor General Heyburn to determine how much of this $40,000,000 and how much of the $9,000,000 was allocated to these various departments, boards and commissions so that we could deduct from the general appropriation bill the amounts that were advanced to them under this bill, and the previous bill and any succeeding bills. I say it is a mistake. It is the lazy method of preparing a bill, an appropriation bill appropriating $40,000,000, and I think the Budget Bureau ought to get on the job, and I think they ought to make a determination of how much is needed by each department, board and commission for the month for which we make the appropriation and list it right in here in the appropriation bill, so that the Auditor General's Department and the Treasury Department can be guided by something.

Mr. President, when this appropriation bill is passed, the money will be expended under one symbol, and it will have to be broken down later for our information when the general appropriation bill comes over here, and I think we ought to tell the Budget Bureau that if and when there is another of this type of bill to come over here, that it ought to be broken down by departments so that we could be guided here, as well as permit the Auditor General's Department and the Treasury Department to help them in the efficient discharge of their duties.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the concern of the gentleman from Northampton. For his information, as well as the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, may I suggest this, that following a conference with the gentleman from Northampton, I contacted the Budget Director and was advised by him that the phraseology in the two bills, House Bill No. 1450 and House Bill No. 1451, was placed in there because of the need to make certain that if there were no remaining funds in any specifically appropriated item at the conclusion of the biennial period on May 31, 1951, that this appropriation would give them the opportunity to meet any commitment that might have been made.

Now, Mr. President, in the ordinary course of business there would have been a checking up to see whether or not deficiencies would be necessary, and it is obvious, Mr. President, that because of the fact that we are operating in a new biennium before we have established a budget for the new biennium, that new methods must be employed to meet the current fiscal problem.

I want to say, Mr. President, in defense of the Budget Bureau, the Budget Director, that it has been my observation over the four terms in the Senate that I have been privileged to be here, that I have never seen the Budget Director or the Budget Bureau work any harder than they have this year. I feel at times like apologizing to the Budget Director for creating so much additional curricular work on his part, and I want to assure the gentleman from Northampton that everybody in a fiscal position in the Commonwealth appreciates the fact that these stopgap appropriations will necessarily create an accounting problem that must be taken into consideration when the final appropriation bills are made, and it will be incumbent upon the Budget Director, the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, the Department of Revenue, the Appropriations Committee of both the Senate and the House, as well as the individual Members of the two legislative branches, to make certain that we do not accidentally overlap appropriations.

Mr. President, nobody is quarreling with the fact that this is not perhaps the most efficient method of appropriating money, but it is the most efficient method we can find, Mr. President, under the circumstances as a stopgap to provide money for these governmental functions during the time that we are gathering the final biennial budget. I want to assure the gentleman that we appreciate his efforts, and I know that he will be alert to assist us in seeing that we do not overlap, and if he will permit us to proceed with these bills, I am sure that sometime in the future, when we get to the final appropriation bills, we will try to prevent any overlaps.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator, Walker, that is the very thing that I am objecting to, and that is the very thing that I have been complaining about. That is the thing I am talking about. You used the term "if." You said you contacted the Budget Director, and he said "if" there are no balances in the appropriations to the departments, boards and commissions at the end of the biennium May 31, then they could draw from this to take care of those bills. What sort of a budget office is it anyway? May 31 is seven weeks past. Doesn't the Budget Office know as of today whether or not there is a balance in the appropriations to these departments, boards and commissions? Hasn't he taken the time to find that out? He had seven weeks in which to do it. All he has got to do is call the controller in each department, board and commission, and ask for a statement of the unexpended balances and the commitments against those balances, and he can get a picture of what the financial condition of that bureau is, but he has not even as much as gone to the trouble of finding out whether or not there is any money in the last biennium appropriations or not. He comes around here on July 27 and uses the word "if." It is about time he got on the job and got some records up there so that he would know where these departments, boards and commissions stand, so that we would not have to stand up here and waste our time talking about this sort of thing.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, there are a couple of items that I want to keep straight on the record. My recollection of the determination of the budget period or the biennial period was May 31, 1951. Now, according to the calendar I have in front of me, this is June 27. It is not July 27, as suggested by the gentleman in error, and, therefore, the Budget Director only has had twenty-seven days at the most.

Now, Mr. President, everybody knows full well that commitments incurred during the month of May may not be billed to a particular department until the first of June or the first of July, and under the billing system that a lot of people use, it may be impossible, in a number of instances, for various departments on Capitol Hill to determine what commitments are outstanding against various accounts. Now, the verbiage complained of by the gentleman from Northampton is routine verbiage, and that is used in appropriation bills every time a situation like this confronts us.

Mr. President, he says what kind of a Budget Office do we have. Mr. President, we have debated that on this floor so long that I do not think that we are going to progress in the constructive portion of the argument any further by rehashing that debate. May I suggest to the gentleman from Northampton, if my memory serves me right, he is on a subcommittee that has bills which some of the Members of the Senate think will correct a lot of things he is complaining about, but I have not heard a word on the floor of the Senate about what he is doing on that subcommittee.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate, but the other night when we were down here at this dinner that the Senate had in the Capitol Restaurant, I just happened to be sitting in front of the Budget Director, and we got talking about these balances in the departmental appropriations, and I wondered when we were going to get a statement of these balances. I introduced a resolution here quite some time ago, asking for the information, and he said to me, "How can I get that to you? They are still spending the money." Well, they cannot spend the money after May 31. If it was not committed before May 31, they cannot spend it, but it is simple arithmetic, at least I think it is, to determine what the cash balance is in each case. All you have got to do is take the balance in the appropriation as of the unexpended balance as of May 31, and deduct from that the commitments that were made against it, and you get the amount that is not committed and that is your cash balance. So, it is simple; there is nothing to it. All you have to do is get in touch with the controllers of the various departments, boards and commissions and find out what it is. I still say he has not done even that much.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I make just one further observation? If the gentleman from Northampton was attending that dinner that he spoke of down in the cafeteria that evening, and he came in and sat down next to the Budget Director, Mr. President, I am not an overly suspicious man, but in my opinion that was premeditated on the part of the gentleman from Northampton. If I had been the Budget Director, knowing what was going to happen during the course of that meal, I would have gotten up and moved somewhere else.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there is one thing that I forgot to get in, and I want to get it in and get it on the record. I think the Majority Leader said something about a bill that we were considering, and that I was on the subcommittee. Frankly, I am on the subcommittee. It is a bill to set up an Accountant General or Controller General in Pennsylvania, so that we do not run into these muddles every Session of the Legislature, and I have talked to the other two members of the subcommittee about this bill, and talked to some others about it, and the information that I am able to get is that the Governor is a little bit dubious as to whether or not he would sign such a bill.

Mr. President, I want to say now, and I want to ask the Governor now, whether if we pass that bill, setting up a Controller General or a Legislative Controller to guide us in the preparation of budgets in the future and for the control of expenditures, whether or not he will sign that bill, and I would like somebody that is a spokesman for the Governor to consult with him and come back here on July 9 and give us the answer, because I am going to ask somebody for the answer.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, speaking for the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, may I suggest to the gentleman from Northampton that it is my earnest and sincere opinion that the Governor of the Commonwealth will cross that bridge when he comes to it, and he will meet the problem when the bill is placed on his desk.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 296 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolutions at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOOD, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 296, Printer's No. 301, entitled "An act to further amend the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 589) entitled as amended 'An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for the examination and licensure of those who desire to engage in the occupation of barbering regulating barber shops and barber schools and apprentices and students therein regulating compensation for service rendered conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Public Instruction and providing penalties' by changing the provisions as to fees charged apprentices and students and as to the powers of municipalities removing the limitation on the payment of wages to apprentices and transferring the administration of several provisions of this act to the State Board for Barber Examiners," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 297 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WOOD, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 297, Printer's No. 135, entitled "An act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistant and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined' by creating the State Board of Barber Examinations as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of considering an amendment to a companion bill, which is Senate Bill No. 296, Printer's No. 301.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, the Democratic Minority Leader of the Senate, Senator Dent, who is reported in this morning's newspapers as "having jumped to Walker's defense," quoted the Governor as saying at Wilkes-Barre during the campaign that, "The income tax is intellectually dishonest." The Governor made no such statement at any time anywhere.

The Governor was asked, however, during Republican legislative tax conferences with Senator Walker and others at which there were no Democrats in attendance, whether the present income tax measure could be sold as a temporary measure. The Governor told the conference that course would be intellectually dishonest and in bad faith with the people. Calling it a temporary tax would amount to deception.

The Minority Leader also spoke of bloated pay rolls. Does he forget so soon that during the last Democratic State Administration, the Highway Department alone had more employees than the entire State pay roll today? Does not the Minority Leader conveniently overlook the fact that civilian employees of the Democratic Federal Government in Pennsylvania have more than doubled since the Democrats last administered this Commonwealth's government? In October, 1950, the latest figures available, there were a few short of 114,000 Federal employees in Pennsylvania. That's more than twice the number on the Pennsylvania State pay roll today.

Mr. President, I make this statement for the benefit of the record, because it is obvious that the Majority Leader is not and cannot be the Governor's spokesman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Dent I know is in the Capitol, and I have sent for him and I presume he will bring to the Senate floor the clipping from the Wilkes-Barre paper, which quotes Governor Fine as saying that the income tax is intellectually dishonest.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I have been requested by the Majority Leader in the House to advise the Members of the Senate that during the Centennial Celebration which will take place in Philadelphia next week, the House is making arrangements as part of the ceremonies to have a mock Session of the Legislature, that is, of the House in Philadelphia. I am advised that in the early colonial times there was only one branch of the General Assembly, and that was the House. In those days they did not have a Senate. I think there are probably people in Pennsylvania that fervently wish we could return to the good old days.

Nevertheless, the House has made hospitality arrangements for taking care of Members of the Senate who desire to go down there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 2, 3 and 4, and if any Member of the Senate who is desirous of attending those festivities will please contact the office of the Majority Leader of the House, hotel arrangements can be made there so that you will be well taken care of.

BILL SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 1167, entitled:

An Act to provide for the expenses of the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if he has any objections to adjourning now until July 9?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in answer to the question I could say that I have no objection to the adjournment until July 9, but I ask leave to make a few short remarks before the motion is made.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection, and the gentleman from Westmoreland may proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, last night I was privileged, through the courtesy of the Public Service Department of the Quaker Network, to give a reply or, rather, another side of the fiscal story in Pennsylvania. A few minutes ago a spokesman for the Majority side, in a prepared statement, answered some of the allegations that I made on the radio, and that was perfectly right and as it should be. I think that the people are best served if all of the sides and all of the angles of this serious stalemate are presented to the people. However, this statement as I have it here before me, and I will not bother quoting it since you all heard it, is very short and I believe that it is proper at this time to read into the record about a paragraph of the speech that I made last night in order to be able to answer the statement just made upon the floor by the Honorable T. Newell Wood, the gentleman from Luzerne, and I quote from my speech:

"Governor Fine resorted to a personal attack upon his Majority Leader in the Senate and ridiculed his position by quoting an apparent contradiction in statements made.

"We refuse to become involved in a family fight within the Governor's own party nor will we be dragged down to the level of character assassination and mud slinging. Nevertheless, every Member of the Senate has a right to resent being called a "sordid politician" simply because he has an honest difference of opinion with the Governor, who has, as yet, failed to prove his case of additional taxes. By applying the same standards used against Senator Walker, we find that the Governor is guilty of similar contradiction. In Wilkes-Barre during the campaign, Governor Fine said—"The income tax is intellectually dishonest." In Harrisburg, last night, Governor Fine said—"The least burdensome of all taxes would be the income tax."

Mr. President, the gentleman from Luzerne in his statement says that the Governor made no such statement at any time anywhere. My only authority is a clipping from the Wilkes-Barre Independent, which I have in my files in Room 400, anytime anybody wants to see it.

Mr. President, I do not say that the Governor said it. I only say that it was carried in the paper that he was credited with making this statement. If the statement was carried wrongly by the paper, or erroneously, then I think I can be forgiven for quoting the paper.

Mr. President, the next I read here is where the gentleman from Luzerne speaks of the Republican legislative tax conferences. I have nothing to say about that; what went on in their own caucuses behind closed doors I have no knowledge of, but I do have knowledge of the last part of his statement in which he says and I quote him:

"In October 1950, the latest figures available, there were a few short of 114,000 Federal employees in Pennsylvania. That's more than twice the number on the Pennsylvania State pay roll today."

Mr. President, I do not know how many Federal employees are in Pennsylvania. I am not concerned at this moment with the Federal budget or the Federal fiscal policies, other than as an interested citizen, the same as every man in this room and every man and woman in Pennsylvania. If there are 114,000 Federal employees in Pennsylvania, then there are 114,000 Federal employees in Pennsylvania. We will credit the gentleman with making a statement of fact, but that still does not in any way excuse the situation that we find in Pennsylvania, and I say to the Members of the Senate in all sincerity that the Pennsylvania pay rolls are bloated. There are too many employees on the pay rolls doing nothing. I will not, unless I am forced to, bring into the Senate records showing men, particularly men—I do not know how many women—who are on the State pay rolls, and who I doubt even know where the City of Harrisburg is situated. I will not expose the gentleman's name, but I met a person not too long ago by accident who claims that he has been on the pay roll for a year and a half, and he has never been in the City of Harrisburg. These things can happen. I am not finding fault with anybody or blaming anybody, but I am saying and in all sincerity that a careful examination of the Pennsylvania pay rolls will show that we could easily get by with at least ten per cent less employees than are now contained on the various pay rolls of this Commonwealth. If you want, it would be interesting if the Senate would ask for the number of employees that were added to the Pennsylvania pay rolls from the month of April last year until the month of November last year, and I think you will find that it runs into thousands of names. We have tried to get that information, but being in the minority we find that it is difficult to get that information. However, let that set aside. I want to enter the most serious part of this entire situation.

Mr. President, this Session is deteriorating very fast. Somewhere along the line somebody has to take hold. I know the responsibility is that of the Majority Party. I want to state today again very clearly that the Democratic Minority stands ready to offer what it can in the way of cooperation and in the way of assistance in getting together a program to enable this Legislature to adjourn sine die. None of us are infallible! all of us make mistakes, including the Budget Director, Mr. Logan. For this side of the Senate to take the positive position that our figures are absolutely right is just as wrong as the Governor taking the position that Mr. Logan's figures are absolutely right. There is an honest difference of opinion, and it ought not to be bandied around in personalities.

I did not, as the papers say, come to the defense of Senator Walker. Senator Walker's position has been made clear in public statements upon the floor of the Senate. I am happy to say he needs no defense. His statements are clear; they are upon the record. The only thing that I did last night, and I will do it again, is try to bring to the people of Pennsylvania the realization that it is a disgraceful situation when we get into the position of calling names, of tearing down character, of trying to build up a situation where personalities are at stake rather than opinions. I think that we must settle down sooner or later, and I suggest to the Majority Leadership that a coalition committee be named representing all the factions or all the different opinions, and that that committee be named today, and that we try our best over the holiday that we are about to take to work out a solution for the benefit of all of the people, or at least the majority of the people in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I want to say very frankly, I do not intend to get into a mud-slinging contest. I have been in politics a long time and I have very successfully evaded that type of campaigning, and I am going to keep from getting into that so long as I am in public office. All I said last night and I say again, every Senator ought to resent being thrown into the open category of sordid, treacherous politicians.

I honestly believe that outside of a mistake honestly made and unintentionally made every now and then in the heat of a debate, that every Member of this Senate has as much respect for me as I have for them, and every man in this Senate has as much respect for the Governor as he ought to have for us. We differ, we differ constitutionally from the Governor. The Governor has the position of being the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth. We have the position of being the Legislators, the lawmakers of this Commonwealth. If we cannot agree upon a program, there is a stalemate, but there has always been a difference of opinion. Some Governors have been strong enough, because of the might of their personalities or the pressure of their political jobs, to wipe away the opposition and the differences of opinions in the legislative halls, and in spite of whatever record we may make and whatever conditions the people may ascribe to our actions herein the Senate, the one thing that will stand out and it will stand out for many years to come, is that the Legislative Branch of Government in Harrisburg this year of our Lord has finally taken a permanent position as a rightful member of the triumvirate that controls this State. Under the Constitution we are a part of government, a one-third part of government, and this is the first time, and I say this honestly, since 1933, that my memory can serve me where the Legislative Branch has been the Legislative Branch of Government, and you can easily understand the dismay and consternation in the Administrative Branch which for so many years has ruled the Legislative Branch without any question of doubt. We are going to stay in that position, I hope. There is an honest difference of opinion. That is what I want the people to know, and the figures that have been presented are substantiated by the record, and all we ask is that those figures be given consideration rather than condemned as the figures of Amos and Andy budgeteers.

Mr. President, I know that when you get into billions, it sounds like you are just talking through thin air, but this is a billion dollar corporation and a five per cent mistake, a five per cent mistake, or, let us say, a five per cent guess, that is on the wrong side of the ledger can tax the people of Pennsylvania for the next two years with an unwarranted tax. I got these figures, Mr. President, right from the record books, and in the five bienniums that Mr. Logan has been estimating the revenue of this Commonwealth, there has been $336,000,000 taken from the pockets of the people of Pennsylvania, because his estimates were $336,000,000 less than the amount raised. Do you understand the implications of that? It means that we passed an unnecessary pop tax for four years upon the people of Pennsylvania, just as we stated on this side. We have no right to tax the people of Pennsylvania except to meet the appropriations, and as a Governor so ably said the other night on the radio, he is limited in the amount of appropriations to the amount of revenue provided by the Legislature, plus $1,000,000 of tolerance.

Now, Mr. President, what happened to these $336,000,000? Were they returned to the taxpayers? Was there a reduction in tax to take the place of it? There was not, and that is why we are fighting bitterly now, because we believe there are sufficient funds in the tax revenue measures that we have passed to give to the Governor every cent that he has asked for, one hundred fifty-nine odd million dollars, including the mandated one hundred twelve and the sixty odd millions of dollars that he has asked for as extras for needed and prescribed increases to the schools, civilian defense, and so forth. He can have all of that out of those funds, and I want to say my records, and they are open for inspection, came from the Auditor General's Office. I took the actual figures of the money that has come in in the past two years. I did not reach up into the air, and I want to say here that I honestly believe that if we will give the Governor the appropriation bills that he has asked for, and then pass a resolution prohibiting the spending of any money through deficiency spending by any department or commission of government, that they be forced to live within their budgets, that we will have sufficient moneys. I predict to this Senate that if House Bill No. 1303 is passed and these out of State corporations are made to pay their just share of taxation in Pennsylvania, and if the large railroad companies in Pennsylvania are made pay their just share for their subsidiary holdings, and if all of these things are done, there will be between thirty and fifty million dollars over and above the prescribed budget needs in Pennsylvania; as of this date, there will be between thirty and fifty million dollars available at the end of this biennium. If I am wrong in that figure, it will be the first time I have been wrong in ten years upon my guess as to what the finances of Pennsylvania would be, and in every case I have been conservative. The money that has remained is greater in amount than the amount that I said would be there.

Now, Mr. President, that is an honest difference of opinion from that held by Mr. Logan, and why is it that Mr. Logan's figures are not subject to public perusal?

Why is it that this Senate cannot call in Mr. Logan and say, "You say that we will take in $172,000,000 in the next two years of C.N.I. Senator Dent says that we will take in probably $210,000,000, or a figure of like amount. Where is the difference? Upon what estimates do you base your calculations?" He should answer, and then they will ask me and I promise you I will answer.

Mr. President, it is just as simple as all that, and if you will name a committee today, this is so important that every man upon that committee ought to be willing to stay here to meet with the proper fiscal officers, to sit down and see whether or not we cannot come to a solution, and the last alternative, Mr. President, is this. Pass the appropriation bills. The revenue bills are already in the Governor's Office. Send the appropriation bills to the Governor; let him sign the appropriation bills and if there is a deficiency, then let us come back because, as it is now going, the problem is becoming more and more a problem that is deteriorating to the position where we are losing our sense of balance, we are losing our sense of fairness, and we are losing our sense of courtesy.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, it is not my desire to prolong this discussion, and unlike my distinguished colleague from Westmoreland I probably have been wrong a good many more times in the last ten years than I have been right, but on this one particular thing I think we ought to try and straighten it out so that we all understand it.

Mr. President, in my previous remarks I said that the Governor did not make a statement to the effect that the income tax was morally dishonest or intellectually dishonest. I did state, however, and I repeat again, that I have heard the Governor not once but twice, once in the presence of a good many of my colleagues on this side of the aisle and the leaders of the House, say that to tell the people we were going to pass a temporary income tax was morally and intellectually, and any other way you want to put it, dishonest. Thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to add one suggestion to the remarks made by Senator Dent in so far as the budget and expenditures are concerned. We are going home for a week, as I understand it, and we will come back for a week, and then we may be off for two weeks because of the primary election and because there is a convention here in Harrisburg that will monopolize all of the hotel rooms. During the interim I will suggest that every department, board, commission and agency of the Commonwealth requesting appropriations be asked to and be compelled to break down their budget requests in itemized form, and that the budget requests in itemized form be incorporated in the general appropriation bill so that we approved them in just that form. If we do that, then this Accountant General that we hope to set up, or the Auditor General, can control the expenditures of these departments, boards and commissions, because it will be impossible for the departments to spend money that we appropriate for, for instance, supplies and equipment for salaries, or spend salary money for supplies and equipment, or anything else that is itemized in the appropriation bill. If we will do just that and give somebody in this Commonwealth control of expenditures by budget classification, I say to you that you will save millions of dollars every biennium, and I am passing that on as a suggestion. That is the policy, and the practice and the procedure that is followed in the other States of the United States, and it should be followed here.

Mr. President, this idea of giving the departments, boards and commissions a blank check to spend how they please, when they please and for what they please is wrong in every way, shape and form, and it ought to be discontinued, and now is the time to get on the right track and do things in the right way.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I do not propose at this time to discuss or debate his figures. I read his speech with a great deal of interest. I do not agree with a great many of his conclusions. There is a variance in my figures as compared to his, and I will be perfectly willing to sit down at any time and reconcile them with him.

Mr. President, I would like to say this, if I might be permitted to do so, in an explanatory defense of his comment on Doctor Logan's figures. I have seen figures setting up the number of dollars and the percentages that Doctor Logan may have underestimated the budgets over the past several years. I think in all fairness to Doctor Logan, Mr. President, there should be one item kept on the record, and that is that in one of the budgets which he prepared—I am combing my memory—I think it was in the 1947 budget where the method of computation of the corporate net income tax was changed and the formula was to compute it after Federal taxes. Shortly after the biennium figures were established, there was a new method of collection, and the tax was computed before Federal taxes. This tremendously increased the Commonwealth's take on corporate net income, and that was reflected, I think, to the tune of about one hundred and some million dollars.

Now, Mr. President, that should not be classified as an error as far as Doctor Logan is concerned. I think in all fairness to the Budget Director that that should be kept on the record.

Mr. President, with regard to the responsibility of the Majority Party, may I say, Mr. President, that the Majority Party fully realizes its responsibility, and they are already well under way in attempting to solve them. We appreciate the suggestions from the gentleman from Westmoreland, but there already is a group working, as he knows, attempting to work out the problem that is confronting us. It is our responsibility and we will solve it to the best of our ability, and we will have to stand before the people of Pennsylvania in answer to the solution which we present to them, and, Mr. President, beyond that, if the gentleman from Westmoreland will forgive me, I will not comment on his discussion further.

Now, Mr. President, may I say also to the gentleman from Northampton that I know of no plan either in essay or debate to take recesses for two weeks later in July. It is the fervent hope of the Majority that when we come back here on the 9th of July, we will be in a position to wind this Session up and adjourn sine die, and I assure the gentlemen on the Minority side of the aisle that no one is more anxious to go home and attend a meeting of his creditors than is the Majority Leader on this side of the aisle.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, July 9, 1951, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12:16 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, July 9, 1951, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, June 27, 1951.

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend W. Edgar Cathers, Jr., guest Chaplain, Pastor of the Olivet Methodist Church, Coatesville, guest and Pastor of the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Brown, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, in Whose hands are the issues of men and of nations, we bow in humble reverence before Thee, and with grateful hearts acknowledge Thy manifold blessings to us as a people. Grant that the hearts and minds of all who go out before us as leaders, the statesmen and judges, the men of learning, and the men of wealth, may be so filled with the love of Thy laws, and of that which is righteous and life-giving, that they may serve as a wholesome salt unto the earth, and be worthy stewards of Thy good and perfect gifts. Endow all members of this House of Representatives, we beseech Thee, with a right understanding, a pure purpose and a sound speech. Enable them to rise above all selfseeking and party zeal into the larger sentiments of public good and human brotherhood. Thus may our public life be cleansed of all that is unworthy of the children of God, and advance the day when Thy will is accomplished upon earth as it is in Heaven, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Flack, Thompson, R. L.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HEWITT asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Mines and Mining to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WARGO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. GUARNIERI asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. GUARNIERI. I take great honor in introducing this resolution, which is a privileged resolution, on behalf of my colleague, Mr. Dougherty.

The First Legislative District downtown in Philadelphia consists of two wards: the 1st Ward and the 39th Ward. I am from the 1st Ward and Mr. Dougherty, my colleague, is from the 39th Ward. The 39th Ward is what is known as the lower end of the First Legislative District.

Messrs. GUARNIERI, AMARANDO, PETA, SCANLON, Mrs. VARALLO and Mr. COSTA offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1951.

"I plight thee my troth" are words of special and enduring significance to one of our fellow members of this the 27th day of June, 1951, for it marks the thirty-fourth anniversary of their utterance.

On June 27, 1917 James J. Dougherty was joined in holy wedlock to the former Mary Stafford in the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Philadelphia, and the hopes, joys, aspirations and love of that marriage have endured without diminution to the present day. Blessed with a family of four children, Mary, James Jr., Catherine and John, the mutual devotion, the sharing of hardships and pleasures have brought them everlasting happiness; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend to their fellow member, James J. Dougherty, and to his wife, their sincere congratulations on this the occasion of their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary, with best wishes for many many more; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mrs. Dougherty by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, it is a happy coincidence that on this same day, Wednesday, June 27, 1917 the little woman, and I were joined in holy matrimony. I want to truthfully state that I have never regretted one minute of it.

I want to thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, for treating me so royally today and favoring me with this resolution.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. LOUIS LEONARD and LUTTY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1951.

Even the buoyant and vigorous member from Allegheny County—the Honorable Olaf E. Olsen—must acknowledge the periodic arrival of a birthday anniversary.

Although July 4th is held in reverence by millions of Americans, yet to Olie Olsen it carries the additional over-tone of being the day fifty-five years ago when he first glimpsed a shaft of light glinting the surface of the limped water of a Norwegian fjord.

Olaf E. Olsen is a happy man, exuding good will and friendliness among the many groups—business, fraternal, political, and civic—with whom he is associated.

His personal life is simple and wholesome. Although junior to her husband in years, yet Mrs. Olsen by the most charming of coincidences celebrates her natal anniversary jointly with him on July 4th—a day of emancipation for millions of Americans from the tyranny of England, but a day of joint celebration for the Olsens yoked harmoniously together in matrimony.

Mr. Olsen has endeared himself to everyone in the Legislature since his ready and happy smile and friendly quip are captivating to all. His contemplated trip to Norway has been postponed to July 25th in anticipation of an adjournment of the present session on or before that date. His friends report that a few convivial spirits can always induce from him a flow of interesting lore about Norway, including his hypothesis that he, Olaf E. Olsen, is in all probability a living and presumptive heir to the Norwegian throne; therefore be it Resolved, That this House of Representatives extend greetings and congratulations to one of its most affable members—the Honorable Olaf E. Olsen—on the occasion of his fifty-fifth birthday anniversary and its best wishes that many milestone of life will flash by as he continues in abundant health to expand his career of public and individual service.

Mr. OLSEN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank everybody for the very nice resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM C. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a brief statement on the position of my colleagues from Delaware County, Messrs. Bloom, Clendening, Robertson and myself, on this bill.

We are not opposed to the principle of the bill. We believe in, and have worked for the development of the Port facilities on the lower Delaware River; however, we are still of the opinion that certain provisions of the bill are discriminatory against the County that we represent, hence our offering of amendments to the bill yesterday.

Those amendments were defeated, nevertheless my colleagues and I will support the bill, as we desire to see that the Port facilities become the best on the eastern seaboard.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a Parliamentary Inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether it is a matter of constitutional law that those who voted against this bill are automatically denied the increase?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's inquiry is well taken. The Chair is also of the opinion that the increase will be well taken.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SWARTZ asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to start any controversy or to oppose or concur with the statement of the Honorable Mr. Andrews. However, in my position, coming before this House, and being one of those who fought and fought and am still fighting against the income tax, I felt that it would not be right for me to come here and vote for this measure when I had opposed that tax.

I also do not like to oppose it from the standpoint of being a Member from the central part of this state, realizing that I have a very short distance to travel. I very well can recognize that those who come from the far ends of the state deserve an increase as do others.

However, to show that I do not and am not interested personally in the increase for myself, if I should be fortunate enough to be returned here, I am perfectly willing to turn over my increase to charity.

BILLS ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

PRAYER

The Chaplain,* Rev. LEROY C. BRUMBAUGH, Pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Shamokin, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Almighty and eternal God, Lord and Father of mankind, through Whom we live and move and have our being, we come to Thee with thanksgiving and praise in our hearts for Thy manifold blessings. We thank Thee for our National heritage and recognize Thy guiding hand in our lives. We rejoice in the freedom and liberty which is ours, and pray that we may so use them to advance the common good.

Make us a grateful people, humble in spirit and desirous of doing Thy will. We pray for a growing sense of unity among the nations of the world. Develop within all mankind a love of peace and concord, and hasten the day when we shall know war no more. May the Prince of Peace reign in our lives, and brotherhood among the nations be established.

We pray for the rulers of all lands and for the people committed to their charge. Especially do we pray Thee to look with favor upon the Governor of our Commonwealth, the Members of this Senate and all others in authority. Give them wisdom and grace from on high so to direct the affairs committed to their charge, that peace and prosperity may be ours, and that righteousness and love may prevail. Give them a vision of the noble task to which Thou has called them, that they may seek to know and do Thy will. Give them the courage to do the hard right as against the easy wrong. So guide and direct them with Thy power that they may so rule that Thy Will may be done among us.

Make us a grateful people, O Lord, that we may live obediently unto Thee, King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Fill our hearts with thankfulness, and make us truly receptive to Thy ways of truth and holiness and love. Use us as Thou dost choose, and unto Thee shall be all the honor and all the glory forever, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTION RECALLING SENATE BILL

JOHN S. FINE.

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 719,
PRINTER'S No. 339 EXCEPT TO ITEMS
IN SECTION 2

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 7, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 719, Printer's No. 339, entitled: "An Act to further amend Section 1 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 579) entitled 'An act to fix the salary and mileage of the members of the General Assembly and to provide for the furnishing of such postage stationery and supplies as may be necessary for the conduct of their offices and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' by increasing the expense and clerical allowance of members of the General Assembly and making an appropriation," except as to the items in Section 2 which provide as follows:

"To the Senate the sum of forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000)

"To the House of Representatives the sum of one hundred eighty-seven thousand two hundred dollars ($187,200)"

I withhold my approval from these items.

Ordinarily, the Legislators should be the best judges of the expenses necessary to operate the legislative branch of government. However, there may arise times when the restraint or cautionary counsel of the executive may well be exercised.

There has been a general trend for increases in salaries to cope with increased costs of living. The salary of the Legislator, like others, has been materially dissipated by the inflationary spiral. I could approve without comment an attempt to reasonably increase legislative salaries. When the attempt is made to increase salaries through the medium of expense allowances, the misnomer requires the following cautionary counsel:

(1) It is my opinion that with the approval of these expense allowances, no further such increases should be approved.

(2) An early effort should be made by the Legislature to draw into line the ratio of its salaries and expenses.

(3) Approval of the present increase in expense allowances is given only because of the extremely long session of the Legislature which promises further protraction of record length.

(4) Approval of the appropriation of $232,200 in this Bill is withheld and refused. I am informed that there is sufficient money left from an appropriation already made to pay the $300 increase due July 1, 1951. I will not approve any further amount for the purposes of the Bill until the Legislature provides sufficient revenue to care for human needs, for essential services, for our public institutions, hospitals, colleges, medical schools, soldiers' bonus, school subsidies, and for salary increases for teachers, and of all State employes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, we are about to make a new record for length of sessions in the history of this Commonwealth. I understand that the longest previous session was in 1941, when the Legislature adjourned on July 15. So, it is obvious unless we adjourn this week, and it is highly improbable that we will, we will be making a new record for a session in the history of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, we all know that the primary reason for the length of this Session is the difference in opinion between the Governor and what appears to be a majority of the Members of this Senate in regard to taxes, and also on the question of whether there are any savings that can be made in the budgetary requests made by the Governor. Within the past two weeks, the Philadelphia Inquirer ran a series of articles in connection with our Milk Control Board. It appears that we Senators do not know everything. We learned that State institutions, school boards and political subdivisions of the State have been paying through the nose for milk, because our Milk Control Act prevents competitive bidding by these institutions. It was also pointed out that Federal institutions are, by a decision of the court, exempt from the provisions of our Milk Control Act, and let us note the difference.

You take an institution like the Valley Forge Hospital, which buys milk in bulk by competitive bidding at something like twelve and one-eighth cents per quart. Our institutions, like the institution or the hospital at Byberry, a State institution, pay seventeen and one-half cents in bulk for the same type of milk, and an even more odious comparison comes in when we look at our school board. The Philadelphia School Board tries to furnish milk to its pupils and to encourage the drinking of milk by selling half pints at five cents a half pint. They were forced, because of the rise in the cost of milk, to reduce the quality from A to B grade in order to maintain a price of five cents per half pint, and this is with a contribution from the Federal Government of two cents towards that half pint of milk.

Mr. President, our School Board is compelled to buy milk without competitive bidding, and it has been estimated that it costs the School Board in Philadelphia alone something like $200,000 in additional funds because they are not permitted to have this competitive bidding on milk. It has also been estimated that our State is spending over $1,000,000 per year in higher price for milk because they cannot have competitive bidding under the Milk Control Act. A million dollars may sound like small money when we are talking of a budget of a billion, two hundred fifty million dollars, but I think it is our duty to pay cognizance to spots in our departments where the taxpayers' money can be saved.

Mr. President, I therefore, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Haluska, Senator Fleming, Senator Holland and myself, read in place and present to the Chair an amendment to the Milk Control Act, which will by its provisions provide that the minimum price of milk sold to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or to any of the political subdivisions, or any hospital or educational institution shall not be fixed by the Milk Control Commission.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. SILVERT, HALUSKA, FLEMING and HOLLAND read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 777, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 802 of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 417) entitled "An act relating to milk and the products thereof; creating a Milk Control Commission; establishing its jurisdiction, powers and duties; regulating the production, transportation, manufacturing, processing, storage, distribution, delivery and sale of milk and certain products thereof; providing for the licensing of milk dealers and the payment of fees therefor, requiring milk dealers to file bonds to secure payment for milk to producers and certain milk dealers; authorizing the holding of hearings and the issuance of subpoenas by the commission; conferring jurisdiction upon courts to punish contempts and to prohibit violations of this act and of rules, regulations and orders of the commission; authorizing the commission to adopt rules, regulations and orders, and to enter into interstate and Federal compacts; requiring persons who weigh, measure, sample or test milk to procure permits or certificates, to take examinations, to pay fees therefor, to furnish certain notices, records and statements, and to use certain methods of weighing, measuring, sampling and testing; authorizing the commission to examine the business, papers and premises of milk dealers and producers, requiring the keeping of records and the filing of reports by milk dealers, and permitting with limitations, the use of information obtained thereby; authorizing the commission to fix prices for milk and certain milk products subject to the approval of the Governor, and conferring certain powers upon the Governor with respect thereto; providing for appeals to the courts from decisions of the commission, and for the burden of proof upon such appeals; prescribing penalties, fines and imprisonment for violations of this act and rules, regulations and orders of the commission; defining perjury; defining remedies; repealing legislation supplied and superseded by this act, and saving rights, duties and proceedings thereunder; and making appropriations," by providing that the minimum price of milk sold to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to any of its political subdivisions or to any hospital or educational institution shall not be fixed by the Milk Control Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, at the beginning of this Session I introduced a bill to abolish the Milk Control Commission. At that time I pointed out that it was costing the taxpayers of this State a half million dollars to hold hearings to raise the price of milk. I now find that this Milk Control Commission, instead of costing the taxpayers of this State a half million dollars, is costing them two million one hundred thousand dollars. That is what we are losing in the schools, the institutions, which are supported wholly or in part by tax money, and this is a very very conservative estimate.

Mr. President, I called up a number of parties after the stories in the paper, and I was amazed at the milk bill in the institutions in Allegheny County alone, and I think this is one other economy measure that should be brought to the attention of the Governor. I think it is about time that we quit talking taxes and hunt out the leaks in the State Government, and this is one of the biggest leaks that we have. Think of it, two million one hundred thousand dollars of the taxpayer's money used, you might say, in an illegal manner, by a way of a monopoly because of our agreement on prices that will be charged on competitive bidding to the institutions.

Mr. President, I wish to call to the attention of the Majority Party, at least those who are trying to find ways and means to bring this Session to a close, that this is one way we can go over the two million mark in savings on our budget, and after we get there I would also say, do not stop, go to the Department of Commerce, too.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. TAYLOR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 778, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Board of Trustees of the Harrisburg State Hospital, to acquire certain tracts of land for the use of the Harrisburg State Hospital, and making an appropriation therefor.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Messrs. HARE and WALKER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 779, entitled:

An Act providing for refunds of a percentage of taxes paid by dealers in liquid fuels and fuels because of evaporation; providing a procedure therefor; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue and the Board of Finance and Revenue.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

Messrs. WADE and TAYLOR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 780, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred three and three hundred eight of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by changing certain qualifications of incorporators, directors and trustees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Insurance.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it seems to have been the trend in this Session to take care of quite a number of governmental departments. We have done quite a good job in raising salaries, we have taken care of the metropolitan areas in regard to firemen and policemen, but it seems that we have forgotten to take care of the local borough policemen who have served their localities very well and who have sacrificed most of their lives in public service. The boroughs today have a problem in trying to finance their retirement funds. So, on behalf of Senator Walker, Senator Dent and myself, I present a bill which will provide that ten per cent of all moneys that are derived from parking meters should be paid into the borough policemen's retirement funds.

Mr. President, I read in place and present this bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE, WALKER and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 781, entitled:

An Act to amend clause LXV of section 1202 of the act, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs, and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," by providing for payment of part of parking meter charges to police pension funds or towards annuity contracts for policemen.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I had intended today to go into quite a lengthy discussion on public assistance. However, I do not think it will be necessary when I call to the attention of the Senate just a few facts that may interest the Members of this Senate, the members of the constituency of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, there have been those who have criticized any attempt on the part of any Member of the Senate to call some attention to the obvious facts that present themselves when you make a study of public assistance in this Commonwealth. It may be interesting to note that this Commonwealth spent three hundred and two odd millions of dollars in the past biennium for public assistance; three hundred and two odd millions of dollars being spent during a period of employment that is acknowledged and recognized as the highest period of employment and earnings in the history of this State.

Here is an item of particular interest. In reading the monthly statement sent out by the Public Assistance Bureau of State Statistics, I find this observation being made. This is for the month of May 1951. Expressed in dollars, we have spent $302,000,000 in this biennium just ended. Now, just take the logic of how they spend the relief money in determining the facts, in order that the people may misunderstand completely just what is being done over there. Listen to this type of language. It said in 1937-1939 expenditures totaled $545,000,000 as compared with $302,000,000 in the biennium just ended, and this is the sentence I want you to hear. "However, the 1949-1951 dollar was worth only $.58 in the terms of the 1937-1939 buying power of the dollar. Thus public assistance costs would have totaled only $176,000,000 during the biennium just ended if the price level had been the same as in 1937-1939." Expenditures for May 1951 totaled $10,616,000, of which the Federal Government contributed $4,126,000.

The point I want to make to the Members of this Senate is this, that out of the total of approximately $302,000,000 there has been spent in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over $31,000,000 for administrative costs alone. I say to the Members of this Senate that you cannot spend $31,000,000 for administering relief in this Commonwealth and keep a sound economy. All of us want to pay, all of us want to give, all of us want to pass the necessary legislation to give to the needy, to the poor and to the halt and the weary everything that they need for a sound and healthful living, but none of us are compelled to pass legislation to pay for the kind of information that is put out by this Department of Public Assistance and then passed on to the people of this Commonwealth as administrative costs. Every month they put out a booklet which they give out to all people on public assistance, and every Member of this Senate gets a copy of it. One of the booklets is called "Aid to Our Needy Aged," and then in this booklet they go on to give a regular "Reader's Digest" story of how they take care of the aged in Pennsylvania. I remember one story distinctly about an aged couple in the Commonwealth, whose daughters—this couple had two daughters and the two daughters were not able, it said in this booklet, to take care of them, but did they have to starve, did they have to go to the poor farm? No, the Department of Public Assistance came to their rescue. The Department of Public Assistance provided movie shows, provided all of the things that aged persons want to have. Now, we all want that. When we get to that age, we are looking for a benevolent government to have it left for us, too. However, the thing I am trying to drive home to the Members of this Senate is that you cannot ask this Senate to pass an income tax bill or any other tax bill until you delve into the problem of expenditures in this Commonwealth. You cannot spend $31,000,000 a biennium for administering relief and expect me or any other thinking Member of this Senate to add an additional burden onto the people of the Commonwealth. Thirty-one million dollars is entirely out of reason. Here, by their own admission, they say that the relief rolls during the month of May were reduced by eleven thousand seven hundred and some odd number of people, and yet the administrative cost for the month of May is two hundred and some odd thousand dollars more than it was for the month of April.

Now, if we are going to have a reduction in rolls and an increase in administrative cost, then it means only one thing. It means that you have a fixed cost over there. It means that the fixed cost is there because they have created a political hierarchy, they have created a political system in that organization in spite of the fact that they claim it is nonpolitical and based on merit rating. I think perhaps the merit rating system, or the civil service itself, is the reason you cannot reduce administrative costs, because you have planted upon that pay roll thousands upon thousands of employees who are there because of a civil service examination and cannot be dismissed, and because of this fact you have now a cancer upon the body politic that would be hard to destroy, but unless you destroy it, it will destroy the body politic itself.

I am saying to the Members of this Senate now that I am not ready now to sit down and cooperate and offer any suggestions, no matter how worthless they may be, in an effort to work out a compromise unless that Department is combed with a fine-tooth comb, and somewhere along the line we cut some of the thirty-one odd millions of dollars away from administrative costs. No person in this room can justify a thirty-one million dollar expenditure for administering relief in Pennsylvania. There must be some way out. There must be a formula.

Mr. President, I have suggested to the Senate time and time again—in 1947 and in 1949 I asked that the categorical reliefs be put back into the Department of Welfare where they rightfully belong, and that general assistance be put back in the local communities for administration, with the local community assuming the administrative costs. If we do that alone, we would save this Commonwealth at least twenty-five odd millions of dollars in moneys that are now spent for administrative costs. I say to you that something must be done. I figured out the other day that if we take the same amount of money, the same amount of money that we now pay for every man, woman and child that is on relief in this Commonwealth, not to the person that is on relief, mind you, but the cost that is assessed against every man, woman and child that is on relief in this Commonwealth, it would take $9,900,000,000 to take care of every person in the Commonwealth at the same ratio. We have a standard of approximately $1800 for every man, woman and child on relief in this Commonwealth. There is not a working man with a family of ten in this Commonwealth that earns the kind of money that we spend for every person that is on relief. Now, somewhere along the line this has got to be stopped. It must be stopped; either you stop it or it will stop us and stop us dead in our tracks. We can no longer keep on making the fit people of this Commonwealth unfit taking care of the unfit.

Now, Mr. President, if persons need relief they must have it. No person should be without shelter, no person should be without food and no person should be without the decencies of life itself, but we have got to stop this kind of a government that is now creeping into the communities and is setting up some of the greatest misunderstandings of what public relief is.

Mr. President, I can give you a case that I know of. I am told about a woman who is receiving aid for dependent children. Her husband has left her. He is living in another community in a boarding house, paying about three dollars a week for a room. She is receiving public assistance for her family of seven, and he visits regularly at home. Somewhere along the line this must be stopped, and we are the persons that have to stop it. This Session has been here now practically six months. If it takes six more months, let us do it right. I am just as anxious to go home and tend to my duties as any Member of the Senate is, but if you leave this sore alone, I guarantee that when you come back, if we spend in the next biennium, with the greatest employment we have ever had, with the greatest amount of pay roll money that has ever been expended in this Commonwealth, if we continue to spend on the basis of—$1,047,448 as was spent in the month of April in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the administration of relief alone, that sore will become cancerous. I do not know exactly what the administrative cost is, but I doubt if the administrative cost of United States Steel is $31,000,000 a biennium. What do we have that must cost that much? How much does the printing of these books cost? How much does the printing of these so-called reports by the thousands cost? If you want to get the answer to it, read the letter that every Member of the Senate received on June 8 from the Interassociation Conference. Now, let us just get into this thing for a minute.

Mr. President, they have an organization called the American Association of Group Workers, the American Association of Medical Social Workers, the American Association of Social Workers, the Philadelphia Association of Settlement and Neighborhood Centers. They are all down on 311 South Juniper Street, Philadelphia. It seems to me they are all in the same office, but anyway they have formed another association called the Interassociation Conference. In order to make their appeals and their lobbying work more effectively, they have joined forces. This is the group that criticizes the work of the Joint State Government Commission, and give reasons why the Joint State Government Commission ought to be discredited when the Joint State Government Commission found overpayments to relief recipients amounting to $16,000,000. They give you four, five, six, seven full reasons contained in a double page, single typed statement why this report ought to be discredited, and the reason, basically, behind their argument is that the Joint State Government Commission attempted to discredit relief in the public assistance in Pennsylvania by comparing it to other States, and they object strenuously to this. Pennsylvania should not be compared to other States because Pennsylvania is a State of its own, and ought to stand upon its own feet and set its own standards.

Now, Mr. President, I do not know any of these persons and they may all be wonderful citizens of the Commonwealth, but I think that we can find, if we look around, some practical business administrators that will take hold of the assistance problem as it is now constituted in Pennsylvania and make a recommendation to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that may save the people of this State untold millions, and still give to the needy persons all the need that they must have. None of us are against giving when it is needed. Do you know what the $302,000,000 was spent to do? The $302,000,000 was spent to take care of 300,000 persons in Pennsylvania, including man, woman and child. Three hundred thousand persons in this Commonwealth are having $302,000,000 expended upon them, of which $31,000,000 is for administrative cost alone.

Mr. President, I was rather happy when they named the new Secretary of Public Assistance. I thought that we were getting at last a practical politician in charge. I do not object to a practical politician being put into Public Assistance, because it has been my experience that those who are learned in politics, those who have studied the ramifications of political warfare and political success, have learned that you must appeal to the people and the only way to appeal to the people is to give them good sound government. Political success is based on good economical government, and although there are times when spending does make votes, in the end the political party that takes that attitude goes down into defeat. I thought the naming of Mrs. Evans was going to be something fresh coming into public assistance, that a breath of fresh air would be blown into that organization, and that we would come out of it with some recommendations that would be down to earth and practical and give to the people of this Commonwealth something that they could hang their hat onto. Why, I think that she has fallen into the same trap. It seems that the minute a person becomes attached to the Department of Public Assistance, they are surrounded by the social workers' creed. It has often been said that no matter how practical a man would be sent to the Court of St. James as Ambassador, he would be wearing knee breeches and belong to the Order of the Garter before six months would be over. No matter who is sent over to the Department of Public Assistance to take charge of that department, they become surrounded and enmeshed in the creed of the so-called social worker. The social workers' creed is one that is not based upon practical economy, and any person that stands for the expenditure of ten per cent of the relief moneys of this Commonwealth for administrative cost cannot have the best interest of the Commonwealth and the people themselves that are upon relief at heart. Why, they send booklets out to the poor old aged who cannot read, and then they go and buy them glasses so they can read.

The practical thing, Mr. President, is that if a relief worker or so-called visitor—that is the type here called the American Association of Group Workers. Now if that person has so many relief recipients that she or he must visit and a certain number of them, because of economic conditions, no longer are upon relief, that person gets furloughed. So, in order to make sure that she does not get a furlough, the relief visitor either digs up new cases or works like the dickens to keep the ones on she has on, and then, protected by the civil service, her job is secure. The only one in jeopardy in the whole picture is the poor taxpayer that has to foot the bill. Now, I do not believe any taxpayer will object to paying out any amount of money to keep the needy, the real needy from being pauperized. All of us are human and all of us know the story of the Good Samaritan, and we are willing to assume our public and private obligations whether there is a law or there is no law. The question of feeding the needy is one that is moral and all of us acknowledge it, I am sure of that. Those who have so little that they can hardly get along themselves will cut that little up to give to those who need it the more, but that is not the problem today. The problem is that they have made it into a highly organized administration, and the people are no longer giving charity and in the end it is charity. It cannot be anything but charity, but it is no longer that. If you read the descriptive folders that they send out and read the beautiful lithographed paper they print it on, they always confront you, Mr. President, with what they call the Legislative Intent, and I would like to read it to you. They preface all of their literature with this, and I am quoting:

“It is hereby declared to be the Legislative Intent that the purpose of this act is to promote the welfare and happiness of all of the people of the Commonwealth by providing public assistance to all of its needy and distressed; that assistance shall be administered promptly and humanely with due regard for the preservation of family life and without discrimination on account of race, religion, or political affiliations; and that assistance shall be administered in such a way and manner as to encourage self-respect, self-dependency and the desire to be a good citizen and useful to society," and it is signed with a by-line saying that this is a Public Assistance Law Legislative Intent.

Now, Mr. President, any person that believes that politics and political considerations do not enter into the administration of relief, then they are very naive or ignorant of the ways of life. The situation, if you will study the reports that come out—for instance, just to give you an illustration of what I mean, let us take the County of Philadelphia. Philadelphia County has a population of 77,117 persons who are on relief out of a total of 296,000. Now, this is the thing, this is the point that I want to make. The percentages on relief are greater in Philadelphia for the general assistance than for any other of the sixty-seven counties, and I will tell you why that is. It is because during the summer and harvest months, during the planting and harvest months, a great many itinerant workers are brought into the Philadelphia region, and instead of packing them back to the South where they come from, these itinerant workers find that they can drift into Philadelphia and in no time at all they become receivers of relief or recipients of relief under the Pennsylvania law. I had the occasion to spend two days in Philadelphia and I made a little survey of the relief situation there before I attempted to get on the floor. I talked to one visitor and I asked this visitor something about how they managed to work out their relief schedules. The one said to me, "It is very difficult in Philadelphia, because you go into one home and they have six or seven children there. Before you get to the end of the block, they have shifted the kids on you."

Now, Mr. President, when I was a kid I took a job with the Hagenbach-Wallace Circus for a dollar and a half to water an elephant. What happened to me is what is happening to Pennsylvania. I watered the whole herd for a dollar and a half, and that is what is happening to relief in Pennsylvania. We are not being particular about who the persons are, what the persons do, whether they intend to work, whether they are able bodied, and I still cannot understand the kind of thinking of Members of the Legislature who stand here and fight bitterly against increasing the unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits to injured and unemployed workers to a schedule above twenty-five dollars. Many of the Members of this Senate will remember the long and bitter fights we had to get it up to twenty-five dollars, and yet they will turn right around and give a greater amount to persons who are unemployed either because of injury or because of layoff. Now, if there is going to be a standard if I were to suggest to industry, for instance today, that they allow the Legislature to pass a bill paying the same rate, based upon the same schedules that they give for public assistance, for the payment of unemployment compensation, do you know what would happen. Industry would come in here and say to the Legislature,

"You will bankrupt industry in the Commonwealth if you try that," and that is true. You cannot do it; you cannot keep this thing up much longer. Somewhere along the line we must destroy the Department of Public Assistance as it is now constituted, and I suggest again that the remedy, and it is just a suggestion, it may be worthless in application, but I suggest that the remedy is the removal of the categorical reliefs and put them back into the Department of Welfare, a constitutional office created for that very purpose, and then take the general assistance, or the so-called itinerant assistance, and put it back into the social communities for administration, and that the name of every person receiving public assistance be posted in the public post office with the amounts received and what the relief is for, and I guarantee you and the Members of this Senate that sooner or later we shall receive the kind of an administration that the people are entitled to.

Mr. President, I am not opposed in any way, shape or form to giving to the needy all that they deserve and all that they need, but I will not cooperate in any program calling for additional taxes upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as long as we spend $31,000,000 for administration alone of public assistance in Pennsylvania. That does not include the payments to those that are needy.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to add to some of the things that Senator Dent said about public assistance. I, too, have been reading the releases issued by the Department of Public Assistance from time to time, and in my opinion I say they are more or less incomplete. They give you the good side of the story in so far as the Department of Public Assistance is concerned, but they apparently do not give you the other side, and if this is a true picture of what is happening over there, then there is something wrong in so far as administrative expenses are concerned.

Mr. President, I have the latest release. It is dated July 9, and one of the paragraphs says, "The preliminary figures show that the decline in the assistance rolls in the second half of the month amounted to approximately 4,750 persons as compared with an average decrease of around 6,200 persons during each of the past several semi-monthly periods."

I say it is incomplete in that it does not tell us how many people were added to the rolls. Now, if these statistics represent a complete reduction, taking into consideration the fact that some were added on, then it seems to me that the administrative cost ought to be reduced to some extent, and they ought to tell us how many people they dropped off the payroll, because if they have that many thousand less relief recipients on the rolls, certainly they have that much less work to do and ought to cut the pay roll accordingly. Whether they are cutting the payroll proportionately, I do not know. These releases do not tell us that story, and I suggest to the Secretary of Public Assistance that they give us the complete picture, tell us how many were taken off and tell us how many were put on and tell us how much the pay roll has been increased or decreased for the same period.

It seems to me, too, Mr. President, that if this many people have been dropped from the rolls every period, it must have been awful, awful easy to get on the rolls at one time, and the same people are running the Department of Public Assistance today that ran it in the past, with the exception of the new Secretary, and I must say that if she is responsible for dropping that many people from the rolls since she has been on the job, she is doing a good job. However, I would like to see the complete statistics. Perhaps that is why this report here indicates why there was $16,000,000 handed out to chiselers; if it was as easy to get on the rolls as it appears to be, inasmuch as they dropped so many people each period a release is issued.

Mr. President, we have been talking here about public assistance and we have criticized it. Many of us here have introduced bills to try to rectify the situation, we have introduced resolutions, and up until this time I think there has only been one bill passed that Senator Mallery introduced. One bill has passed this Senate to rectify the situation. We had better get on the ball here, we had better get on the job and start to consider some of these bills and some of these resolutions that have been introduced here in the Senate as well as over in the House, and jack this Department up a little bit so that it can function more efficiently.

Mr. President, I for one have been wondering over a period of time why some of the employables on the public assistance rolls have not been given jobs of some kind or some assistance rendered to find jobs for them, and the only evidence I find of assistance to get them jobs is a memorandum that was issued by Mr. M. F. Draemel, the Secretary of Forests and Waters. This memo is dated April 20, 1951, and this is what it says:

"It is the desire of this Department to cooperate in every way possible with the Department of Public Assistance by employing wherever practicable persons who are now receiving public assistance from the State. There is attached a list of County Offices of the Department of Public Assistance.

"Before taking on additional temporary per diem employees it is requested that each District Forester and Park Manager contact the nearest office and request information as to whether or not there is anyone on the Public Assistance rolls who would be qualified for the particular kind of work desired.

It is to be understood that this Department will not furnish transportation to any such employees."

I want you to get this Mr. President. It goes on and this is what it says:

"The names of all persons furnished by the County Offices for such employment will have to be cleared through the Republican County Committee in the same manner as is done with all other employees."

Mr. President, it has been said here time and time again that Mr. Draemel is not a politician. Well, I am not in agreement with that now when he inserts a paragraph like that in a memorandum calling upon those who could give employment to employables on the public assistance rolls to first get political sponsorship from the county organization. I say to you, Mr. President, that is a new low in politics, and something ought to be done about it. Do not misunderstand me. I am not against political sponsorship. I am the Chairman of my party in my home town, and I believe in political sponsorship, but when it comes to political sponsorship to help reduce the public assistance rolls, there I draw the line, and I believe every Member of this Senate draws the line, and I think it is absolutely a disgrace to say to a person on the public assistance rolls, "We will give you a job and take you off the rolls provided you can get sponsorship from the political party leader back home."

Mr. President, I wrote to the Governor about this, and I have had no reply to my request for an investigation to see whether or not memos similar to this had been issued by all departments of the State government, and certainly if such memos were issued they ought to be withdrawn.

Mr. President, I just want to say one more thing about public assistance. I was over in the Auditor General's Department looking at the audit report of the Department of Public Assistance, and, frankly, to my shock and surprise I find that there are 3334 people bonded in that department, representing ten per cent of the total personnel in the Department of Public Assistance. Perhaps we ought to check a little bit and see whether or not any of those under bond are responsible for handing out this sixteen million dollars, and get the Attorney General to try to collect on the bonds under which these people are held. I think we ought to make a survey of some kind to see what the bonding fees here in the State of Pennsylvania are, if the proportion of people bonded in every department is similar to that in the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I would like to have the privilege of commenting on this assistance in another way, if I may have the privilege of making some statements.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, may proceed.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I think when we get down into trouble we should try to find whatever disease causes a lot of this trouble, and I have been working along the lines of public assistance in helping my community for at least twelve years, and in doing so I tried to find why are people getting back on public assistance as fast as they get there after they are unemployed. When I picked up the newspaper, as I have picked them up in the past few weeks, and I can see column after column coming along here and saying, "Need Cash, phone today, it is waiting for you."

"Our simplified loan method is especially helpful when you want money fast."

"For Rent, $500 in cash."

Mr. President, this is one of your diseases, making money easily to be had by people that are not employed or just temporarily employed, under the method that our Small Loan Act allows. In checking up the Small Loan Act, I find that it has not been enforced to give them any rules or regulations on the subject, and they use all the high methods and powers they can to get to the people to take the money in the first place, and then they have no regard as to how they take the money away from them in the second place. By doing that, what happens? Just as soon as they are unemployed, they are back here on our relief rolls. I think our Banking Department should definitely step out here and get into this Small Loan Act, and see that it is enforced, every particular end of it, and see to it that the type and method used in these particular collections are definitely put in the American way.

Mr. President, I expect to come back a little later on after I get a little more out of the Banking Department, to see that these poor people who are led into this particular work are treated right and justly, as an American should be.

RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO MISS LUCY GLASS, "MOTHER OF THE SCHOOL EMPLOYEES' PENSION SYSTEM"

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, and considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 9, 1951.

It would be a great disservice to the memory of a noble and yet simple and unselfish person should this body not pause in its deliberations to mark her passing to the great reward of a life devoted to others.

On May twenty-third Miss Lucy Glass died at her home in Harrisburg during her eighty-seventh year after an illness that confined her to her residence for an extended period.

Associated with the public school system for a half century Miss Glass will always be remembered and honored as the "Mother of the school employes' pension system." It was through her inspiration, untiring efforts and leadership over a period of many years that the system was first initiated and she devoted many additional years of vigilance and efforts towards perfecting the system which public school employes enjoy today; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania do hereby reverently pause in their deliberations in silent tribute to the memory and accomplishments of Miss Lucy Glass whose life surely exemplified that service to others is service to self.

Out of the World War II Veterans Compensation Fund	100,000.00

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the Members of the Senate have been very considerate in connection with my request to put Senate Bill No. 563 over a number of times to give me a chance to get some information that I was seeking relative to the amounts to be allocated for the various funds appearing in this bill. However, I am sorry to report that as of this time I do not have the information that I requested, although I conferred personally with somebody in the Treasury Department as well as writing a letter. The explanation that was given to me verbally, frankly, is not satisfactory.

Mr. President, I say now as I said previously that if the reconciliation bureau was up in its work reconciling checks, we probably would be able to get the exact amounts that were needed for replacement check purposes for each of the funds appearing in the bill. I do want to repeat that two years ago a similar bill was passed, and we allocated $10,000 to take care of replacement checks for the General Fund. The record indicates that all of the $10,000 is still there. The Motor License Fund was $10,000, and there is $7,600 remaining in that fund.

The Motor License Fund was $10,000 and there is $7,813.45 in the fund. The Liquor License Fund was $2,500, and the entire $2,500 is still in the fund. Out of the Fire Insurance Tax Fund, there was $1,000 and there is a balance of $927.31. Out of the Fish Fund, there was $150, and all of it is still in the fund. Out of the Game Fund, there was $750, and there is $745 as a balance. Out of the School Employees Retirement Fund, there was $10,000 allocated, and there is a balance of $8,471.68 in the fund. Out of the Milk Control Fund, there was $500, and the entire $500 is still there. The State Stores Fund, there was $10,000, and the balance in that fund is $9,307.09. Out of the State School Fund, there was $500 allocated, and there is still $500 in the fund. In the State Farm Show Fund, there was $100, and the $100 is still there. The State Employees Retirement Fund, there was $5,000, and there is $4,738.59 in the fund. Out of the Flood Control Fund, there was $10,000 allocated, and there is $9,997.50 as a balance.

Mr. President, the thing I have been complaining about, and others have been complaining about in this Senate, is the fact that either the Budget Bureau or somebody is just pulling these figures out of the air and putting them in the bill, and I say it is about time that we got some definite information relative to the needs, the actual needs, as close as possible, with reference to these appropriations and appropriate that much and no more. This idea of just picking figures out of the air and incorporating them in these bills and passing them, and then winding up with a surplus such as I have indicated here just does not make sense to me. I am not going to ask the Members of the Senate to put this bill over any farther. I requested the information, I could not get it, so I am just going to vote against the bill and the other Members of the Senate can do as they please.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the concern of the gentleman from Northampton. As he knows, this bill passed second reading on June 7 and at his request he asked at that time, if my memory serves me correctly, that he be given a twenty-four hour over in order courtesy in order to get some figures. It has been unfortunate, and I know it is not the fault of the gentleman from Northampton, as he has stated on the floor, and I have every reason in the world to accept his word, that he has been unable to gather the figures.

I just want to call the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to the fact that all of the money appropriated for the same specific purposes that we voted in 1949, where there was any balance left over, it lapsed and went into the surplus which we were very happy to see, and that out of these funds there is a very small sum, Mr. President, that really comes out of the General Fund. If the gentleman of the Senate will refer to the items listed on page 2 of the bill, most of the funds represented there are specific funds for specific purposes. For example, the Fish Fund, and the Game Fund, and the Liquor Fund, and the Motor License Fund, and the Employees Retirement Fund, the Flood Control Fund, and the main item of $100,000 comes out to the Compensation Fund for World War Veterans of the Second World War. As the gentlemen of the Senate know, that is a fund that has no connection at all with the General Fund, and, therefore, the difference between the amounts requested and probably the amounts used in the 1949-1951 biennium may have varied.

We are trying desperately, and I know that the gentleman from Northampton is sincerely trying to keep the appropriations down as close as we can to the amounts that are actually needed, and if the gentlemen of the Senate will notice, in quite a number of instances here the amounts requested are less than were requested in 1949, because of the feeling of the departments involved that they do not need the full amount that they requested in 1949, and that is an experience rating that we are taking advantage of. These funds were prepared, and the items listed here, after a very careful conference with the various officers involved so that we could give them what they felt would actually cover this without giving them more than they actually needed. As a result, may I say to the gentleman from Northampton, if they find from a later set of figures that these items are over-appropriated, he may rest assured that we will be entirely in accord with him in asking the House to further reduce them. They have been reduced considerably from what the original estimates were, and they were reduced simply because of the experience rating we had, and, therefore, I would sincerely ask the Senate to pass this bill so that the House can go ahead and pass it and have this money available for these replacement checks if it is needed.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to say to the distinguished Majority Leader, it is not the amount that I am complaining about and objecting to. It is the guess method of arriving at the figure. It is the principle involved, not the amount involved.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I think that my colleague from Northampton has done a good job. I think he has gone far afield to try to obtain certain information, and through no fault of his own he has failed. I am going to vote for this bill on general principles. However, after reading tonight's paper, I wonder whether any of us should vote for any bill or any appropriation. The Governor of the Commonwealth expounded again. He has gone to the radio, he has gone to the press, telling the public about the meager increase that we are asking for pertaining to our expense account. He has stated definitely that he will not sign any bill or pay any further accounts until we pass certain legislation.

Mr. President, we have voted for measure after measure increasing salaries, and if you please, his own salary has been increased, his Cabinet Members, every group in the Commonwealth, and now he comes out and wants a ten per cent increase for Highway employees and all State workers. I find no fault with that, but in the same breath he tells this body that he will not sign any bill that will give us any money in so far as expenses are concerned, and in so far as I am concerned, Mr. President, I am ready to fold up, call it a day and let him have his money. We can get along without it. Let us call his bluff and let us drop the entire program in the Commonwealth, and go back home and let him hold the bag. I think he has come down to the smallest of the small, as low as any Governor ever has in the Commonwealth. Either you play with my marbles or I am going home. That is his attitude. Well, we are not going to starve. I think all of us can find a way of making a living, and the small expense accounts that he refers to in the press would neither make us nor break us, but he has shown without any doubt that he lacks leadership and he lacks sincerity.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if I can separate the discussion by the gentleman from Cambria, I am very happy to hear he is going to vote for the bill. I am convinced that the bill must be all right as far as it goes, and I am very happy to find that my vote and his will be recorded on the same side of the tally sheet.

Mr. President, with regard to his comments relative to the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, may I say to him that I often wonder what you and I would do if we were Governor of the Commonwealth. Very frequently the situation looks much different when you are in a position where decisions have to be made. As the gentleman from Cambria will recall, my distinguished colleague from Westmoreland (who is not my client) and I sponsored that bill and we sponsored it in all sincerity, because of a discussion which we had with the House Leadership from both the Republican and the Democratic side of the House aisle. The Governor, I think in all sincerity, feels that with the tense situation which now surrounds the fiscal picture of the Commonwealth, that in order to maintain the position which he has taken it is necessary for him to take the action that he did, and I want to say to the gentleman from Cambria, I feel confident that just as soon as we have completed—and I use that word advisedly—as soon as we have completed the compromise measures which we are now involved in regarding the fiscal picture, that the Governor will be very happy to extend to the General Assembly what he probably feels down in his own heart is a well merited, well earned increase in the official expenses to which we are rightfully entitled. I cannot find room in my heart to criticize him for temporarily side-tracking the Dent-Walker bill, and I know that Senator Dent will not criticize me for putting him first. That is strictly alphabetic.

Mr. President, I assure you, and I want to assure Senator Haluska, that just as soon as we have worked out the fiscal problem, the Governor will be very happy to work out with us this expense problem, and I do not want to criticize the Chief Executive for trying to get this thing worked out on a friendly basis.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If the Senator will yield for just a moment, the Chair certainly thanks the Majority Leader for those words of encouragement regarding expense accounts, and hopes that we may not have to fold up before long as Senator Haluska suggested.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I just want to also thank the gentleman from Allegheny County for the explanation. It makes me feel that I may eat tomorrow. I was thinking about going to hamburgers and hot dogs for the balance of the Session, but now since I am told that we will almost definitely receive our expense account, I will vote twice for this bill now if I can, but I still cannot justify the position the Governor has taken by going to the press.

Mr. President, I say again I cannot justify his position by having gone to the press and making an issue of such a meager item as he has. He may have his own reasons, and I feel quite confident that he will sign our bill. It does not mean much, and I think we should before we adjourn enact legislation once and for all setting up a salary for Members of the Legislature, not the meager amount of fifteen hundred dollars per year, a mere pittance. I think we ought to set up a salary where we are paid for the work we do. It is the largest business in the Commonwealth, and we receive the smallest amount of remuneration, but we will wait and see what happens, and I want to thank Mr. Walker for his advice and encouragement. I think we will vote for all the appropriation bills on the strength of his argument.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I just say to the gentleman from Cambria that I have the privilege of some inside information that I will pass on to him confidentially, and I am sure that it will not go beyond the confines of this hallowed chamber. The President pro tempore of the Senate has just today signed the pay roll for the expense checks, and the checks probably will be in your mail boxes in the morning, and bless your heart.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, that is good news.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I did not intend to get into the side bar conference, but I have discussed this bill before us with Senator Yosko and I have differed a little with him because I felt that the moneys that were left unexpended would lapse at the end of the biennium, and I am assured by the Majority Leader that that is the case. If it were otherwise, I would be inclined to vote with Senator Yosko on this measure, but if a thousand dollars has been spent out of the ten thousand dollar appropriation made the last biennium, and nine thousand dollars has lapsed, it is not too far fetched to ask for ten thousand dollars for the next biennium.

I do not think that is a problem that will make or break this General Assembly or the budget itself, but I have before me the speech just given by the Governor in Pittsburgh, and I am very much shocked to learn that the eight Republican Senators who have been heralded as the great compromisers and are supposed to be working on a program, according to the Governor's speech which was just delivered in the City of Pittsburgh, and I just checked with my good wife to find out if this is what he said and she said to the best of her memory this is what he said. It seems that the Governor takes the position that the eight Senators who are trying to work out the compromise have offered him, in his own words, a sum of approximately $62,000,000 more than what he had asked for originally back in January, according to this speech, and I would like to be corrected if I am wrong. He said that he needs $853,000,000 as recommended in the budget, and Senator Kephart's committee has recommended to him a total of $915,000,000. Now, maybe we had better fire the compromise committee and go back and make love to the Governor. It would save the Commonwealth at least $62,000,000.

Mr. President, I wonder if they understand what their job is supposed to be. I thought they were to reconcile the position of the Senate to that of the Governor in that we thought he did not need as much money as he had asked for. I think they have their instructions crossed. Maybe they are like the old colored fellow that was an orderly back in the Spanish American War for General Coulter from Greensburg, and the General thought he would have some fun with the colored orderly, and one day he took a pad and scribbled a note on it. He handed it to the orderly and said, "Take this over to Captain Laird." As the boy started out of the tent, the General said, "Just a minute. I want you to read that note and memorize it so that if you are captured by the Moros, you will know what is in the note, and you can swallow it and they will not know our secrets." The poor old colored orderly turned the note over this way, that way, upside down and every way, and finally the General looked at him and said, "What is wrong?" The colored boy said, "I can't read reading let alone read writing," and that is what I am afraid about this compromise committee. I think they are on the wrong end of the compromise. I certainly hope that the people of western Pennsylvania do not get the idea that this Senate is jammed up in a stalemate because we want more money spent. I thought it was perhaps because we wanted less money spent.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as a member of that committee, I do not want to indulge in reminiscences with the gentleman from Westmoreland, because he is much more adept than I. I suddenly discover that I am just like Mrs. Dionne several years ago. I have more on my hands than I can handle. I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland, the compromise committee is trying to adjust some differences, and it may be that in the threshold discussions the tentative suggestions may ramble pretty far afield.

Mr. President, before somebody rises to a point of order and points out that this has nothing to do with the bill we are discussing, I agree and I will yield the minute the question of order is raised, but, Mr. President, it has been tossed out here and in defense of Senator Kephart, who is a very able and very distinguished Member of this body and who is sincerely trying to adjust these differences as Chairman of the Committee, there are two distinct schools of thought represented in the committee of eight, and in order to compromise, both sides must give. Now, you cannot compromise, Mr. President, if you decide that the only way to compromise is for everybody to accept your personal opinion. I am a member of that committee, I have some very definite opinions, and I want to say very frankly to the gentleman from Westmoreland, if I may have his undivided attention, I still have those opinions. Now, I agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland. You cannot compromise unless you give. Some of the beliefs that I have I have waived for the sake of trying to find out if there is a common ground upon which we can meet and adjourn this Session sine die with the best interests of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at heart.

Mr. President, I want the gentlemen of the Senate to thoroughly understand this. On this Senate Calendar are a number of appropriation bills which are not reflected in the Governor's budget. Now, in order to meet that budget, in order to meet these contemplated appropriations, we were allowing the widest latitude possible so that as an extreme we were trying to visualize what is the extreme point of appropriations that we might be called upon to make in order to see what we are going to estimate as to revenue, and that is how that figure arrived. Now, Mr. President, when the time comes for the General Assembly to review appropriations, there is no doubt in my mind that there will be considerable paring down from the figure that is represented in the tentative statement and the tentative suggestions made by this committee of eight. We have no illusions, Mr. President, that this is the final word, and I want to say that the Presiding Officer, who is a member of this committee, knows very well that there are a number of the members of the committee of eight who are convinced in their own mind that this is not the best, because they would like to have their opinions voiced as the opinion of the committee of eight because they are convinced that that is the best opinion. They are not convinced that this is the best, but we are trying to say to the Governor of the Commonwealth, who has some ideas of his own, and to the House, who are already on record with regard to the fiscal policy of the Commonwealth, that these are some suggestions that we would like to make to you for your consideration.

Now, Mr. President, this is not the final word on any tax program that might be submitted finally to the General Assembly, and may I say in all sincerity to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I do not think anybody in Pennsylvania is in any doubt as to where some of the members of that committee of eight, where I personally, for example, stand on this fiscal problem. I do not have to defend my stand at this point, and I am not taking issue for a second with what the Governor of Pennsylvania may have said in my home town. I am only sorry that those of us who are members of the Senate from Allegheny County could not be on hand tonight in Pittsburgh to welcome him and to tentatively hold his hat while he made his speech. Whatever he said to the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, he said sincerely, and whenever I have a difference, I will discuss it with him when the time comes, and when we resolve the fiscal policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania it is going to be resolved as near as we can to the best interests of the people of Pennsylvania and we will stand back of it. It may not be what I think I would do if I were Governor, and it may not be what Senator Dent would do if he were Governor, but it is what the Republican Party is going to stand back of. Maybe, as the newspapers will suggest, it is a hodgepodge, it is a patchwork, but it is the best that is going to be produced with the least pain to the taxpayers in order to meet our governmental responsibilities.

I sincerely invite the friendly—I do not want to say the critical opposition because that is so easily misunderstood—the friendly cooperation of all the fifty Members of this Senate in working this thing out. The Republican Party will be responsible for it when it is finished, and we will accept that responsibility as a political party, but until it is presented to the people of Pennsylvania as a finished product, we do not want it so labeled as yet because, as I say very frankly to the Senator from Westmoreland, we still have a difference of opinion which we are trying to iron out. These are some suggestions that have been made, and we are not going to retreat from our suggestions, we are not going to apologize for the fact that we are compromising, we are not going to apologize for the fact that in a compromise both sides must give, because you know you cannot have a compromise unless both sides give. I have retreated considerably from some of the things I firmly believe in but I have done this honestly, because I believe we must compromise this situation, and the sooner we get it settled the sooner we are going to get out of here and go home.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in the face of the statements made by the Majority Leader, I take it then that the words that were printed in the paper over the week end were, as many statements have been in the past two or three months, very meaningless. I thought perhaps there was some movement on foot to invite some Democratic suggestions. However, since we are to be relegated to the position that we have held so long, it might be interesting for the Senate to know that from tonight on I will refuse to vote for any appropriation bills until a clear cut fiscal policy is presented. Speaking for myself, and not asking the nineteen Senators to jeopardize their own setups back home, I will refuse to so vote, and I place my position right squarely upon the record that if there are appropriation bills being presented to this Senate not contained within the budget, I do not want the Governor of the Commonwealth to go on the air, as he has tonight, and say that the Legislature is passing on to him many million dollars of added appropriations, while lacking the moral courage to pass the legislation to create the necessary revenues to pay for these obligations.

I have no obligation, Mr. President, except to the people of Pennsylvania. To those people of Pennsylvania I have said in January, and I say again in July and will say again in December, if necessary, that no new taxes are needed to meet the budget asked for by the Governor. If the Legislature attempts to pass fifty or sixty million dollars more than contained within the budget, then that is the Legislature's responsibility. However, I will not assume the responsibility for these added increases. The small picayune increases are well contained within the revenues already passed, and we are in very sound position in passing at least ten to sixteen million dollars more than the budget has asked for, because the revenues have been passed for that amount of money.

Mr. President, I take that position after a profound study of the revenues of this Commonwealth. I do not intend, however, to vote for added increases in the various branches of State Government unless they are contained within the budget of the Governor, because I stand firmly upon the position that the Governor's budget can be taken care of, the revenues are provided for and upon that stand I will end this discussion.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I just want to say two things to the gentleman from Westmoreland. First, the bill that is now before us which calls for an appropriation would not have been necessary had we adjourned prior to the termination of the fiscal period which ended May 31. Now, it is my understanding, Mr. President, that the figures set forth here are reflected in the budget so that the general policy laid down by the Minority Floor Leader can be maintained and he can still maintain his principle as he announced awhile ago in voting for this bill.

Secondly, Mr. President, I am just as reluctant as he in adding to the budgetary figures. As I said awhile ago, Mr. President, Senator Dent and I sponsored a bill which created an expenditure over and above what was already in the budget. That bill passed the Senate and passed the House, and was presented to the Governor for signature. He signed the bill. He drew back on the appropriation for the reasons set forth in his veto message, and that, of course, has been presented to the General Assembly and all the gentlemen of the Senate are familiar with it.

I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, as soon as there is a program that has crystallized to the extent that it can be, with some degree of clarity, presented to the Minority side of this Senate, that we will unhesitatingly say to the Minority Floor Leader, "Will you sit down with us? We would like to show you what conclusions we have arrived at." At this point we are merely at the threshold of the discussionary stage, and there is no sense in dragging them in to further confuse an already confused situation, and if the gentleman from Westmoreland in exercising his customary and state-wide recognized tact, and diplomacy and patience will bear with us, we will work this out with his cooperation.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I realize that we have gone quite far afield on the discussion of this measure before us and latitude has been extended to us, but I just want to say briefly that it appears to me that all the compromising has taken place on the other side of the house. The gentleman from Westmoreland County the week before last rose in place and told this Senate that we were ready to sit down with the Republicans and try to work out a compromise program. We feel that we have the responsibility just as much as the opposition has. It is our problem as well as yours. We are still willing to sit down and compromise with you, but if you compromise amongst yourselves and then come to us and say, "This is our program. Will you go along with it," I think it is very unfair. If you are going to do that, Mr. President, we twenty Democrats may as well go home and at least the people back home will know that we are not creating the stalemate, but up until the present time we are being accused, as well as the eight Republican Senators who are being accused. We have no hand, we have no word, in so far as the program is concerned.

I say again, Mr. President, we are willing, the twenty Democratic Senators, or any portion of us, to sit down at the table with the Republican leaders, assume our responsibility in this program, but up until the present time we have not been afforded that opportunity. We want to be helpful, we want to go home and if you cannot do it yourselves, invite us in. We will try to help you. I think it is possible that we can arrive at a sane program.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion, but if we are to get anywhere on this budget, since everybody seems to be in doubt as to the budget needs and the revenue needs that are incorporated in the budget report, perhaps we ought to insist that the Budget Director give us a supplemental budget report. As I said to him in a letter I wrote to him, I realize that he could not give us actual figures when the budget report was prepared, because it was prepared prior to the end of the biennium, but here it is July 9. The biennium ended May 31, and he certainly ought to be able to determine at this date what the balances in the various appropriations might be. He ought to be able to determine the exact amounts collected from taxes imposed for the last biennium, he ought to, which he has never done before, give us a statement of accounts receivable in the Commonwealth, and in that way present as best he can some sort of a true picture of the financial condition of the Commonwealth. I think if we had such a report from him it would be a starting point at this stage, and would give us some idea of the needs as well as the revenues that will be forthcoming for the next two years.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the benefit of those who might not have been here earlier in the evening, the Chair would bring you up to date by reminding you that we are now on page 4 of the Calendar. All this discussion supposedly was in relation to Senate Bill No. 563, Printer's No. 349, which has passed third reading. The bill is now before the Senate for final passage.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to be recorded as voting "no" because this is another one of the bills which in a few years will add the kind of cost to local county government that we are now complaining about in state government.

HOUSE BILL No. 98 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may we return to page 2 of today's Calendar, Bills on Third Reading. House Bill No. 98, which passed third reading and went over in its order temporarily on final passage, I call this bill up for consideration at this time.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act regulating the appointment promotion suspension reduction removal and reinstatement of employes (except superintendents assistant superintendents inspectors and chief clerks) in bureaus of police in cities of the second class and defining the powers and duties of civil service commissions in such cities for such purposes

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, if you remember just a few days ago I offered amendments to this bill, thinking we were going to have this type of legislation, which should be had, in every city of Pennsylvania and not just in second class cities. Of course, I still would have voted against the bill had the amendments passed because I do not think that the Members of the Senate, if they had the time to peruse this bill, would vote for this bill.

First of all, let me say this. If this bill is passed it will be the end of any discipline in the police force of any large city. Secondly, Mr. President, I have never been a civil service devotee, and I never thought we would come to the place in Harrisburg where a bill would be passed where on a civil service list you had no choice at all. Under this bill when the examination is given, the list would be posted and you must hire the persons in numerical order, one, two, three, four, no matter what type of person or character they may be.

Further, Mr. President, it would not allow any city at any time to hire any special detective to do any special kind of work, and by that I mean sometimes there are some F.B.I. fellows you want to put on to do a certain job, and under this bill that could not be done because they would have to have been on the force for four years before they could be hired as a detective. At present, there is civil service for detectives in the City of Pittsburgh.

One other point I want to make, the proceedings before a police trial board are extinct under this bill because any case that is known to the court would have to go de novo. Not to take any more of your time, I just want to add one more point, that the State F.O.P. are not sponsoring this bill. They have spoken to me, and it has not been approved by their convention and they are not in favor of this bill. I would ask my friends to vote this bill down.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would disagree with my colleague from Allegheny County that this is a bad bill. In my opinion it is a step forward in police work in the City of Pittsburgh. The bill primarily brings under civil service the detectives who now are not under civil service, with a few other changes in procedure. I agree with the Senator that it does provide that from the civil service rolls the man ranking first on the list shall be appointed and takes away from the appointing powers the right to choose from the top three, but I would like to, for the benefit of the Senate, read verbatim the recommendation of Safety Director Fairley about this particular legislation, recommending this or similar legislation for the City of Pittsburgh.

"This system"—I am quoting from Director Fairley—"This system would result in the selection of men of thorough training in the ranks of the police. Their experience would enable them to carry on their work as detectives in an efficient manner. It is quite possible a man could be appointed under the present system, who would develop into a good detective, but I feel a man with years of police training on the beat, in the radio car and in the special service, would have an advantage over a man without training. Promotions would be an incentive for men in the ranks to do their best work. Based on superior police work, men could earn credits that would make them eligible for appointment. This plan already has been in effect in New York City, Baltimore and a number of other cities and it has been proven successful. The adoption of such a system would not mean a wholesale discharge of the present detective force. Promotions could be made only as members retire, left the service, or died."

I would like to further, Mr. President, disagree with my colleague from Allegheny when he says it would in any way offset the cooperation of the City of Pittsburgh Police Department with the F.B.I. I feel confident that the F.B.I., the State Police Force or any police force operating would cooperate with the police department of the City of Pittsburgh in the suppression of crime. I might draw to the gentleman's attention that our police department at the present time is under quite a bit of criticism locally, but I think we are going a little far afield when we say that the passage of this bill, which would primarily place the police in the City of Pittsburgh under a better civil service program, would in any way affect the cooperation of our police department with other police organizations.

In conclusion, Mr. President, I would urge the Members of the Senate to vote for and support this bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Do you realize that since you read that report, that many months ago all the detectives in the City of Pittsburgh are now under civil service?

Mr. FLEMING. I do, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. Fleming, I would like to ask you if you would like to have this same type of civil service in the entire State where there is no choice, where the list must be taken down in numerical order no matter whether you are a veteran. Nothing matters; it is just as you finish on the list. Is that the type of civil service that you favor?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know if it would be a good thing for the entire State or not. I do think, however, it is a plan that is well worth trying in the City of Pittsburgh.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I yield to my colleague, Senator Neff.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. NEFF. Senator Fleming, I am wondering how you voted on the amendments offered by Senator Barr that would have included the whole State in this measure. Did you vote in the negative or affirmative?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I voted in the negative. It would have destroyed the entire effect of this bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, on what premise would it have destroyed the entire effect of the bill? If it is a good thing for Pittsburgh, would it not be a good thing for Philadelphia, or the City of New Castle or any other political subdivision in the State, or is it only Pittsburgh that needs restrictive measures in a matter of police work?

Mr. FLEMING. I would answer that, Mr. President, by stating to the gentleman that this bill was given careful study and was drawn up to provide only for the City of Pittsburgh. I would further state to the gentleman that if he draws up a similar bill for the entire State, I will vote for it. I will support it.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, it seems to me that we are back in the old stand once again, where a certain group of partisian politicians are aiming their barbs at a Democratic stronghold, the City of Pittsburgh. They have been expending state moneys by the hundreds of thousands of dollars for the last two years, or the last year and a few months. They have found nothing. They seem to have a persecution complex in regard to the City of Pittsburgh. Here a man says that this bill is a good bill; he recites the merits of the bill as to why it should be enacted, and when amendments are offered to give this type of good legislation, as he would put it, to the whole State he votes against the amendments. He wants the amendments for the legislation to apply only to the City of Pittsburgh. It just does not make good sense.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wonder if it would still be possible to ask that we refrain from voting on final passage on this bill at this moment, and ask that it go over until tomorrow. There have been some serious questions raised here. We are setting up a precedent in civil service.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Do you think it would be possible for the Senate to refrain from casting a final vote tonight upon this bill in order that we may get together on certain serious features of the bill for tomorrow's meeting?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, after the side bar conference, I am very reluctant to withdraw our insistence on a roll call at this time, but out of deference and courtesy to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I would yield my point and let the bill appear on the Final Passage Calendar for tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. President.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 98, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE BILL NO. 48 CALLED UP FROM POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar House Bill No. 48 for consideration at this time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator if this matter was taken up with the Caucus?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Wood, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Was House Bill No. 48 discussed in the Caucus today?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I asked the Caucus Chairman about House Bill No. 48 today.

Mr. CHAPMAN. I object, Mr. President. I also have a number of amendments from over sixteen thousand physicians and surgeons of Pennsylvania, and I think this ought to be referred back to the Committee so they can iron my amendments out also with the amendments of some five hundred chiropractors.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, Doctor Chapman has attempted in the past two or three weeks that this bill has been before the Senate to completely emasculate this bill so that it would be of no value to the chiropractors or the medical profession as near as I can figure it out, and I have asked that the bill be called from the Postponed Calendar, and I wish to offer amendments, and I will then ask my colleagues in the Senate to vote for these amendments and approve the bill on Second Reading as amended.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 48, entitled:

An Act relating to and defining chiropractic and the right to practice chiropractic requiring licensure conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners providing for the granting suspension and revocation of licenses issued by the board conferring jurisdiction upon the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and prescribing penalties.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOOD offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, lines 7 and 8 by striking out the words "a philosophy science and art of things natural with the human body"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 9, by striking out the word "procedure" and inserting in lieu thereof the following "examination"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 11, by striking out the words "and tissues of the human body"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "analysis" the following "as taught in the approved schools and colleges of chiropractic"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 13 by inserting after the word "surgery" the following "The term "Chiropractic shall not include the practice of obstetrics or reduction of fractures or major dislocations."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there any objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest in all seriousness to the gentlemen of the Senate, I gather from Senator Wood's motion that his amendments were just approved by the Senate and that the bill would go over on Second Reading as amended. Now, I am assuming that the amendments just offered by the very distinguished dean of the Senate will not be comparable to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Luzerne and the amendments which have already been adopted, and, therefore, the bill will again become a printer's hodgepodge.

May I sincerely suggest to the gentleman from Warren that he withhold his amendments at this time until we see what the bill looks like tomorrow with Senator Wood's amendments, inserted, and then we can approach the amendments to the new printing in the bill. Otherwise it will be impossible to doubly amend the bill at this time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I move that my amendments be adopted immediately.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest in the line of trying to keep the bill readable that the Senate take the amendments one set at a time. There is a distinct difference of opinion as to whether or not this bill be voted on, it is not a party matter, and I think that the amendments should be approached in a constructive vein. Therefore, I ask the gentlemen of the Senate to vote down the second set of amendments until we see what the first set looks like in print.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, May I inquire of Senator Walker whether or not I will have an opportunity to present these amendments tomorrow?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Doctor Chapman.

Mr. CHAPMAN. I withdraw my offer of amendments at this time.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 48, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears nine.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, July 10, 1951, at 12:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 9:34 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, July 10, 1951, at 12:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, July 9, 1951.

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God, in Whom we live and move and have our being, open our eyes that we may behold Thy Fatherly Presence ever about us. Draw our hearts to Thee with the power of Thy love. Teach us to be anxious for nothing, and when we have done what Thou hast given us to do, help us, O God, to leave the issue to Thy wisdom. Take from us all doubt and mistrust. Lift our thoughts up to Thee and make us to know that all things are possible to us through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.
